1000 KILLED IN AIR RAID

HONG KONG, Oct. 14.—(UP)—Japanese troops and airplanes smashed through Chinese defenses in South China today, bombarded the city of Waichow until it burst into flames and moved toward a major battle with the defenders of Canton.

Casualties were reported high—probably 100 in Waichow alone—as the invaders threw more and more military power into the offensive against China's richest commercial area, where great British and American interests are concentrated.

Blast Railroads
Japanese planes rained bombs on a widening area in an effort to halt rail traffic and demoralize the civil population, including 400,000 Cantonese ordered to evacuate the provinces.

An official Japanese communiqué said the offensive in South China had taken the Chinese by surprise in the same way America's George Washington surprised the British Hessian troops when he crossed the Delaware. The Chinese, they said, were suffering from hangovers when attacked.

Drive Westward
The Japanese, after occupying Tamsui, drove westward through Chinese defenses which the Japanese said, had been caught napping. The entire offensive, the communiqué said, was timed to coincide with a sumptuous banquet for the new Chinese commander of the Bias Bay area. The Chinese officers ate and drank well at the banquet, according to the Japanese, and were in no condition to direct effective resistance when the invasion began.

Japanese planes wiped out many Chinese troops concentrations in the advance toward Waichow, according to the Japanese advice, and 37 Chinese tanks were destroyed at Waichow. Sixty other tanks were destroyed or damaged northwest of Hachang as the invaders moved on Waichow.

Tropical Storm Threatens South

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 14.—(UP)—A tropical storm approached the west coast of Florida today, bringing increasing winds, rain squalls and falling barometers to southern sections of the state.

The storm, which carried winds up to 48 miles an hour, was located by the federal hurricane warning system 200 miles west-southwest of Ft. Myers. The disturbance was moving eastward about 14 miles an hour.

Tampa was on the northern side of the approaching storm which carried the strongest winds and squalls, the warning system reported.

Farm Group Raps Single Tax

RIVERSIDE, Cal., Oct. 14.—(UP)—The Irrigation Districts Association of California was on record today as opposed to the single tax measure, and in favor of the labor regulation proposal and Garrison act on the November ballot.

Resolution urging all members to vote thusly were passed at the association's convention. Sacramento was chosen 1939 convention city. Today delegates visited Calajo reservoir and heard officials explain the Metropolitan water district project.

PREDICT FDR WILL TAKE HAND IN SETTLING AFL-CIO BATTLE

HOUSTON, Tex., Oct. 14.—(UP)—High officials of the American Federation of Labor today believed that President Roosevelt would make an early move to mediate the bitter three year civil war between the A.F.L. and the Committee for Industrial Organization.

Their prediction was made as delegates streamed homeward after a stormy 11-day convention.

Foremost among prophets of peace gestures was Dan Tracy, boss of the Electrical Workers and not only a power in federation councils but a close friend of the President. He approached Mr. Roosevelt indirectly last March and asked him to mediate the struggle. The President refused, Tracy said, because he did not wish to disrupt peace talks then in progress.

Need Outside Help
These conversations collapsed, as did others instituted by the federation, and Tracy is confident now that it is virtually impossible to bring the two forces to agreement without outside help.

"I believe something, along that line will happen soon," Tracy told the United Press. He declined to elaborate and refused to say if he

Hurl Stones At Convents

VIENNA, Oct. 14.—(UP)—Several churches and convents in different parts of Vienna were stoned during the night by unknown persons. It was reported today. Damage was reported slight because of protective guards posted outside all church buildings.

Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels, German minister of propaganda, arrived today. It was rumored, but not confirmed, that he came to carry out instructions from Adolf Hitler to make a thorough check of public opinion in the tense church question.

Plan Reprisals
Expulsions from Vienna of all Jews of Czechoslovak nationality was forecast in some quarters as the Nazis began a campaign of reprisal against the Roman Catholic church as the result of recent disorders.

"CORRUPTION JURY" QUIZZES L. A. SOLON

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 14.—(UP)—Sacramento county's newest grand jury hearing on asserted legislative corruption in the state legislature stood recessed for an indefinite period today after a one day show at which former Los Angeles county assemblyman was the star performer.

The former assemblyman, dapper little Charles A. Hunt, who was defeated for office this year because "I was too confident," became involved in the hearings on the testimony of his former wife, Anna Hunt, with whom he lived from 1923 to 1936.

$8000 Income
She told the jury investigators and later the jury itself that Hunt had an income of $8000 in 1935 although his combined $100 a month salary as assemblyman and part-time work as a railroad fireman aggregated less than $1300 a year.

The jury, before it recessed subject to call when a number of new and as yet unidentified witnesses are available, heard Hunt deny that he ever made anywhere near as much as $8000 a year.

"Lucky Gambler"
Hunt said he could not estimate his total income over a period of years other than to place $2000 as the absolute top.

"You see," he told Special Prosecutor George Naus, of San Francisco.

"Jitterbug" Wrecks Cafe

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—(UP)—A self-styled "jitterbug" went into his dance with far too literal interpretations, Costos Mulonas, restaurant proprietor complained to police today.

The "bug" Aubrey F. Withee, 30, walked into Mulonas' eating house in Brooklyn and began a demonstration of "let's throw it" and "in the groove."

He overturned tables and threw a few chairs and then grooved a sugar bowl through a plate glass window. When the "swing" session ended the restaurant was a wreck.

"Who! Who! Call me a taxi," Aubrey said.

Mulonas called the police, who took Withee and another patron to the hospital for treatment for cuts. Then they took Withee to jail.

Union Fishermen Go On Strike

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14.—(UP)—The C.I.O. fish reduction workers union 155 today went on strike at the Northern Packing Corporation fish cannery.

The union said the strike involved 100 workers and that the United Fishermen's union, also a C.I.O. affiliate, would not deliver any fish to the plant until the strike was settled.

The union said it went on strike because of refusal of employers to negotiate with it, and that its main demands were union recognition, preferential hiring, seniority and wage increases.

Pickets were placed around the cannery at pier 92 on the waterfront.

BODY OF WOMAN IS LOCATED AT BEACH

A hole in the head of a dead woman washed upon the beach at Los Patos camp, Sunset Beach, at 6:40 a. m. today, led sheriff's officers on an investigation to determine whether she is the victim of foul play, an accidental drowning, or a victim of suicide. She has not been identified.

Deputy Sheriff Tom Murphy and Walt Dungan recovered the body from the surf this morning after William Lee of Los Patos camp saw it floating in the water near shore and asked a Mexican acquaintance to get the body. The Mexican tied a rope about the body to keep it from washing out to sea pending arrival of the officers.

Continue Inquiry

Today Chief Criminal Deputy Merle Dean and Deputy Murphy continued the investigation to determine the cause of death and establish identity. Coroner Earl Abbey was called to investigate and an autopsy was ordered performed by Surgeon John Montanus. The body is at the Dixon funeral chapel, Huntington Beach.

The woman, between 45 and 55 years old, when found had on white stripes. She weighs 160 pounds, is five feet, two inches tall, has blue eyes, freckles, grey hair dyed red. She has a superficial wound on the left eye-lid, peculiar hole in the inner corner of the left eye and noticeable bump on the front part of her skull. Rocks in the ocean may have caused the injuries, the officers said. The body had been in the water eight to 12 hours, officials estimated.

Plan Rites For Farm Leader

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Oct. 14.—(UP)—Funeral services will be held Sunday in Paso Robles for Maurice B. Ayars, 73, president of the California Almond Growers' Exchange, who died here last night of a heart attack.

Ayars was president of the Ayars Machine Company in Salem, N. J., before coming to California in 1916. He engaged in ranching at Paso Robles and was president of the Almond exchange the last two and one-half years.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Georgia W. Ayars, and two children, William F. Ayars, Salem, N. J., and Mrs. Marian A. Davis, Fontana, Cal. Burial will be made in Santa Barbara.

YOUNGSTERS LOCATE BURIED TREASURE ON DOWNEY RANCH

Buried treasure, in the form of silver coins and greenbacks was discovered on the orange grove of Lee A. Williams at Downey several weeks ago, the secret being revealed for the first time today, when members of a spraying crew employed by A. L. Stone of La Habra, told of the find.

Williams, the husband of the former Valeria Herman, of La Habra, first found a 25 cent piece in his grove, purchased two years ago, but thought nothing of the find. A short time later two small boys, their pockets bulging with silver coins, told the spraying crew that they had found a glass jar filled with coins.

Find More
The sprayers notified Williams and a systematic search for the money started. First one and then another of the group would find a glass jar or a lead tin filled with money. One report was that $870 in all was found, while another rumor was that the find totaled over $3500. Some of the paper money had nearly fallen to pieces.

When Williams purchased the property there were whispers in the Downey region that money had been buried on the land, but until the money was discovered few believed the stories.

British "Spoof" Picture Magnate

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 14.—(UP)—News from Glasgow, Scotland, today caused officials at Samuel Goldwyn's studio to believe students at Glasgow University were "spoofing" Goldwyn, the glove-maker who became Hollywood's most spectacular movie producer, when they nominated him as lord rector of the university.

Dispatches from Scotland said Goldwyn and former Ethiopian Emperor Haile Selassie were included this year in the list of so-called jocular nominations.

Goldwyn was in Chicago today, en route home after a business trip to New York. A studio spokesman learning the news that the boss had been "ripped," said Goldwyn's London agent "ought to get fired for letting the old man get taken in like that."

WPA Workers To Organize In S. A.

For the purpose of trying to obtain better wages and working conditions, they said, WPA workers of Orange county will meet tonight at 8 o'clock in Bungalow D of the Santa Ana junior college. All WPA workers are invited to attend.

The meeting, for the purpose of organizing all Orange county workers into a unit, is the first one ever called in this county, workers said, although WPA workers in most California counties already are organized. A grievance committee selection will be one of the first committees to be organized and its purpose will be to take any complaints which may arise before WPA executives for consideration. WPA workers stated Congressman Harry Sheppard has urged such organization.

Driver Held In Fatal Crash
PHOENIX, Ariz., Oct. 14.—(UP)—Charged with manslaughter in connection with an automobile accident, S. J. Clausen, Jr., 51-year-old Santa Monica, Calif., mining engineer, today was held for trial here and named defendant in a $75,000 damage suit resulting from the accident.

Clausen offered no evidence at his preliminary hearing and was held to answer to the superior court.

The manslaughter complaint accuses him of driving recklessly and negligently last Sept. 20 when he crashed into the automobile driven by Leonard C. Fisher, 55, Phoenix grocer. Fisher was thrown from his car and injured fatally.

COUNTY GETS FIRST RAIN OF '38 SEASON

First county-wide rain in 167 days fell early this morning as reports in various points of the county ranged from just a trace to .09 of an inch at Anaheim.

Agricultural leaders were "on the fence" regarding the value of the rain to county crops. Cover crops in both fields and orchards were helped by the shower and citrus trees received a beneficial "bath" but those ranchers who are at present picking the crop find the mud brought by the rain a deterrent.

While most of the lima bean crop of the county has been harvested, threshers in the south portion of the county were of the opinion that "it would have suited them if the rain had held off a few days." Vegetable growers, especially those interested in tomatoes, were looking askance at the skies as the prediction of more rain tonight and tomorrow threatens to injure tomato vines. The rainfall today so far has not been injurious but a continued rain for a few days will harm the tomatoes.

So slight was the shower that no estimate of its value in dollars and cents could be computed. Only .02 of an inch fell in Santa Ana last night but the city received .04 of an inch between 7:30 a. m. and noon for a total of .06 of an inch. Last recorded rain in Santa Ana was on April 30.

Phoenix City Manager Ousted

PHOENIX, Ariz., Oct. 14.—(UP)—The Phoenix city commission by a majority vote today removed City Manager Houston L. Walsh from his position and appointed William G. Elder, city clerk, acting manager.

The ouster, first major political upheaval in more than two years, was reported underway while the city manager and Mayor Walter Phalheimer were attending the Boston, Mass., convention of the International City Managers association.

Walsh made no comment on his removal and Elder asked for "time to think it over" before accepting the appointment but later announced he would take it temporarily.

Inspect Votes In Arizona Primary
PHOENIX, Ariz., Oct. 14.—(UP)—An inspection of votes cast in the Arizona Democratic gubernatorial primary was ordered today by Superior Judge E. G. Frazier after James H. Kerby, secretary of state, filed an action charging "fraud and bribery" in conduct of the balloting.

Kerby contested the nomination of E. T. Jones, state senator, who apparently won over the secretary of state by 2,676 votes.

Judge Frazier ordered Jones to appear before him tomorrow to show cause why three inspectors should not be selected to conduct the inspection of voting.

Kerby listed 29 allegations for challenging the nomination, claiming that illegal votes were cast in each of the state's 433 precincts.

Lagunans In Juror Quiz

Indications that the grand jury investigation of the political pamphlet, "Fools Rush In" had turned toward Laguna Beach, home of County Supervisor N. E. West, one of the principal targets of the pamphlet, were seen today when it was learned that three Laguna Beach citizens have been subpoenaed before the grand jury.

District attorney operatives today served subpoenas on James Gillespie, operator of the Trap Door cafe, a Mr. McAtee, and Ramona Harris, proprietor of the Studio cafe, all of Laguna Beach. The Studio cafe recently figured in a hearing before the state board of equalization, which revoked its liquor license.

First To See It
Today, the grand jury heard testimony of the first Orange county man to see a copy of the notorious pamphlet, and to refuse permission for its distribution.

Sergeant Arthur Bowen, of the Anaheim police department, was the man. The pamphlet was presented to him when County police department, and he refused permit for its distribution there, before it was presented in Fullerton.

REGISTRATION MARK BROKEN IN COUNTY

Republican voters of Orange county have reduced the lead in Democratic organization somewhat since the primary election, it was shown today when County Clerk Basil J. Smith released new, record-smashing registration statistics, showing a present total of 74,908 in the county.

This total, never before approached, represented a gain of 3552 since the primary, the total of 71,356 then being a record up to that time.

Republican Gains
Republican registration gained over the Democratic at a ratio of about 1-1-2 to 1 since the primary, the GOP increase being 1504 while Democrats gained 1015.

The Democrat total went up from 38,459 at the primary to 39,474 now, the Republicans increasing from 29,852 to 31,356. This reduced the Democratic lead from $907 to $118.

The Townsend voters, who abandoned that party at the primary to vote in the Democratic primary, returned to their fold, the Townsend total increasing from 1104 to 1385.

List Other Totals
The Prohibition registration dropped two points, from 263 to 261, while the Socialists gained from 69 to 77 and the Progressives from 61 to 66. The Communist total remained at 4.

Other totals included in the present registration, by party affiliation are: decline to state, 1629; Independent, 50; Progressive-Republican, 4; Commonwealth, 1; Technocrat, 1.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Oct. 14.—(UP)—The Phoenix city commission by a majority vote today removed City Manager Houston L. Walsh from his position and appointed William G. Elder, city clerk, acting manager.

The ouster, first major political upheaval in more than two years, was reported underway while the city manager and Mayor Walter Phalheimer were attending the Boston, Mass., convention of the International City Managers association.

P. G. AND E. ABSORBS CONCERNS VALUED AT OVER 70 MILLIONS

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14.—(UP)—The California railroad commission today authorized the Pacific Gas & Electric company to absorb its two subsidiaries, San Joaquin Light & Power Corporation and the Midland counties Public Service Corporation, whose historical value totals more than $70,000,000.

The P. G. and E. will take over complete operation of the two companies, whose gas and electrical distribution systems extend throughout Central California.

Take Over Properties
The absorption will remove P. G. and E. from the status of a holding company in relation to the two companies.

Under the authorization order, P. G. and E. will take over all properties and assets and assume the debts of both companies.

P. G. and E. will acquire the 107,229 electric power customers of the San Joaquin Light and Power corporation in Fresno, Bakersfield, Merced, Madera, Selma, Los Banos, Taft, Corcoran, Sanger, Reedley and Dinuba; and the 41,567 gas customers of the corporation in the Fresno, Bakersfield, Selma, Gower, Midland Corporation at $5,361,635.

NEW CRISIS THREATENED

BUDAPEST, Oct. 14.—(UP)—The government has informed the big European powers that Hungary intends to take whatever measures are necessary for an "early solution" of its minority quarrel with Czechoslovakia, it was reliably reported today.

The council of ministers, meanwhile, ordered military measures taken "for the security of the state." Hungarian troops have been massed along the Czech frontier area since the recent European crisis.

Demand Action
The government was understood to have advised Great Britain, France, Germany, Italy and Poland that, due to the refusal of Prague to meet Hungary's demands for territorial concessions, Hungary has suspended negotiations and reserves the right to take whatever measures it considers necessary.

The four powers in the Munich settlement were asked to make a "very early" decision on the dispute.

The government apparently was counting on the four powers that supervised the surrender of Czech territory to Germany and Poland to see that similar concessions were made to Hungary. But at the same time, demonstrations demanding military action against the Czechs were followed by a stiffening of the cabinet's attitude in the controversy.

To Meet Again
The four powers, at the time of the Sudetenland settlement, agreed to meet again next month if claims of Poland and Hungary were not settled peacefully. The Hungarian council of ministers was said to have urged that the powers act speedily.

After the council meeting, an authoritative statement said that the government was resolved to act in view of strong Czech army concentrations on the frontier.

It was decided that corresponding Hungarian measures must be taken, the statement said. The nature of the military precautions was not disclosed but it was said even further important precautionary steps would be expected.

HUNGARIANS KILL CZECH SOLDIER

PRAGUE, Oct. 14.—(UP)—Hungarian soldiers were reported by Rutenian police today to have killed a Czechoslovak frontier guard near Perbenik, during an attack on a Czech railroad station. Following widespread reports of terrorism which Czechs blamed on Hungarians in Rutenia and Slovakia, the police reports of fighting near Perbenik in the

Approve Program For Construction

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Oct. 14.—(UP)—Construction of two buildings at the California state fair grounds here for use of the Future Farmers of America and the 4-H clubs organization was authorized today with earmarking of $248,000 for that purpose by directors of the exposition.

Announcement of the program was made by Horace E. Thomas, Marysville publisher and fair director, presiding in the absence of President A. B. Miller of Fontana, and T. H. Ramsey, Red Bluff, chairman of the building committee.

The directors also approved a plan for construction of curbs, sidewalks and other improvements throughout the exposition grounds under a P.W.A. project to cost $91,000. L. deSapping of strips adjacent to Merriam Hall and the new administration building was authorized at a cost of $5000.

modernization needs of the community were instituted last night at a meeting of nearly 30 contractors at the Orange County Builders Exchange offices called by the Federal Housing Administration.

Chester A. Warren, county FHA chairman, presided at the meeting and introduced F. Cortlandt Aulforth, contact representative for FHA. Aulforth outlined to the contractors a plan for organization and called a meeting of the crafts for 7:30 p. m. Tuesday at the Exchange offices.

Plans Interviews
The canvass of the city will be held for the purpose of determining the type of modernization and building that is most lacking in the vicinity. Aulforth will be at the Exchange offices all day Monday and Tuesday to meet with contractors and explain the workings of the Federal Housing Administration.

Educators Defer Action On Plea To Call New J. C. Bond Election

Although 1160 Santa Ana citizens signed requests that another junior college bond election be held, the board of education, at a special meeting late yesterday, decided to deliberate further, and shelved action on the proposal until its next regular meeting October 24.

Board members displayed a wish to "go slow" in reaching a decision. M. B. Youel said he would not favor another election unless definite assurance had been received that the district's application for a 45 per cent PWA grant, $315,000, had been approved.

Seek New Contacts
Other members agreeing that such assurance would be a strong boost for the bonds in another campaign, Chairman George Wells suggested that H. H. Cotton, San Clemente Democratic power, who has aided the board with his influence before, be asked to take the matter up with PWA officials. The board found itself embarrassed in its problem by the pressing shortage of time permitted by PWA rulings that all construction projects must be under way by next January. It was estimated that the bond election, if called, therefore must be held not later than November 15. Since three weeks of advertising the election must precede that date, the election must be called by the board's next meeting, October 24, it was said.

Selection of Site
Board members also pointed out that the selection of a site also should be made before an election is called.

While there is no reason to anticipate that PWA will refuse the grant to Santa Ana, said board members yesterday, they have thus far been unable to get any indication from PWA officials what the prospect is.

Another election, if held, probably would cost the district more than the $200 expended on the last one, it was estimated. Board members and G. W. Bassett, manager of the last bond campaign, expressed belief that at least twice as many polling places should be provided, inasmuch as the crush of voters at the polls before they closed last time was so great that many voters could not vote.

Cost of Election
The last election cost the district $144 for election officials and $52.50 for legal advertising. In addition, more than $1000 of student body funds were spent on campaign activities in favor of the bonds, it was reported yesterday.

In presenting the 1160 requests to the board yesterday, Bassett explained that they were recruited partly from those who signed pledge cards favoring the bonds in the last campaign, and partly from new sources, cards being sent out at random. He said he felt certain all who signed are voters. Not one unfavorable reply had been returned, among all the cards sent out, said Bassett.

Close Deer And Dove Seasons; Open Waterfowl

California's deer and dove seasons end Saturday and with the closing sportsmen will be off to a good start on another season, for Oct. 15 is the opening day of the waterfowl season.

Heavy flights of waterfowl are in evidence throughout the Southland indicating that when the season opens hunters will be able to enjoy excellent shooting.

Lakes and streams in the Sierras are covered with ducks as are the nesting grounds along the Owens river, in Owens valley.

The waterfowl season extends from Oct. 15 to Nov. 28, both dates inclusive. Shooting of ducks and geese is prohibited between 4 p. m. and 7 a. m. Hunters are warned that the duck limit is 10 per day, 30 per calendar week and not more than 20 in possession during one day.

Results of the 1938 deer season in number of animals bagged is said to have been far below that of last season. However, the take this year showed great improvement over last season as to size and condition of deer.

The present dove season has been the best for many years. Nearly all dove territory was well filled with birds, and although the season granted California by the federal government was set from Sept. 1 to Nov. 15, and then cut to Oct. 15 by the fish and game commission, results proved gratifying to all hunters.

DOWNNEY TO SPEAK IN BOWL OCT. 23

Sheridan Downey, Democratic candidate for United States Senator will speak in Santa Ana Sunday, October 23, at an outdoor political mass meeting to be held in the Municipal bowl.

Plans for the mass meeting that will include all Democratic candidates for office or their representatives were gotten under way yesterday following the receipt of definite information that Downey would speak here on that date.

John Dockweiler, chairman of the state Democratic speakers' bureau will accompany Downey to Santa Ana and speak on behalf of the entire Democratic ticket. Culbert will speak.

L. Olson for governor, Ellis E. Patterson, lieutenant governor, Carl Kegley, the Democratic write-in candidate for attorney general and party unity.

Hold Major Rally
According to J. Wayne Harrison, county campaign chairman, this mass meeting will be one of the major party rallies during the entire campaign. Arrangements are being made for installation of a public address system in the bowl and a music program to precede the addresses which are scheduled to start at 2 p. m.

Congressman Harry Sheppard, candidate for re-election, has rearranged his speaking schedule to participate in the rally as one of the three major speakers on the program. Assemblyman Clyde Watson, from the 74th district and Burr L. Brown, candidate for Assembly from the 75th District also will speak.

BRITAIN PLANS HUGE AIR FORCE

LONDON, Oct. 14.—(UP)—Great Britain insists on parity with the strongest air force which might be created by any power in Europe, informed sources declared today.

The statement was evoked by dispatches from Berlin revealing an inspired campaign in the German press against British rearmament "propaganda".

See Superiority Move

Coupled with the recent furor over Co. Charles A. Lindbergh's alleged remarks on the superiority of the German air force over those of Britain, Russia and France, the Berlin press campaign caused suspicion here that Germany might be planning to suggest an armament agreement under which Germany would be able to build and maintain an air fleet admittedly superior to that of Britain.

The inspired German press has declared that Germany's only possible stand towards Britain's rearmament program is to increase her own armaments.

More Essential

As though in reply, Sir John Simon, chancellor of the exchequer, warned in a speech that the breathing spell afforded by the Munich agreement should be used to prepare against future danger, and that preparedness is more essential now than it was in 1914.

It was stated authoritatively that Germany has not yet made any concrete proposals to Britain for an air pact or in connection with general disarmament, apart from the brief discussion between Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain and Fuehrer Adolf Hitler at Munich. They were understood to have agreed on the general principle that disarmament is advisable.

PLAN FOR INSPECTION

Final preparation for an inspection by Department Inspector Frank L. Cleveland, of Los Angeles, next month, will be made at the regular meeting of the Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War at the M. W. A. hall at 7:30 p. m. today, Commander Perry Grout announced.

Game Thrills Blind Helen Keller

Student Confesses Slaying of Girl

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Oct. 14.—(UP)—Adrian Miller, 31, an engineering student, confessed today to the slaying of Alice May Gorton, 17, a shy and retiring farm girl who came to the city six weeks ago to attend business college.

Her landlady, Mrs. Lillian Kelly, found her nude body on the floor of her bedroom yesterday. The body was face down, with silk undergarments twisted about the neck. Coroner Walter Kruse said the girl had been criminally attacked and that death had resulted from strangulation.

Maine is said to be the only state in the Union which harbors no poisonous snakes.

'Pep Assembly' Is Opened By Band

The high school pep assembly this week was opened by the band, under the direction of Kenneth Heiges, playing a march. Robert Farrar introduced the speaker, Sam Hayes, radio broadcaster, now connected with sports reviews and announcing. He also has been in several movies in the same capacity. He told of many incidents in the life of an announcer.

The band played another march, "Football Medley," and the Crouch twins played several numbers on the mirimba. The assembly was closed by the school song and several cheers.

COLLEGE GROUP TO CONVENE SATURDAY

The semi-annual meeting of the Southern California Junior College association will be held at the Fullerton Junior college at 10 a. m. Saturday. The program of discussion will occupy one and a half hours, and will include informal round table talks on the departments in the junior college.

More than 400 administrators and teachers are expected to attend. Dr. E. Thorpe of the department of education of the University of Southern California, will talk at the general assembly, and President Sheldon Hayden, instructor at Santa Monica Junior college, formerly of Santa Ana, will be in charge of the business meeting.

CITRUS 'ARTICLES' TO BE FILED SOON

The signatures of only two more of the nine directors of the proposed citrus industry "fact-finding" organization today were needed on the articles of incorporation to complete the papers necessary for filing with the Secretary of State in Sacramento.

The articles will be filed in Sacramento as soon as the remaining two signatures are affixed to the legal documents, Col. M. B. Wellington said today.

The proposed organization will be made up of growers of the Southland and a final membership of 2000 citrus producers is expected. More than 200 growers of the county have already indicated their interest in the corporation that will have as its purpose the betterment of the grower's situation in the citrus industry.

KIWANIS PLAY DRAWS CROWD

FULLERTON, Oct. 14.—A large crowd attended the 12th annual benefit performance sponsored by the Fullerton Kiwanis club at the Fullerton Union High school auditorium last night when "Petticoat Fever" was presented.

The benefit was for the scholarship fund of the club, with net proceeds assigned to assist graduates of the Fullerton Junior college who wish to continue their work. Harry V. Williams is chairman and committee members are Dean W. T. Boyce, Halsey I. Spence, Coy Long and Dr. H. H. Lang.

Members of the cast of the play, which was written by Mark Reed, and directed by Thomas Askin, included Charles Wickett, William Heger, Clifford Jarrett, Nea Wickett, Ray Boston, S. Oliver Lingo, Edith Sparks, Lois Baker, Grant Brown and Helen Cruickshank. William Hampton played the organ preludes and interludes, and Henry L. Parry, president of the club, talked briefly.

SOCIETY MARKS 16TH BIRTHDAY

ORANGE, Oct. 14.—A group of 356 women, guests of the Martha society of St. John's Lutheran church, gathered yesterday afternoon in Walker Memorial hall for a program celebrating the 16th birthday of the Martha society.

Mrs. Carl J. Paul, president, welcomed the guests, Lutheran women of Orange county, and told briefly of the Martha society. The Rev. A. C. Bode, pastor of the church, read a Scripture selection and Mrs. Carl Feldner offered a piano solo. Mrs. Betty Eisenbraun gave a talk on the Lutheran Women's league, a movement new to California.

Announcement was made that a benefit program will be held in the hall October 21, sponsored by the Martha society to buy new maps for St. John's Christian Day school. The program will feature Henry Meier, who will speak on his summer tour of Europe and will show pictures of this trip and a former journey to Alaska.

A representative of a Monrovia linen store was the guest speaker and showed the guests new linen fabrics being introduced in the market. Linen fashions were also described. Later coffee, sandwiches and cookies were served in the lobby of the hall, where Mrs. Albert Bosch and her committee were in charge.

Gas Company Set For Annual Cooking School

The Southern Counties Gas Company today visited all the women in Santa Ana and vicinity to attend the opening of the fall series of weekly All-Gas Cooking classes to be held Tuesday, October 18, at 2 p. m. in the auditorium of the Y.W.C.A., 105 East Fifth street.

"The gas industry takes pleasure in announcing that it is the proud father of a new child, the 'C. P.' Range, that is Certified Performance Range," officials said. "C. P." also stands for 'Cooking Perfection' and Mrs. Lackland and Mrs. Church will endeavor to interpret cooking perfection in this series of cooking classes.

Copies of Recipes
In fact, the opening program is called 'Cooking Perfection.' This features an oven meal, top-of-the-stove menu, and baking of pastry showing the convenience, comfort and ease with which meals may be prepared on these ranges.

The demonstrations will be conducted by Mrs. Margaret Lackland and Mrs. Rosamond Church, home service directors for the gas company.

Fred Merker, district manager for the gas company in Orange county, announced that the demonstration is free of charge and that the women throughout this section of the state are invited.

Royal Neighbors Honor Officers

ORANGE, Oct. 14.—Past oracles' day was observed at the regular meeting of Royal Neighbors Wednesday at the American Legion clubhouse. A luncheon was served at noon by Mrs. Grace Durfee, oracles, and Mrs. Murley Harrison. Table decorations were in purple and white flowers reflecting the Royal Neighbor colors. Luncheon was served to 23 members.

The lodge meeting in the afternoon was led by Mrs. Anna Slater, past oracle, and other officers were held by past oracles present. Mrs. Murley Harrison invited the members to her home, 162 South Pine street, Friday.

Henshaws End 23 Years In Business

Twenty-three years in the grocery business is a long time, but 23 years in the same location in Santa Ana today is just a happy memory to Mr. and Mrs. James Henshaw who called The Register, asking for an expression of appreciation to their many patrons who have traded with them more than two decades.

The reason, of course, is that the Henshaws have rented their store at Grand avenue and First street as well as their home, to Mrs. Walter N. Kirkland of Texas, who will take over the management of the store. The Henshaws have taken temporary residence at 642 North Van Ness street and plan to establish permanent residence here in the near future.

BREAD TO THE RESCUE!

By Julia Lee Wright
Director, Safeway Homemakers' Bureau

When unexpected guests take you by surprise...when you want to give a new twist to the family meal, turn to the breadbox for your inspiration.

For instance, here's a bread idea that puts you in the "hotel chef" class. Place slices of buttered bread, without crusts, in muffin tins and press down to form "cups." Toast in oven till brown. Fill with creamed sea food and serve piping hot.

Fruit for the family dessert is much more exciting when it's made into German Shortcake. Between and on top of two slices of freshly-made buttered toast put your crushed sweetened fruit and let stand for 30 minutes before serving.

As a zesty accompaniment for salads, toast strips of bread on one side and spread the other with cheese, honey butter or deviled ham and pop under the broiler.

Of course you'd expect me to be pretty fussy about bread quality. When we developed the "woman's recipe" for Julia Lee Wright's Bread, I found out what women like most in a loaf of bread. As a result the bread that bears my name meets women's own specifications --it's the kind of bread you'd make yourself.

Your Safeway grocer offers money back if you don't prefer my bread

Many Delegates Attend W. C. T. U. Event

Southern California W. C. T. U. convention closing today in Long Beach after a four-day session, has drawn a large delegation from Santa Ana and Tustin unions.

Among Santa Anans who have been attending meetings are the Misses Emily Cox, Lottie Lyman and Mesdames E. E. Wilde, L. A. Leonard, Edith Rose, D. P. Leonard, Thelma Means and Alma Kellogg.

Tustin Union has been represented by Miss Marian Custer and Mesdames Laura Custer, Cora Torresen, Charles Whiting, Charles Miller, C. E. Utt, William Hazen and Sarah M. G. Brown.

X. N. O. CLUB PARTY

Nicely settled in her new home in Azusa, Mrs. M. O. Johnson, formerly of this city, received X. N. O. club members Wednesday for covered-dish luncheon. During the afternoon, the hostess accompanied her guests on a visit to the J. C. Penney store of which Mr. Johnson is manager. He held a similar position with the company while residing in this city.

Present were Mrs. Johnson and Mesdames B. A. Hershey, A. R. Bennett, W. R. Edwards, Stanley Hardin, R. A. McPherson, E. E. Perry, H. R. Trotter and J. D. Manning. Next meeting will be held October 26 in the home of Mrs. Manning, 214 West Orange Road.

Torosa Rebekahs

Because of the absence of Mrs. Minnie Squier, noble grand of Torosa Rebekah lodge, her place at Torosa meeting Wednesday night was taken by her vice grand, Mrs. Alice Tolhurst.

Members and guests met as usual in I.O.O.F. hall, where Mrs. Fannie Lacy had charge of an entertaining program. She presented American Legion Auxiliary drill team, whose members in their smart new uniforms, executed a beautiful drill under captaincy of Alice Dodder.

Other entertainment features included the playlet, "The Dream Bible," presented by members from Gardena; piano numbers by Gloria Gentry; solos by Nadine Swanson, playing her own guitar accompaniments and solos by Jennie May Annin of Fullerton.

Guests were present from Gardena, Redondo Beach, Fullerton, Orange and Westminster and Mrs. Harvey represented a Rebekah lodge of Claremont, Mo.

When members and guests were invited to the banquet room, they found ferns and English ivy combined with red blossoms with a special table reserved for drill team members. Mrs. Martha Vandewalker had planned the decorations and Mrs. Edna Kinsella was in charge of refreshments served.

Motor buses in Venezuela are adorned with scenes from the Bible, because the natives believe these will help to ward off accidents.

Martha Washington

A pretty arrangement of flowers accompanied the tempting dessert course which Mrs. Sarah House had in readiness to serve Wednesday afternoon, soon after arrival of Martha Washington club members at her home, 320 Orange avenue.

As members chatted and sewed during the afternoon, plans were discussed for other meetings to come. Decision was reached to hold the next few meetings at the Rosemore cafe, where members will lunch together and then continue to some one home for the remainder of the afternoon.

Mrs. House's guests were Mesdames Mamie Zimmerman, Florence Summerville, Hattie Peters, Ruth Zabel, May Curtis, Bess McDonald and Jeanne Prevost.

PROPOSITIONS GAIN SANTA ANA SPONSORS

Santa Ana sponsors of the two "traffic safety measures." Propositions 3 and 4 on the November 8 ballot were announced today by Elmer E. Heldt, of the Santa Ana Office of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

The local sponsors are: Dr. Roy S. Horton, Louis Dann, C. J. Skirvin, Rodney Bacon, O. A. Jacobs, James Givens, Calvin Flint, C. M. Featherly, Ed Yost and Dr. M. H. Duncan.

"Proposition 3, is a constitutional amendment, already passed by two thirds of both houses of the legislature, specifying that revenues from the gasoline tax shall be used exclusively for street and highway administration, construction and maintenance, with exception only for emergency loans to the school fund," according to Heldt.

New Camera Club To Be Organized

Devotees of color photography were interested today in announcement that a camera club is being formed in Santa Ana for the purpose of instructing and promoting interest in the taking of still pictures in natural colors.

The club held its first meeting Wednesday evening at the home of Max Elliott, where Mel Head was elected temporary chairman. The next meeting will be held at the Howard Taylor Radio shop, 116 South Sycamore street, next Tuesday at 8 p. m. All who are interested in still pictures in color are invited to attend.

Trips already are being planned by the club, and more than 300 pictures now are in the collection of club members.

S. A. CONCERTS HOLD THRILLS FOR YOUTHFUL MUSIC LOVERS

Harry Brachet, heading the committee for donors of student tickets to the Orange County Concert series said today that "we grown-ups who get such a great pleasure out of the concerts and especially because they are right in our midst, are delighted to give the young people of our community the benefit and inspiration of seeing and hearing these great artists personally."

He was referring to those tickets which are being donated to young and deserving people of the community.

Thrills For Youth
First of the series of concerts brings Ezio Pinza, considered greatest basso, Monday at 8:30 p. m. in the Santa Ana high school auditorium.

"We know what a thrill such occasional events meant in our young lives and want to put a few more worth-while things into theirs," he continued.

"So any of you big-hearted fellows of the county who feel you would like to share some fine pleasures with a half-dozen youngsters, just stop into Bob Brown's bookstore and get a $3 season ticket—for the six events—and leave it for the donors' committee, to divide, just come forward. Or, if you prefer to award the ticket personally, that is fine. We don't want the young people to miss these events which may mean a great deal in their lives, especially when we are certain many adults would like to contribute this pleasure for them."

Music Essay Contests
L. E. Behrmer has donated six season tickets which means 36 children, winners of music essay contests, will be hearing the concert this season. Mrs. Mabel Spitzzy, Orange county supervisor of music in county schools, and her committee, will award the tickets. O. W. Hingardner, Green Cat cafe proprietor, started the idea of tickets for students by donating the first two season tickets for students.

Several other merchants and music teachers have followed Hingardner's idea already. Miss Myrtle Martin, music supervisor at Santa Ana junior college; Herbert Bickel, in charge of music at high school, and a member of the Musical Arts club have been selected to award tickets where donors themselves do not care to do so.

Select Officers Of La Habra Club

LA HABRA, Oct. 14.—New officers were elected at the meeting of the La Habra Kiwanis club Wednesday night. Earl Wilson, entomologist for the La Habra Citrus association, will head the group as president for the coming year. He will succeed W. F. Espolt.

Lewis Wicker was re-elected treasurer and directors chosen are M. B. Douth, William Sharpe, Dr. E. N. Cooke and Tom Rosenberger.

The speaker was George A. Graham, secretary of the Associated Farmer of Orange county, who discussed proposition No. 1 on the November ballot.

Plant Authority To Speak at H. B.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 14.—An illustrated talk on "My Exploration Trip in the West Indies" will be given by W. Taylor Marshall, plant authority and president of the Cacti and Succulent Society of America, at the meeting of the Garden club to be held in the Horseshoe clubhouse next Thursday evening.

J. Sherman Denny, elected secretary of the cacti society at a meeting last Sunday in Los Angeles, engaged the speaker for the evening.

A 200-pound human body contains one-fourth ounce iron, one-fifth ounce sugar, one and eight-tenths ounces salt, 24 pounds coal (in the form of carbon), 10 gallons water, one-tenth drop iodine, and eight-tenths pounds phosphorus, 112 cubic feet oxygen, 60 cubic feet nitrogen, 561 cubic feet hydrogen, and 7 pounds line.

WASH. STATE TEAM ARRIVES FOR S. C. GAME

LOS ANGELES—Coach Babe Hollingsberry and 33 Washington State football players, determined to improve on their feat of last year in holding the Southern California Trojans to a scoreless tie, arrived here today for a final workout before tackling Coach Howard Jones' gridders tomorrow in the Coliseum. The Cougars are making their headquarters at the Huntington hotel in Pasadena.

Intending to continue where they left off against the Ohio State Buckeyes last week, the Trojans pin their hopes for a victory against the Cougars by tossing the pigskin all over the Coliseum. An inspired S. C. team came to life in the second half against Ohio State and flashed a brilliant passing attack which enabled Troy to wind up with a 14-7 victory.

Pitchers and catchers are plentiful on the Trojan varsity and Coach Jones can have his pick out of a number of combinations. Some of the boys who will probably see action on the throwing end will be Greenville Lansdell, Ollie Day, Jack Banta, and Doyle Nave. Day's 26-year pass to sophomore end Al Krueger scored the winning touchdown for S. C. against the Buckeyes.

Outstanding pass receivers for Southern California a pair of tall, lanky boys in Right End John Stonebraker and Left End Krueger, but backing these players up are numerous glue-fingered ends in Ralph Stanley, Bob Winslow, Bill Fisk and Jim Slater.

A preliminary game at 12 o'clock matches the Southern California freshmen and the University of California frosh.

50TH ANNIVERSARY OF GOLF OBSERVED

MOUNT HOPE, N. W.—(UP)—Fiftieth anniversary of the introduction of golf to this country will be celebrated at St. Andrews club tomorrow.

Among guests will be U. S. G. A. President Archie Reid, whose father, John G. Reid, was credited with giving the game its start. It was in 1888 that Reid, a Scotsman who settled in Yonkers, N. Y., laid out a six hole course (a vacant lot and had a friend bring him clubs and balls from the old country. He explained the game to four friends, and they soon became known as the "apple tree gang."

SPORTS WHIRLIGIG; NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

Customers at tonight's Tustin-Anaheim high school game in the Bowl will be given "flashes" from the Don-Citrus jaysee affair at Glendora. KVOE will be on the job at both places.

Vic Linker, Tustin's star end in football and forward in basketball, reaches the ineligible age of 20 on Nov. 13. But Coach Russ Wilson will let the basketball coach worry. Tustin closes its Orange County league grid schedule Nov. 11.

Remember of Art (Battle) Shipkey of Oxy? And Art's brothers, Ted of All-America fame at Stanford and Harry, who is coaching Stanford's frosh? Well, Art Shipkey Jr. is a hot-shot fullback on this season's Anaheim high school eleven. The kid weighs 175 pounds and plays like a Shipkey. Which is o.k. in any league. Young Shipkey is in the junior class.

Jaysee football receipts jumped an even hundred dollars last week when the U.C.L.A. frosh played the Dons. The "take" was $1420. Los Angeles City College drew $1320 the previous Friday night. In comparison, afternoon high school contests between Santa Ana and Long Beach and Santa Ana and Huntington Beach drew only $142 and $61, respectively.

Tradition was on "Tex" Oliver's side when his Oregon Webfeet sprang that surprise on U.C.L.A. It seems all first-year coaches in the Pacific Coast conference are good for at least one big upset.

Bill Ingram broke Stanford's long mastery of California in his first year in the league. When Ingram's luck ran out, "Stub" Allison took over and trounced U.S.C. "Tiny" Thornhill's first team at Stanford stopped U.S.C.'s long run and went to the Rose Bowl. "Buck" Shaw succeeded Clinger Smith at Santa Clara and pushed the Broncos into the Sugar Bowl.

Laguna Beach has six players on the Santa Ana jaysee roster. They are Rollo Beck, Dale Mickelwait, Al Golf, George Henry, Herman Walker and Tommy Sullivan. Anaheim is the heaviest contributor, sending over such good ones as Lynn Arnett, Ted DeVelbiss, Jimmie Nunez, Jerry Nesmith, Bill Ross, Joe Anton, Cal Calaway, Vernon Carlson and Louis Cluden. From Orange come Larry Timken, Jack Lentz, Gil Nehrig, Les Valentine and Grover Miller. The last two are earmarked for stardom in '39.

"Angel" Howard Bard of San Bernardino's Ponies (who carried Huntington Beach seven surprising games in the National Night league playoffs) says that personally he's through with softball. . . but will co-operate to the usual open play style.

NIGHT TUSSLE MATCHES BEST COUNTY PREPS

While the cat's away the mice will play . . . meaning there will be football, and good football, inside Santa Ana's Municipal Bowl tonight . . . even if the Dons ARE "calling" on Citrus Jaysee.

Tustin and Anaheim, perhaps the year's best high school clubs in Orange county, have moved their non-conference conflict into the city's stadium. Game-time is 7:30, half-an-hour earlier than the junior collegians go to the post. Admission will be 25 cents.

Coached by Russell Wilson, Tustin comes here undefeated and untied. Wilson is a disciple of razzle-dazzle and made a National reputation at Whittier college during the time "Bull" Finch was throwing passes all over the place. Once Whittier barely lost to the Golden Bears of California and it did beat U.S.C. Wilson preceded "Slip" Madigan at St. Mary's and coached basketball and baseball at Stanford.

The Farmers turned back Huntington Beach (which trounced Santa Ana) by two touchdowns and Downey by three. Their goal line is still uncrossed. Anaheim dropped a 12-6 decision to the traditionally strong Covina Colts in an even game, and last week tied Fullerton 0-0, making twice as many first downs as the upcountry Indians.

Tustin plays wide open football, specializing in passes and deceptive reverses. They have hard-running backs in Quarterback Harold Lilley and Fullback Walt Linker, both 165-pounds, and a clever set of blockers in Scott and McCarter. Strong ends are present in Vic Linker and Ev Winkler, and Tustin's line from tackle to tackle has limited its first two opponents to minor gains.

Anaheim Star-lets Team Rated by some observers as the county's No. 1 prep mentor, Coach Dick Glover says his present squad is as good "as a unit" as any he's handled at Anaheim. "We have no individual stars," explains Glover, "but maybe we're better for it. The boys are improving rapidly and I think we'll have a good team."

Anaheim's No. 1 back, Keith Beebe, is not listed to start because of injuries but Don Rimbau, who gets the call, is touted as a fine ball-packer. The rest of the backfield—Ralph Maas, Carlin Coffman, Gene Montgomery and Art Shipkey—is highly regarded by Glover, and the Colonist forwards average 168 to Tustin's 156. Anaheim's backs average 158 to Tustin's 155.

Loyola has Redlands outpowered but Coach Tom Lieb was under a handicap. His boys gave all and took plenty in the St. Mary's defeat. He gave them a rest Monday, and had only three days to prepare them for the dippy-doo that Redlands always uses. Additionally he feared a let-down from the Gaels game for which Loyola always steals itself.

A couple of years ago Redlands surprised Loyola, supposedly out of its class, with a 19-18 beating. Coach Cecil Cushman planned his usual open play style.

LOS ANGELES—(UP)—A Loyola squad still cursing St. Mary's bruises goes against the fancy razzle-dazzle little Redlands university with the odds on the Lions, but not too heavily, tonight in Gilmore stadium.

Blazing Blas Still Shining

Blas Mercurio, formerly of Santa Ana jaysee, will see plenty of action on the big-time tonight when he quarterback the University of Redlands eleven against Loyola's Lions at Gilmore stadium, Los Angeles. Mercurio was all-Eastern conference quarter and high scorer for the Dons last season. Two other ex-Dons, Walter Opp and Carl Lehnhardt, are blocking backs for the Redlands squad.

Ruth Again Ignored By Sport He Saved

By HENRY McEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK—The Old Warrior has gathered another wound stripe. Time scarcely heals one scar before he gets another.

Just to see him, just to meet him for the first time, you wouldn't know how often he's been hurt. The Old Warrior doesn't wear his heart on his sleeve—and that's where his wounds are.

It's Babe Ruth I'm writing of—Babe Ruth, who, yesterday, penned another of his brave and pathetic little letters to the press: letters whose between-the-lines message is one of disappointment but not of despair, fading hope but not of surrender.

This last letter said: "A new Brooklyn manager and his assistants have been announced and my newspaper friends insist that I make some comment. Well, here it is: "Good luck to the Dodgers and my best wishes for a successful season to every member of the team."

"But, more important to the fans of Brooklyn, the welcome and encouragement they gave me during the past three months would make any player happy, and for that reason 1938 will always have a special place in my memory. "Finally, let me say this: No matter what the future holds in store, my heart will always be in, and with, the great game of baseball."

This letter tells the story of Ruth's latest heartbreak, but by no means his first one. There's no telling when his first one came, because he grew up an unwanted little waif in an orphanage. But we know about the later ones, and strangely enough they too came from being unwanted.

There was that day when Joe McCarthy was named manager of the New York Yankees and the Babe was passed over. During his years of greatness, when baseball itself rested squarely on his big shoulders, he dreamed of the time he would manage the Yankees in the giant pile of steel and stone that his feats built. Spurred by his own ball club, the others spurred him. There must be a hurt in his heart for every day, every week, every month, every year that he stood, willing but unwanted.

At last his pride gave way,

Tonight's Game
Santa Ana at Citrus; Riverside at Fullerton; San Bernardino at Pomona; Chaffey at Idaho, Southern Branch.

Like Banquo's ghost, tricky Al Claves and his Citrus Owls roll out of the past tonight to haunt Bill Cook and Santa Ana Jaysee's football squad.

The Don-Owl game, first of the Eastern conference schedule for Santa Ana, will be played at 8 on Citrus' field, located between Azusa and Glendora.

Better Don teams than this have been hit when it hurt by Citrus. In 1933, Citrus was the only club that beat Santa Ana's championship-bound eleven. The next year the Owls held the Dons to a scoreless tie, beating the Cookmen out of a conference title under the "Chuck" Stafford and Rollo Beck came back to wing the Dons again, 12-6. All of these were major upsets. Even the mighty club of '36, champions of Southern California, could get no better than a 7-0 verdict over Claves and his "spoilers."

It was different last fall. Bese by injuries to key men, Claves brought only a skeleton lineup to the Bowl and Citrus was outclassed, 44-6.

Owls Gun for Upsets

Heavy reinforcements from its district high schools have Citrus on the "make" again. Claves has a typical Claves team, gunning for a typical Citrus upset. He is not "deep" but what there is is good. Citrus' line is rangy, low-charging. Owl backs are fast, shifty and hard-running. They pass when they're supposed to run and run when they're supposed to pass. Even in defeat, Citrus has done well. It limited the strongest Loyola frosh team in years to two touchdowns, held San Bernardino's high-scoring Indians 6-0 for more than three quarters. Willing under San Bernardino's superior reserve strength, the Owls eventually were buried, 29-0. Santa Ana may have to wear down Citrus, too.

Coach Cook is always jittery before a Don-Citrus game and admits he's worried about this one. He has become "Der Fearer." If he could field his full strength it might be different. But Lynn Arnett, his No. 1 quarterback, has two bad knees and when he goes into the game now he doesn't fool anybody. The opposition knows what he's going to do: pass. Larry Monroy is under the weather, too, so that gets Cook down to bedrock. Al San Bernardino will start, there is only one quarterback in top shape: Don Borden, the flashy freshman from Oceanside.

Joseph's Return Strengthens Line
Return of Co-Captain Johnny Joseph, all-conference end, figures to strengthen the Don line where it needs help most to combat Claves' unorthodox formations. Joseph's presence should be a boon to team spirit. Cook calls the fightin' Los Angeles flanker one of the greatest natural leaders of Don history. If Joseph can play most of the game and the quarterbacks hold up, Santa Ana may come up with its first real burst of offensive power. The club has looked good in practice all week, may be ready to cut loose. Trouble has been that the Dons have a host of green material which has developed slower than most Cook teams.

Cook indicates he is starting Monroy at quarter and Co-Capt. Larry Tinken at fullback, with "Chuck" Stafford and Rollo Beck at inside and outside half. Joseph, 12-6. All of these were major upsets. Even the mighty club of '36, champions of Southern California, could get no better than a 7-0 verdict over Claves and his "spoilers."

Graham, Pavelko Ace Backs

Quarterback Raleigh Graham and Fullback Phil Pavelko, brother of last year's great Santa Clara back, do the bulk of Citrus' ball handling. Graham is a 170-pound sophomore. Pavelko is up from Covina where he played tackle. The other backs are Passano, 150, and Hodges, 155, both lettermen. Ends Bob Merchant and George Kish also are veterans. Tackle John Rideout is a 220-pounder from Wisconsin and Tackle Ted Mills, 190, hails from Anaheim. One guard, Bill Potter, played last year. The other, Bob Brink, registers from Monrovia. At center is Jack Verfurth, a first year man from Covina.

While the Owls use the Notre Dame system, Claves has inserted some razzle-dazzle of his own. Win, lose or draw, Citrus plays wide open and are always interesting to watch.

Henry Armstrong Escapes In Auto Crash

HOT SPRINGS, Ark.—(UP)—Henry Armstrong, world champion welter and lightweight, today said "guess lady luck was riding with me" after escaping injury in an automobile accident 80 miles south of Hot Springs.

Armstrong and his manager, Eddie Mead, were driving to Dallas to appear on a fight card last night when a tire blew out. Their automobile crashed into a shallow ditch. Neither was hurt.

ORE. ATTITUDE WORRIES 'TEX'; BRUINS DEPART

(By United Press)
EUGENE, Ore.—The conference-leading University of Oregon football team was enroute south to Palo Alto, Cal., today for a game against Stanford University tomorrow. Before the squad left Coach "Tex" Oliver said he was "dissatisfied with the players' mental attitude."

LOS ANGELES — Accompanied by 5000 Bruin rosters, the UCLA football squad entrains tonight for Berkeley for the annual family affair with California, Bruin followers were gobbling up all the 2-1 California money in sight on the strength of the trouncing UCLA gave Washington last week. Coach Bill Spaulding said his team was in shape and would fill the air with passes from the worrysome spread formation.

CORVALLIS, Ore.—Both Morris and Victor Kohler will start in the backfield tomorrow when Oregon State meets the University of Washington, Coach Lon Stiner said today as the squad left for Seattle.

SEATTLE—Coach James Phelan said today he would start three new sophomore players in their first collegiate game when Washington meets Oregon State tomorrow.

BERKELEY—Coach "Stub" Allison said today that his University

REFEREE AIDS BRITT SUBDUES FORMER CHAMP

Alvin Britt, No. 1 pain in the neck to Orange County Athletic club wrestling fans, defeated ex-champion Duke Chick and thereby won a crack at the title held by Bob Kenniston at the highway arena last night.

Britt was up to all of his old tricks (mostly illegal, according to rules) but was allowed to strangle, twist his opponent's arms around the ropes and what have you without anything but an occasional sputter from Referee "Boo" Montana. Britt took the first fall in 12:36 with a face-lock that riled the customers and aroused Chick's high blood pressure. Chick came out with a series of scissors holds and body slams to dump Britt on his rumbly seat and cop the second fall in 6:13 and attempted to keep up his good work with an Indian Death Grip in the third but Britt crawled through the ropes, Montana told Chick to break, which he did, and then allowed Britt to grab his legs and apply a body slam (before Chick could get clear) for the third and deciding fall in 3:51.

Jimmie Lott and Steve Tsakoff, a clever new rougher, stole the show in the semi-windup. They pulled every kind of mayhem on each other known to the profession. Lott tried to wrestle "clean" but soon decided that if he wanted to remain in one piece he had better start dishing out the dirt so he cut loose with a series of haymakers and flying broad jumps but was fouled at every attempt and finally fell victim to a semi-Boston crab. He dropped the first fall to the wild Bulgarian in 13:42. Lott came out for the kill in the second, battering the wild man hither and yon with a series of rope slingshots, then finished him off with a pile-driver hold in 8:22.

Tsakoff came out for the third giving a swell imitation of a raving maniac, trying to take Lott apart and hide the pieces. Referee Montana let him go for a few minutes, just to give the customers a treat, and then slugged him and awarded the bout to Lott on account of undue roughness on Tsakoff's part.

Bob Chick subdued Nick Bozinas, alias The Black Secret, in a barroom crawl. Bozinas gained such popularity with the fans that a dozen or so ringers wanted to lick him when he left the ring and chased him to the showers via a back alleyway.

It took Pat O'Brien 14 1/2 minutes of suffering to win over Mike Strelch with a Boston Crab.

The PAYOFF

By HARRY GRAYSON
(Sports Editor, NEA Service)

With the Big Three apparently stripped of all its power, Dartmouth has to look outside of that ivy-cluttered triangle for trouble, and no doubt will get it Saturday, when a surprising band of Brown men invade Hanover.

Tuss McLaughry has built the best Bruin team in six years around his remarkable fullbacking son, Johnny, but the multiple talents of Bob MacLeod, Bill Hutchinson, and Colby Howe should see the Big Green through by a touchdown or two.

Marty Glickman and Syracuse kicked the dope all over Ithaca a year ago. The Orange still has the fleet Glickman and is combating Cornell on its home grounds this trip, but I look for the Big Red's mobile giants to even the score.

Holy Cross and Carnegie Tech bump smack dab into their first dog fights of the campaign at Pitt Stadium, where a heavily-manned crew of Crusaders should prevail with the battering back, Bill Osmanski, showing the way.

The young Purdue club made a brave stand against Minnesota and can be depended upon to do the same thing against Fordham in New York, but the Ram has too many good backs and too much manpower for the Boiler-makers. Columbia and story-book Sid Luckman should hurdle Colgate, and New York University should get over North Carolina in other Manhattan engagements.

Harvard, Yale, and Princeton are in for additional pastings... this time from Army, Navy, and Pennsylvania, respectively.

PITTSBURGH PICKED TO HALT WISCONSIN
Birmingham is the site of a Titanic tussle featuring a truly great Alabama outfit and Tennessee, and I am sure that Frank Thomas would settle for the touchdown margin which I give the Crimson Tide.

On the strength of its showing against Notre Dame, Georgia Tech must be given the edge over a fine Duke team at Durham. Auburn should hurdle Mississippi State at Montgomery tonight.

Pittsburgh's dream backfield is picked to halt Wisconsin's march at Madison. While Michigan's combination of sophomores and veterans proved itself against Michigan State, I am afraid the Wolverines are not yet ready for an aggregation with the strength and resourcefulness of Minnesota.

Against Southern California, the Ohio State Buckeyes looked like nothing more than a lot of

S. C. HUSKIES ALSO ODDS-ON GRID CHOICES

BY JAMES A. SULLIVAN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SAN FRANCISCO—The betting men, and they're the kind who don't throw money away foolishly, believe that the Stanford-Oregon game will be the closest of the four football games Pacific Coast conference teams will play in their round-robin schedule Saturday.

The latest odds from the marts where cold cash is laid on the line quotes Oregon over Stanford at the unusual figure of 10 to 8.

There must be a lot of faith in "Tiny" Thornhill's efforts to rebuild his Stanford eleven to sustain odds like those. For Oregon is coming south with a team that tops the conference, with victories over Washington State and U.C.L.A., and with the word of "Stub" Allison, California coach, that they are the team to beat for conference honors this year.

Cards Start Revised Line
Stanford will be starting the game with a revised line, the third Thornhill has devised since losing 22-0 to Santa Clara and losing at Washington State 8-0. The backfield also will be changed. Out of these shifts Stanford hopes to find the answer to a successful season. Oregon is the first hurdle to that revised ambition, and it's a tough one to climb over.

Despite the dangerous U.C.L.A. passing attack and the alertness of the Los Angeles Bruins in converting the other fellow's mistakes into touchdowns for themselves, California is held at 2 1/2 to 1 over the invaders in the game likely to draw the day's largest crowd.

Allison, departing momentarily from his customary pessimism, has proclaimed California's varsity, general favorites for the Rose Bowl again now that Washington and S.C. have been sidetracked, in the best condition of the year.

Another 2 1/2 to 1 price is quoted in favoring U.S.C. back from a triumphant tour to Columbus, Ohio, where they upset Ohio State, to beat "Babe" Hollingbery's badly crippled Washington State eleven. Beaten three times already, the Cougars would appear to have less chance against the Trojans than U.C.L.A. has against California. It's somewhat of a surprise to some to find Washington a 2 to 1 price over Oregon State in the fourth game. Past records don't justify those odds, as Washington has been beaten twice and tied once, while Oregon State, dropped by Idaho and S.C., has a win over Portland to its credit. Jimmy Phelan has shaken up his Huskies in the hope that the season's most promising team, before the firing started, will find its stride.

These four games head a busy football program for the weekend, with games scheduled for Friday, Saturday and Sunday in the far west.

ANSWER: Fiction. There can be no moonlight near the time of a solar eclipse, for such an eclipse is caused by the moon passing between the earth and the sun, and, therefore, the moon would be in the new phase.

TOM MOONEY "JUST ANOTHER PRISONER," SAYS GOVERNOR

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Oct. 14.—(UP)—The pardon application of Thomas J. Mooney, convicted San Francisco Preparedness Day bomber, probably will be referred to the state advisory pardon board and "won't be treated differently than any other applicant," Gov. Frank F. Merriam announced today.

Merriam said he had taken the position that when the Mooney case was out of the courts, "I would give the question of a pardon consideration." He said referring it to the pardon board was the usual course in matters of that kind.

Writ Denied
The statement followed the denial for a writ of review by the Supreme Court of the United States. Merriam said he believed the famous convict had exhausted his legal remedies.

The governor disclaimed responsibility for Mooney's practice of making statements from his prison cell attacking the courts and officials. "I have nothing to do with prison management," Merriam said. "That is entirely up to the state board of prison directors and the warden. No official complaints have been placed before me."

The governor said a new pardon application was unnecessary but that Mooney might submit supplementary affidavits or new material to be turned over to the board. The governor may reject or accept the board's findings on a pardon.

Five governors have failed to grant a pardon to Mooney and Warren Billings, his less publicized partner. Mooney is in San Quentin prison and Billings in Folsom.

LOCAL DOCTORS GAIN LAURELS

Drs. Ralph Ray Giddings and Lawrence Ray Winn, internes at Orange county hospital, were signally honored this week by the War department when each received a commission at first lieutenant, army reserves, and were assigned to the Medical corps, it was revealed today.

The doctors are members of the 47th General Hospital staff, Los Angeles, a group which will be prepared to take over operation of the Los Angeles county general hospital in case of war. The staff has a membership of 60, meets the second Wednesday of each month.

Study Tactics

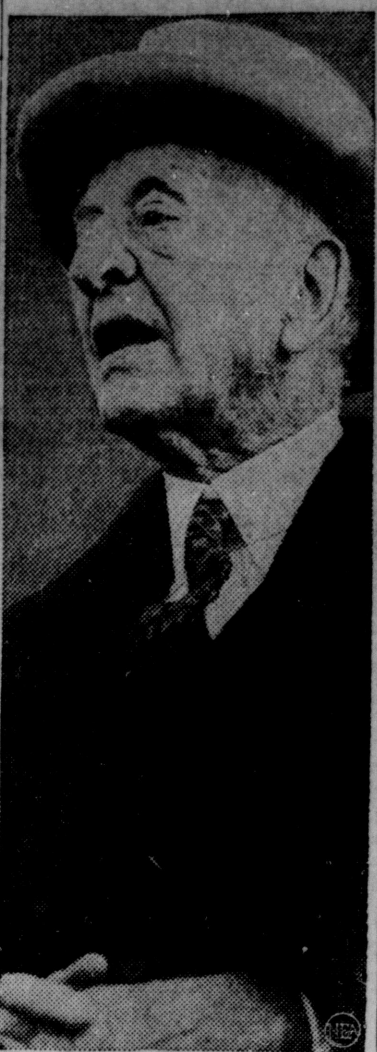

This week Drs. Giddings and Winn attended the regular class at White Memorial hospital, Los Angeles, and studied the tactical problem which the Southern California area would face in organizing the hospital, offensively and a defensively in time of war.

CLUB PLANS DANCE

LA HABRA, Oct. 14.—The I. M. Fisher home in La Habra Heights was the scene of the first fall meeting of the Squires. Among other business of the evening was the planning of a semi-formal dance and evening of entertainment at the Del Mar Beach club.

Members are Monte Fisher, Bruce Butler, Stanley Olson, Kenny Wygal, Bill Holve, ay Stone, Joe Bray Hal Hevener, Harold Horn, Paul Thornton and Bob Gobar.

Rooter Carter

Virginia's little 'giant killer', Senator Rooter Carter, took time out from his job as unofficial gadfly to the New Deal to see how the big boys of professional football handle the opposition. The open-mouthed gentleman from Virginia is pictured putting everything he has into the role of spectator at the New York Giants-Washington Redskins game in Washington.

Bird migrations baffled nature students of early times. Some authors thought birds buried themselves in mud through the winter, while some believed that migratory birds spent their vacation periods on the moon.

HEALTH DRIVE TO SET RECORD

Looking forward to the greatest response in sale of tuberculosis Christmas Seals in the history of the county, directors of the Orange County Tuberculosis and Health Association today announced preliminary plans for the 1938 sale.

Announcement of the plans came today following a meeting of the association board of directors in Santa Ana headquarters, presided over by Dr. Margaret D. Baker, vice president, in the absence of president Homer C. Chaney.

Protection of Home

The general theme of the educational campaign now under way will be protection of the home. The sale of Christmas Seals will open officially Thanksgiving Day and continue until Christmas. This will be the 32nd annual sale of seals in the United States. A speakers' bureau now is being organized. At the monthly directors meeting in Santa Ana, the directors authorized the employment of Kenneth Adams, Santa Ana, as public relations representative for the seal sale campaign.

Directors Attend

Mrs. Ernest C. Phillips, Tustin, county chairman of school participation, explained what use to make of "Christmas in the Home," the classroom project furnished to help teachers explain to students the social value of the program financed by Christmas Seals.

Directors attending the meeting included Mrs. Harry A. Weaver, Brea; Mrs. A. C. Rodabaugh, Buena Park; Mrs. Arthur L. Nunn and the Rev. Alphonso Dominguez, Fullerton; Mrs. Charles K. Simpson, Garden Grove; Miss Mabel G. Wing and Mrs. Mabel Dixon, Orange; Mrs. Clara Berg, San Clemente; Ray Adkinson, Dr. Margaret E. Baker, A. J. Cruikshank, Dr. R. Morgan, Mrs. Charles A. Riggs and Dr. Robert S. Wade, Santa Ana; Mrs. Florence Tyler, Seal Beach; Mrs. Ernest C. Phillips, Tustin and Herbert G. Walker, Yorba Linda. Mrs. Simpson was elected on the board to represent Garden Grove.

Farm Center To Analyze Ballot

Assemblyman Thomas H. Kuchel, of Anaheim, will explain various measures appearing on the November ballot at the Placentia Farm Center meeting at 6:30 p.m. Monday at the Ann Marie tea room, Placentia.

Reports of the nominating committee and a director's report by G. C. Darnall will be the highlights of the business meeting. Leon Gillilan will be in charge of the meeting.

Relief Corps

Presided over by Mrs. Alice Milligan, president of Sedwick Women's Relief Corps met Wednesday afternoon in M.W.A. hall. Reports showed 83 calls and 13 cards since the last previous meeting. Mrs. Alice Krykl was one of the members reported ill.

Congratulations were expressed by the Corps to Mr. and Mrs. George Campbell, who on Sunday celebrated their 59th wedding anniversary. Comrade Campbell is commander of Sedwick Post, G.A.R., and Mrs. Campbell is Corps chaplain.

Mrs. Elizabeth Bicknese called attention to the alder bazaar which will be held later this month, and asked each member to donate articles for sale.

Communications pertaining to the annual Armistice Day celebration were read. The parade this year will be in Orange, and the Corps was asked to participate. The invitation was extended also to the Veterans' Memorial service to be held Thursday night, November 10, the eve of Armistice day, in Orange high school auditorium.

At the conclusion of the business interval, members and guests remained for tea with Mrs. Hattie Cozad as general chairman.

D. A. V. Auxiliary

Completing plans for their rummage sale to be held October 21 and 22 at 403 East Fourth street, members of Jack Fisher auxiliary D. A. V. Sewing Circle met Wednesday in the home of Mrs. James Wylie, 1218 South Parton street.

Covered-dish luncheon was served to the group, which included Mrs. Wylie and Mesdames George Morgan, Albert Jones, Edwin Redford, Frances Thatcher, V. L. Brown, Charles Spurrier, John Cleary, Olga Wood, Arthur Nielsen, William Hutchinson, Alice Gransgaard, Elmer Maxson and Harry Pickard, members; with two guests, Mrs. L. M. Hanson of Oceanside, who is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Cleary; and Mrs. Wilson of Montana, a guest at the home of Mrs. Wood.

THE NEBBIS

1939 PONTIAC HAS PREMIER

Pontiac engineers have displayed skill and originality in the design of three new lines of cars for 1939 that combine the height of fashion and good taste in modern streamlining and rich appointments with important mechanical improvements that feature Duflex rear springs as the greatest engineering achievement, according to Bartelsson and Wilson, local Pontiac dealers.

The Quality Six, a newcomer to the line, is designed for large production at a low price. With five body models (Two and four-door sedans, business and sport coupes, and station wagon) of 190 inches overall length, it digs deeper into the lower price field than any previous Pontiac.

Longer Chassis. The DeLuxe Six, with the same engine but longer chassis than the Quality Six, comes in five more finely appointed bodies. A cabriolet with two coupes and two sedans constitute the line. Overall length of 196 1/4 inches makes it the longest six by four inches Pontiac has ever built.

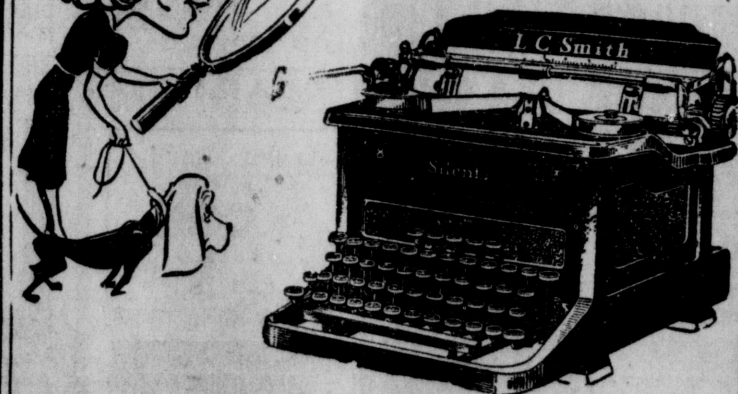

The DeLuxe Eight with its famous smooth running and economical straight eight engine, will embrace the same five body styles as the DeLuxe Six.

In the appearance of the three lines we find complete modernization in the styling of hood, radiator, fenders and body.

Added Safety. There is increased visibility for driver and passenger alike in the new Pontiac which is an added safety factor, with wider and lower DeLuxe Six and Eight bodies these models are equipped either with or without running boards.

Front seat frames are constructed of steel tubing for lightness and strength. New door locks require only a light pressure on the doors to close them securely. The new three-spoke steering wheel is T-shaped to permit an unobstructed view of the instrument panel.

The remote control gear shift pioneered last year by Pontiac has been refined and improved and is standard equipment in all 1939 Pontiac models at no extra cost.

You'll find no flaws in a Tiernan-Rebuilt

You'll find a rebuilt typewriter that sparkles from top to bottom . . . precision-adjusted during the process of assembling . . . looking, running and feeling like a new typewriter! The result is long years of satisfactory usage, value for the moderate cost. Tiernan-Rebuilt typewriters are GUARANTEED because we know what they are.

Originality of Design Marks 1939 Pontiac

Shown above is the 1939 Pontiac DeLuxe Six four-door sedan that is on display today at the show rooms of Bartelsson and Wilson, local Pontiac dealers. Styled in the modern manner, with or without running boards, the new car has curb-high floors, a four inch increase in over-all length and 25 per cent greater visibility.

Feed coffee should be an all-year beverage; you'll find it a pleasant surprise to serve to bridge guests who do not care for the mill-run of drinks served during the evening. When you are expecting guests, make a pot of extra strong coffee, pour it into an ice cube can and freeze. Put 4 cubes in each tall glass, 1-1/2 cup milk and freshly made hot coffee to fill the glass. Top each glass with a spoonful of whipped cream, flavored with a dash of vanilla.

Spare tires round the waist line are out this season if you expect your new mounted dress to look as it should. It is an easy matter to trade in this spare tire of fat for trim, stream-lined figure by using our Safe and Sane reducing diet, the pleasantest, simplest food you've ever lived on. This diet is available by writing for it and enclosing a stamped, return-addressed envelope.

TODAY'S RECIPES

Fruit Salad With Creamy Cheese Dressing
Line salad plates with crisp lettuce leaves and arrange on each plate:
1-1/2 oranges, sliced
4 sections of fresh grapefruit
1-1/2 sections, each, canned pear and peach
A few slices of banana
1-1/2 ring of pineapple
A few long strips of Canada melon

Cheese Dressing
For four salads dress:
3 small cakes soft cream cheese
Juice of 1 lemon
Pinch of salt
Pineapple juice to thin to creamy consistency.
Hot crisp rolls, the salad and coffee, make a delightful luncheon menu for any occasion.

Deep Dish Oyster Pie
1 quart small count oysters, washed and drained
1-1/2 pound butter
1 cup boiling water and
1 cup boiling water and
1 cup thin cream
Salt and pepper to taste
Flour paste to thicken gravy
A quantity of rich pie crust.

A "small count" oyster, I mean an oyster that is just under the frying size.
Scald the oysters in a double boiler with hot water, crabs, butter, salt and pepper. Just as the edges of the oysters begin to rattle stir in four paste to thicken to consistency of heavy cream. Take oysters off fire immediately and pour into a deep dish lined with rich pie crust. Cover top with a blanket of pastry, or crisp-crust with pastry strips.

Take in a fast oven (450 degrees) for 20 minutes.

The bland flavor of oyster pie should be complemented by a vegetable rich in flavor and color. I suggest two of them:
Piled canned beets heated in a sweet-sour liquid, thickened with cornstarch very lightly. Taste and salt adjuster.
French carrots: Peel and slice thin 1/2 inch of young carrots. Put them in a heavy sauce pan with a spoonful of sugar, 2 crushed cloves of garlic, a tablespoon of olive oil and 1 tea-spoon hot water. Cover tightly and cook over a mere whisper of a fire until tender. Drain off oil and serve in a hot dish, carrots sprinkled with minced parsley.

"Humane Bits"

By FLORENCE A. ROBINSON

While walking out the other night Wag dog and I met a most interesting oldster. In the person of Pat, the eleven-year-old Boston bulldog of Mrs. and Mr. "Woody" Woods, of Greenleaf street.

Pat, who by the way was christened High Stepper of Massena, doesn't seem to have grown old gracefully as far as disposition is concerned, for his mistress had to grab at his leash to keep him from making a grab at Wag dog. But proper introduction to Wag dog regained his gentlemanly composure and decided that Wag was too nice a lady to get mad at.

Outside of his gray muzzle, Pat is as agile as any young sprout of a dog, and after he has a couple of teeth extracted this week he says he is going to show them all that it isn't how old you are, but how old you feel.

Pat's family is very proud and fond of him and Mistress Eva showed her innate love for animals when she nursed him through three months of serious illness a few years ago.

When Pat was just a young dog the family acquired a lovely golden Persian kitten, Genevieve, but Pat just wouldn't let "Sweet Genevieve" to the imposing feline, so she was given to Mrs. Alice Peterson, also of Greenleaf street. But years later when the Woods moved right next door to Mrs. Peterson, Pat greeted Genevieve as a long lost friend, for you see now she is the girl next door.

Pat celebrated his birthday by digging out of a boarding kennel in the extreme south part of town, walking home way north on Greenleaf then going back south to the home of relative after finding his beloved family gone on a vacation.

Canary birds seem to be Vera Backus's Nemesis. Remember a long time ago when she arrived late at a very swanky function, very perturbed both mentally and physically? And all the result of chasing down one of her canaries? Well, history repeated itself at the Backus ranch near Orange this week when Vera spent the entire day running down her whole aviary of canaries that had escaped. She only had three important dates on her calendar for that day but she sent none. And she talks of scratching dogs making her nervous!

There is just a word of advice to friends reporting inhumane acts to the Orange County Humane society. Mrs. A. P. Nelson, the president, has asked that anyone writing her or the society sign their complaints, as often times such correspondence has proven to be more backyard fight than ill use of animals.

Jimmie Fidler In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 14.—Settle Around (Twentieth Century-Fox): Every day, I receive letters from fans, complaining about the sameness of movies and today, touring this lot, it occurred to me that the sameness is easily explained. Every shooting script used in this studio must be okayed by Darryl Zanuck—originally a writer—and every one comes out of his hands bearing the distinct impress of his personal imagination, experience and tastes. He throws in the kind of comedy relief that he prefers, where he prefers to see it, and he changes each story situation to suit his own ideas. He is one of six such dictators in Hollywood—and those six men determine the public's screen menus.

Every studio has under contract an army of fine writers, brought to Hollywood because of their reputations for individuality. Once arrived in the studio, they learn that they must sacrifice individuality to the producer's pet formulae. At first they struggle—then they give in. After all, why rebel against a fate that pays $2500 a week?

As long as this condition exists, Twentieth Century-Fox pictures, to stick to our example, will be Darryl Zanuck pictures. They're usually good pictures, because Mr. Zanuck happens to know his business—but even excellence can become monotonous when it is always achieved by the same recipe.

They were shooting outdoor scenes for "Kentucky" and I found Loretta Young enthroned on the lap of David Niven. I stayed a full half hour and when I left Loretta still sat there, as comfortably as when I arrived. I suggested to a friend who was with me that perhaps he, too, might like the life of a movie star, if jobs like Mr. Niven's went with it. He shook his head dubiously. "It looks like nice work," he said, "but I've got a foot that goes to sleep at the most inopportune moments. Maybe I could not qualify."

Here's one reason why Alice Faye is so popular with the "little

"WHY CHANGE BIBLE?" ASKS S. A. PASTOR IN INTERVIEW

Referring to the New Testament: "Why change the Good Book? It has stood all these centuries as the greatest guidance and comfort of civilization and Christianity, and it should not be subjected to possible misinterpretation or confusion."

Jailed Again

So, declared the Rev. W. C. Parham, Santa Ana pastor of the Four Square Gospel church, when informed by The Register it had received a dispatch from London, Eng., telling of the publication of a new translation of the New Testament. The message said it would be in the form of a half-crown novel and is expected to cause a sensation in religious circles.

Many Changes Noted
It said the Rev. R. Mercer Wilson, general secretary of the Religious Tract Society, who is the translator, has made many striking changes in the text, and some of the interpretations.

In one instance, concerning the passage in St. Luke XVIII, "It is easier for a camel to go through a needle's eye than for a rich man to enter into the Kingdom of God," the new book says:

"This becomes in our modern version, 'It is easier for a rope to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter the Kingdom of God.'"

"Just Why Change?"
Referring to this interpretation, the Rev. Parham said: "Why change the word 'camel' to 'rope' or to any other word? As a matter of fact, the accepted interpretation of this passage was based on the custom of persons bringing loaded camels to the gates of Jerusalem. Those who arrived after the great gates had closed were forced first to unload the camel before the animals could enter into the smaller openings in the huge gates of the city. The fact that the camel was forced to lose the load was then used as a basis that the animal corresponded to the plight of the rich man whose wealth could not accompany him through the gates of Heaven."

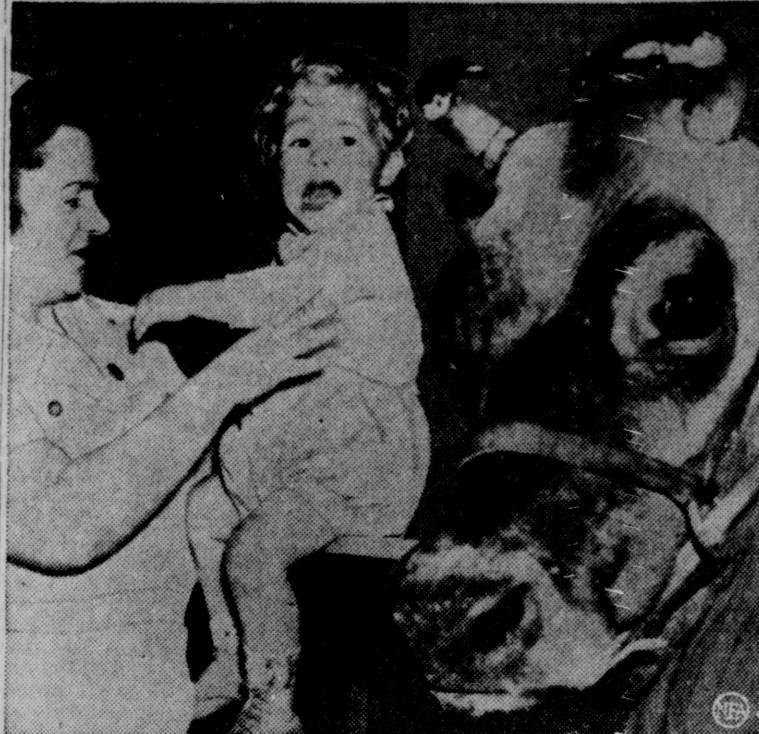

Ramirez, A.W.O.L. Still Sought After Plea In Orange

Agapito Ramirez, 50-year-old Upland resident, who once gave his address as Garden Grove and who took "French leave" after being arraigned in Orange city court recently on charges of drunk driving and being drunk, was still a fugitive from justice.

After Ramirez, booked first at county jail as Argeopeto Amiez at 3:15 a. m. Monday, pleaded guilty before City Judge Frank E. Hallman of Orange, the judge released him on his own recognizance so that he might arrange his affairs before beginning a 75-day term in jail or paying a $150 fine.

Ramirez, however, promptly disappeared and has not been seen by officials since. Sacramento records indicate Ramirez has been arrested in Orange county four times previously for being drunk and drunk driving. He is thought to be driving a small roadster with license 6-T-2918.

Johnny Likes Hi's Moo In Bottles

Accustomed to pasteurized relations with cows Johnny Williams set up a howl when introduced to Sybil Tessie Lorna, world champion jersey, at Portland, Lorna, owned by L. A. Hurlburt of Independence, Ore., recently set a world record of producing 1020.5 pounds of butterfat in 10 months.

FUTURE FARMERS WIN TOTAL OF $347 IN FAIR EXHIBITS

Orange county groups are richer by $347.75 as the result of outstanding work during the past summer by members of the Future Farmers of Orange county.

The money represents the total of prizes won by 20 different contestants in the Pomona Fair.

Four Chapters Compete
Four chapters in the county competed at Pomona this year, the newly formed Anaheim group having decided not to enter. The schools and their instructors are: San Juan Capistrano, Glenn A. Moody; Valencia school at Placentia, A. G. Stephens; Newport Harbor, Horace Parker; and Garden Grove, Les Waigh.

From Capistrano the following boys were prize winners: Eldon Ard, $2.50; Roy Ard, $3.50; John McMullin, $5; and the Chapter as a whole, $35.

Others In Contests
Valencia high boys who carried off prize money included: L. Richards, $11; L. Lempe Jr., $54; Stan Dandeputte, $16; and George Dodds, $35. Lewis Richards won a silver medal and the chapter won $10.

At Garden Grove the chapter won $24.50 and the following boys took prize money: William Kobayashi, $30; J. D. Hamilton, $23; Dick Hunt, $15; Oscar McIntosh, $8; Ted Bartell, $1; T. Maritoku, $1; and Jim Yoshida, $50.

Winners from Newport Harbor high included: Arthur Gibson, $30; Bob Winterbourne, $10; M. Honda, $50; Charles Verich, $1; and Arnold Christen, $6.25. The chapter won $25.

At one time the Federal Trade Commission issued a complaint against a Rhode Island yarn manufacturer for using the name "Angora" to describe yarns made entirely of Angora goat hair. The commission held that "Angora" applied only to rabbit hair.

YOUTH IN ROW GETS HEARING

Dale Roberts, 23-year-old Fullerton man, who pleaded guilty to a charge of assaulting Dean Edwin T. Martin of Pomona junior college following last Friday night's football game at Pomona between Pomona and Fullerton jaycees, asked for probation when he appeared before Justice U. E. White of Pomona for sentence. He appeared with his attorney.

The probation hearing was set for October 27 at 10 a. m. in the same court. The assault occurred outside of a college dance, Dean Martin receiving broken nose and cuts about the face in the melee.

Roberts, who was released on $100 bail, denied details of the dean's story.

Version of Meeting
Roberts, not a Fullerton jaycee student, said he accompanied a group of students to the dance but was refused admittance because he was not a student. "There was no serious argument up to this time," Roberts said. "I went down town to eat, then returned to the dance to await my companions to accompany them home. I met the dean in an underpass and had passed him when he called me back and abused me verbally. That started the argument which led to his injury."

It is an old custom in Sardinia to use dogs, cats, or other animals as witnesses in court. Testimony is considered true if one of the animals hears it without sign of dissent.

Films Of Idaho Entertain Club

A motion picture program that presented the summer and winter phases of sports at Sun Valley, Ida., called "America's last frontier," was shown at the regular meeting of the Santa Ana Lions club yesterday at the Masonic temple.

Pictures featured the various "jumps" and "runs" on the ski trails and the types of game fish available. The picture was presented by E. K. Hill, public relations agent for the Union Pacific railway.

Former S. A. Girl In College Club

Helene Rowell, daughter of L. G. Rowell, 111 West Cypress, Redlands, formerly a resident of Santa Ana, was chosen yesterday to be a member of Spurs, national sophomore women's service club. Miss Rowell is a member of the second year class at the University of Redlands.

Recently she was pledged to Alpha Sigma Pi, one of the six social sororities on the campus. Students at the University of Redlands must complete one year's work before they are eligible to join any sorority.

Membership in Spurs is limited to the twenty most outstanding women in the freshman class.

Party Details Developed In Bronze Shades

With autumn's glowing russet, bronze and golden flowers at their command, Mrs. Clifton B. Steele and Mrs. Robert Mize wrought special beauty with the decorative theme applied to a duo of bridge luncheons given yesterday and Wednesday in the Steele home, 2301 North Park boulevard.

Several friends were aware of the brown and gold decorative scheme planned by the hostesses, and sent flowers that blended perfectly. These blossoms included dahlias, zinnias and chrysanthemums, now at their peak of autumnal beauty, and were gifts from Mrs. Orlyn Robertson, Mrs. Allan Vaughn Elston, Mrs. Fred Newcomb and Mrs. Loren Moore.

Tables arranged for serving luncheon in advance of contract play, presented charming flower studies, with which the placards harmonized. Even the tempting menu emphasized the color scheme. At the close of the afternoon's bridge play, gift packages added their accent with ribbons and tissues.

High Scores

At the initial party Wednesday, prize-winning scores were made by Mrs. A. W. Ruten and Mrs. Howard Rapp. Yesterday afternoon their good fortune was duplicated by Mrs. Lawrence Bemis and Mrs. Loren Moore.

Mrs. Steele and Mrs. Mize received each afternoon in graceful formal gowns of black. Their guest list for the double hospitality included Mrs. Edward Backs, Placencia; Mrs. Howard Heister, Laguna Beach; Mrs. J. Frank Burke, Los Angeles; Miss Edith Stone of Bedford, Va., now visiting her sister, Mrs. W. Bradford Hellis; Mrs. Lewis F. Moulton, El Toro; the Misses Gertrude Hellis, Louise Montgomery and Gertrude Montgomery.

Mesdames Richard Couden, Cotton Hahn, A. W. Ruten, David Terhune, Allan Vaughn Elston, W. E. Chastain, Kenneth Sutherland, John Sutherland, J. E. Paul, J. S. Smart, Theo Winbiger, Ernest Winbiger, Leonard G. Swales, Irwin F. Landis, Elmer Barr Burns, Lewis Moulton, H. T. Dunning, Robert G. Tuthill, Harry Spencer, A. Bartelson, R. C. Harris, D. K. Hammond, F. G. Hoxie, Harry G. Huffman.

Mesdames Tarver Montgomery, Robert Bartholomew, Ellie Diehl, Fred Earel, Orlyn Robertson, Milo K. Tedstrom, Fred Newcomb, George Briggs, Felton Browning, W. H. Wright, Roy Hall, W. B. Helms, Hugh Plimber, R. C. Holles, Clarence Holles, Fred Story Arthur, Loyal King, Charles Bressler, Don Mosley, Hugh Lowe, Paul Ragan, Stanley Reinhaus, Newell Moore, Carter Lane, W. W. Woods, Loren Moore, Rex Kennedy, Anton Segstrom.

Mesdames Charles Swanner, Harry Weaver, Hubert B. Nath, Harold Nelson, Howard Rapp, E. A. Tiernan, William Stauffer, Edwin T. McFadden, Stanley Reinhaus, John Backus, Wilbur Barr, Henry Williams, Lawrence Bemis, Cassius Paul, Harvey Gardner, Emil Wagner, Arthur Smith.

Bridal Shower Honoree Receives Gift Of Silver

Entertaining Wednesday evening in her home on South Birch street, Mrs. J. A. Dowling added another charming bride event to the series complimenting Mrs. Leslie N. Pollard, the former Miss Martha Dowling. The honoree is a daughter of Mr. Dowling.

The quantities of flowers brightening the room were from the Jasper Farney gardens. Mrs. Pollard was showered with a variety of lovely and useful gifts for her new home. Of special interest was presentation to her of a set of sterling silver, a gift from Mr. and Mrs. Dowling.

Delicate pink blossoms adorned the dining room table where bride cake iced in pink and white Kad cake of interest. Cut by the bride, the pretty confection was served with other dainties.

Included in the group with the hostess, Mrs. Dowling, and her honor guest, Mrs. Pollard, were Mrs. W. J. Pollard, Tustin; Mrs. Mae Anderson and Miss Ella Josephson, Long Beach; Mrs. C. A. Morris, Pasadena; Mesdames Ray Elzlg, H. J. Finnegan, Elsie Blake, Jasper Farney, Wendell Burroughs, C. L. Watkins; the Misses Kay Blake, Hattie Belle Wall, Bernice Taylor, Evelyn Stutz, Thelma Finnegan and Vera Mae Watkins, Santa Ana.

Sister Hostesses Give Pleasant Party for Newlyweds

It was an intimate group of relatives and close family friends that assembled Wednesday night in the Wallace O'Brien home, 1419 West First street, where Mrs. O'Brien and Mrs. Starr Ozment complimented their brother and his bride, Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Mahaffey, with a post-nuptial shower.

The party also afforded opportunity for the new Mrs. Mahaffey to become acquainted with these new Santa Ana relatives and friends. For as Miss Esther Newhouse, she arrived only a fortnight ago from her home in Honey Grove, Texas, to become the bride of Mr. Mahaffey at rites occurring on October 7.

The sister hostesses used quantities of zinnias in developing a pink and white decorative effect. Over the lace-spread dining room table they had suspended a gay pink umbrella, its ribbons leading to the gift packages heaped below. The new Mr. and Mrs. Mahaffey had the pleasure of opening these packages, which held miscellaneous gifts for their home on West Fourth street.

A merry feature of the evening was a poem dedicated to the bride and bridegroom, with each guest contributing a stanza. To conclude their hospitality, Mrs. Ozment and Mrs. O'Brien served fruit punch and pink and white cookies, with the colors and shower motif adding a decorative note to napkins and nut cups.

In the group with the honor guest were Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien and small son Ronald, Mr. and Mrs. Ozment and little daughter Edna; Mrs. Della Mahaffey, mother of the bridegroom; Mrs. Pearl Pea, Mrs. Mary O'Brien, Messrs. and Mesdames T. F. Crawford, Everett Hurd and W. E. Rumsower.

Junior Ebbel society members interested in forming a Sports section are called to a meeting to be held Monday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock in the home of the curator, Mrs. Walter Bacon, 1006 North Lowell street.

Legion Auxiliary drill team will give a benefit dance Saturday night at 9:30 o'clock in Garden Grove Legion hall. This will be an informal affair. On the committee in charge will be Geneva Welch, Alice Dodder, Fay Burnett and Edith Bouldin.

Harmony Bridge club will meet Tuesday at 12:30 p. m. for luncheon at the Rossmore. Hostesses will be Mesdames Helen Aubin and Emma Rose.

Ebbel Drama section members will resume meetings next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the home of Mrs. L. L. Beeman, 910 French street, with Mrs. Hugh Gerrard as co-hostess. Mrs. Lyle Forman will review the play "Our Town" and Mrs. Harold W. Low will give a reading. All Ebbel members interested in drama are invited to attend. Meetings of the group ordinarily are held the third Monday of the month, but will come on Tuesday this time so that members may attend the Pinza concert Monday evening.

Woman's club Homecraft section will meet Wednesday at 1 p. m. in the home of Mrs. W. L. Harbert, 1908 South Main street for luncheon. The group will continue to the Greenleaf building for instruction in handicraft.

Musical Arts club will have the first of its season's luncheon meetings and programs Tuesday at 12:15 o'clock at Danlers. The Rev. Robert Burns McAulay of Orange will be guest speaker, and will tell of his recent European trip. Miss Dorothy Flintman's solos will provide the musical features. Reservations must be made through Marie Stanton Eyerly, 1630 W. or will be served.

Interesting Display Is Feature of Program

"Chinese Antique Textiles" were discussed and displayed by Mrs. Cecil P. Reichel of Pasadena and Laguna Beach Wednesday afternoon at a meeting of Ebbel Antique section in the home of Mrs. F. A. Burkett, 2311 Santiago avenue.

The speaker, who maintains a shop in the two cities mentioned, brought a number of her treasures for display. She explained the meaning of various symbols used in Chinese embroidery.

Mrs. Loyal King, leader and Mrs. Hugh Lowe, retiring leader, poured tea during a pleasant interval which climaxed the afternoon. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Burkett, Mrs. Robert Speed, Mrs. H. R. Brinkerhoff and Dr. Margaret Baker.

On their next meeting day, November 5, members will go to Hollywood in Los Angeles for a talk on "Antique American Furnishings." Also, they will visit Dawson's Book shop.

Travel Idea Dominates A.A.U.W. Opening Dinner Event

Opening their activities for the season, members of Orange County Branch A. A. U. W. met last night in the Y. W. rooms for dinner and a program highlighted by Mrs. A. A. Knipe's talk on her summer tour of Europe. Miss Anna Trythall was in charge of the program.

Mrs. Knipe described the bicycle trip which she and members of her party took through England at the close of their tour of the continent. The party of five, with "cycles, sleeping bags and memberships for youth hostels, began their trip from Southampton, going through Sussex Downs, in Canterbury, they were quartered next to the famous French Huguenot Weavers hall. Her humorous presentation of her experiences was delighted and very enlightening as to these youth hostels.

Furthering the travel theme, John Harrison showed three reels of colored motion pictures of Rome, the Riviera and other scenic spots. Concluding the program, Mrs. Bogs, new minister of music at First Methodist church, sang "The Big Bass Viol" and "On the Shore," accompanied by Mrs. Bogart.

The program followed dinner served at tables appointed with blue glassware and decorated with wild peace. Miss Mabel Whiting announced the state regional conference to be held October 22 in Santa Monica. The event will open at 10 a. m. and close with a luncheon at which Mrs. Frederick Faulkner, state fellowship chairman, and Mrs. Malbone Graham, South Pacific chairman of International Relations, will be speakers. Those planning to attend are asked to make reservations with Miss Whiting.

THE ADAMSONS LEAVE

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Adamson, 1017 North Ross street, left for Seattle, Wash., where they plan to make an extended stay with relatives including Mrs. Adamson's brothers and sisters-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Brooks and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Brooks.

An intimate family group assembled Wednesday night in the Adamson home for a farewell dinner. Present with the honored pair were a son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Adamson, jr., of Oceanside, and a son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick McMillan and daughters, Kitty Jean and Joan of this city.

The McMillans are residing in the Adamson home during the couple's absence. While in the north, Mr. and Mrs. Adamson plan to go to Vancouver, B. C., to spend some time with friends, returning home in three months' time.

Job's Daughters

Santa Ana Bethel Job's Daughters meeting Wednesday evening in Masonic temple was presided by a baked ham dinner which Mothers Circle gave to raise funds for the Bethel's recreation hall at Forest Home.

Many guests joined the Daughters and Circle members for 6:30 o'clock dinner, served under supervision of Mrs. Guy Christian and her committee.

After-dinner entertainment presented by Visel-Haughton studios included songs by Miss Marjorie Ball; dances by Miss Lorle Buell and Miss Aletha Dahl; readings by Miss Alice McKee, Mrs. Amy Buell and the piano.

During their meeting in charge of Honored Queen Esther Belle Christian, Job's Daughters made plans for a skating party to be held Wednesday at 7 p. m. at Valencia skating rink.

Mrs. Jay C. Hamill, 3082 W. The program has been planned in furtherance of a reciprocity idea to acquaint county musicians with the club, and to acquaint the club with the work of various county figures, it was said.

Damascus White Shrine will hold a ceremonial tonight at 8 o'clock in Masonic temple. Refreshments will be served.

After-Concert Party Follows Pinza Program

Approximating the opening of the grand opera season in metropolitan communities, the Santa Ana's winter concert season, when Ezio Pinza, famous Italian basso of the Metropolitan Opera company, will present the first featured program of the Behrmer-Wilson Artist series, in the high school auditorium.

Two years ago when Musical Arts club was sponsor of this community's first art course in several years, the plan was introduced of complementing distinguished artists at little suppers after the program. This plan met with popular approval, and as interest in the concerts grew, a similar interest in social phases kept pace.

The main dining room at Danlers in the Santora building on North Broadway, has been scene of these affairs, but even the accommodations there will be taxed by next Monday night's after-concert party. It has been found absolutely necessary to make these reservations in advance, and they have been pouring in for the approaching event in such manner as to prove beyond question, the popularity of the plan to invest these concerts with a touch of formality.

Formal invitation to the guest artist, Ezio Pinza, extended by Mrs. Thomas H. Willis, president of Musical Arts club, and his acceptance came immediately. Mrs. Willis, as hostess on this occasion, will be in charge of the usual brief program, consisting in the main, of community singing and introductions of distinguished guests. Assisting her will be various club officers and concert committees, including Mrs. Jay C. Hamill, social chairman of Musical Arts; Charles Pritchard, chairman of the Citizens' committee, and others.

L. E. Behrmer, well known Los Angeles impresario, has accepted invitation to be present, as has Mrs. Babcock Burns, who spent many weeks in Orange county last spring, aiding in putting the concert series plans into effect.

With this affair to climax the evening, many patrons are planning small dinner parties in advance of the program. Because this plan will be maintained throughout the winter, the series will have the additional glamour and excitement that functions calling for formal dress, seem to exert. Not that formal dress is obligatory among the patrons by any means, but there will be many in the audience who will recognize the importance of the occasion by their attire.

Leaders of New Ebbel Group Receive In West Home

Mrs. Edmund West and Mrs. J. Russell Wilson, leader and assistant leader of a newly-formed Ebbel section received the group Wednesday afternoon in Mrs. West's charming home, 2025 North Flower street.

Mrs. Robert Northcross gave a review of "With Malice Toward Some," by Margaret Halsey as the program feature of the afternoon.

Although the section had held its formal organization meeting previously, part of Wednesday's affair was given over to business matters. It was decided to extend the membership of the section to 25 instead of 20 members, with Mrs. Charles A. Dodge, Mrs. Walter Bacon and Mrs. Charles McDaniel Jr. as the newest additions to the group.

Other members are Mrs. E. J. Hanna, secretary-treasurer, and Mesdames Floyd Croddy, Harold Dale, Edgar Elstrom, Earl Hoistinton, Jr., Albert Harvey, Chester Horton, Bernard Parker, Russell Sullivan, Herbert Stroschein, James Truitt, Ray Tarr, Raymond Terry, Charles Webber, George Walker, Robert Wade, Edmund West, J. Russell Wilson, Arthur Wade and Miss Mary Safley.

Completing the group present Wednesday were Mrs. Northcross and Mrs. Wilson's mother, Mrs. E. C. Rowland.

The co-hostesses served refreshments at the close of the afternoon, using pompano dahlias in decorating. Plans were discussed for the next meeting Wednesday, November 9 in the home of Mrs. Ray Tarr, 2112 North Ross street, with Mrs. Truitt as co-hostess. Mrs. Robert Wade and Mrs. Dale will be in charge of program arrangements.

Neighborhood Group Enjoys Dinner Event

Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Price received members of a neighborhood bridge club for an informal dinner party Tuesday evening in their home 921 Locust street.

Each couple in the group contributed to the dinner menu served from a prettily-arranged dining room table centered with autumn fruits. Dahlias, too were in the vivid tones of the season.

Sharing the evening with Dr. and Mrs. Price were Dr. F. W. Dean and Messrs. and Mesdames Albert Harvey, Floyd Hubbard, John McElroy, J. C. Coombs, W. H. Cahill, Earl Lepper and William Dennis.

November 12 To Bring St. Anne's League Dancing Party

Earlier affairs given by St. Anne's league were so successful that members are making plans for an autumn dance to be held Saturday night, November 12 at 9 o'clock at Santa Ana Country club.

Arrangements for the approaching event were furthered Tuesday evening when a committee meeting was held at the home of the general chairman, Mrs. P. A. Prager, 1101 South Birch street. Others present were Mesdames H. C. Walberg, Vincent Borchard, John Maring, and the Misses Estelle Schlessinger and Bernice Borchard.

Clarence Williams and his Knights of Swing will provide music for the November dance, which will be open to the public. St. Anne's League members will meet Sunday morning at 9:30 o'clock for breakfast at the Doris Kathryn. Those planning to attend are asked to make reservations.

Club Members Assemble In Fullerton Home

S. E. A. Women's club members assembled in Fullerton Wednesday afternoon for dessert and bridge play in the home of Mrs. H. C. Oliver, with Mrs. Olen K. Sutcliffe as co-hostess.

Autumn leaves and other seasonal appointments added to the charm of the affair. Winning prizes were Mrs. M. W. Ball, Mrs. P. G. Kilburn, Mrs. H. Hilgers, Mrs. Glenn Tramel and Mrs. M. E. Brown.

Present were Mesdames C. S. Lee, Falette Blower, K. H. Stewart, H. Hilgers, H. T. Menary, E. A. B. Smith, Sparks, G. W. Serr, M. E. Brown, P. G. Kilburn, H. E. W. Stokes, William Doyle, M. W. Ball and the two hostesses.

The next meeting will be held Wednesday, November 9 in the home of Mrs. Blower, 1585 Ocean boulevard, Balboa. Mrs. Tramel will assist in entertaining.

HOME FROM EAST

Returning yesterday from a 17 day trip east, Mrs. John Kirkland arrived at the family residence, 804 Hickory street to rejoin Mr. Kirkland just a few minutes ahead of their cousin, J. W. Kirkland of Denver, Colo. who is here for a visit.

Mrs. Kirkland traveled by streamline, going to Flat River, Farmington and St. Louis, Mo. In Flat River she was entertained by her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth K. Kirkland, by Mrs. T. A. Tolleson and Mr. and Mrs. John Hutchins. The Santa Ana visited with Mr. and Mrs. V. O. Shaw and Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Kirkland in Farmington. She spent some time in Camden, Mo. with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kirkland.

J. W. Kirkland, whose arrival in this city followed so closely that of Mrs. John Kirkland, plans to remain for several days.

Motion Picture Actor And His Bride To Reside Here

Several motion picture notables were among the guests present Friday, October 7, in Glendale for the wedding of Ruth Deane Rickaby, stage and radio actress, and Robert Strange, motion picture actor whose home is in Santa Ana.

The newly-married couple, who have been honeymooning at Coronado, Calif., and Ensenada, Mex., soon will be at home to their friends at El Rancho de Maria, Santa Ana. Because of the bridegroom's picture assignments, the wedding trip occupied but a few days' time.

The marriage of the young couple took place at 8:30 o'clock in the evening in Wee Kirk o' the Heather, with the Rev. Mr. Shaffer officiating. Mrs. Joseph Crehan was matron of honor and the bridegroom's brother, William C. Strange of this city was best man. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Crehan were hosts at a reception in their home on Laurel Terrace Drive, Hollywood.

In addition to Joseph Crehan, Warner Brothers player, other notables in the group were Mr. and Mrs. Pat O'Brien, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Jenkins, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gleckler, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hicks, Humphrey Bogart and Busby Berkeley.

Other guests were Miss May Beaty, former English star of the stage, and a grand niece of the late Admiral Beatty; Miss Menifer Johnston, Robert Strange's motion picture representative; Harold Kinney and John Irving of Glendale, who were ushers; Mr. and Mrs. Whitney Seibert of San Francisco; Miss Elizabeth Paine, Santa Ana.

Stitch 'N Chatter Club Resumes Events

For their opening event of the year, members of Stich 'N Chatter club were assembled recently in the home of Mrs. Lila Ackors, 1215 North Ross street.

In addition to a large group of members, several guests were in attendance for an afternoon of sewing. Refreshments were served on individual trays.

Members were invited to the home of Mrs. W. W. Adamson, 1017 North Ross street, for a Halloween party next Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Adamson's daughter, Mrs. Frederick McMillan, will be hostess.

Wedding Date Celebrated By G. A. R. Leader

To Comrade George D. Campbell, commander of Sedgwick Post, G. A. R., and Mrs. Campbell, chaplain of Sedgwick W. R. C., have been expressed good wishes of a host of friends who this week learned that Sunday, October 9, represented the 59th anniversary of their wedding day.

Commander and Mrs. Campbell had planned no special recognition of the date, as they are both anticipating a gala celebration of the sixtieth anniversary in a twelve-month. So they are intending to spend the day quietly at their home, 808 Garfield street.

But their daughter, Mrs. Roy Vincent of Laguna Beach, felt that the date was too important to be passed over so lightly, so she planned a family party in her home on El Camino del Mar in Our Village. She served a delicious three-course dinner in compliment to her parents, with a wedding cake and other details suggesting the anniversary.

In the guest group with Mr. and Mrs. Campbell, the hosts had Mr. Vincent's mother, Mrs. Hattie Vincent of this city, their own son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Vincent, and the Carl Campbells of Fullerton, son and daughter-in-law of the celebrants, and also the latter's youngest daughter, Mrs. Violet Campbell Plavan of Laguna Beach, with her two daughters, Marilyn and Lucille.

It was in Elk Point, South Dakota, on October 9, 1879, that Miss Margaret McClary became the bride of the Civil War veteran, Mr. Campbell was a member of Company M, Second Wisconsin Cavalry. The young couple lived in Nebraska for a number of years, but have made their home in Santa Ana for nearly thirty years. Both have been active in patriotic and civic circles, and at present are identified with the Foursquare church.

Amber Circle Benefit Card Party Comes Next Monday

Amber Circle members plan to take over Masonic temple Monday evening for a benefit party which will be in the nature of "stay-at-home" festivities for Eastern Stars not attending grand chapter opening Monday in Oakland.

However, the party will be open to everyone, with a nominal sum to be charged for admittance. Mrs. John Miller, president of Amber Circle, is in general charge of arrangements.

There will be table prizes in auction and contract bridge and in pinole, with door prizes in addition. Refreshments will be served by Miss Edith Snow and her committee at the close of card games. Mrs. Charles Mitchell is chairman of cards and Mrs. Neal Beisel, prizes.

A party on the night when a regular meeting of Hermosa chapter would fall during grand chapter time has come to be an annual event, it was announced. Attending from Hermosa will be Helen Lurker and Clare Seaver, matron and associate matron of the chapter.

Lambda Club Husbands Are Dinner Guests

Hallowe'en festivities added to the enjoyment of a dinner party for which members of Lambda club were joined by their husbands Wednesday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Lampman, 211 North Clementine street, Anaheim.

Each couple contributed to the menu, served at a table strewn with autumn leaves and centered with a large pumpkin. Suspended from the dining room chandelier were balloons and confetti. Poppers at each place included gala hats and fortunes.

Hallowe'en candies were served during the evening while Chinese checkers were played. Mrs. George Daws and Carroll Ault won prizes for their high scores, while Mrs. Carl Lykke and Mr. Daws were consoled.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. Daws, Mr. and Mrs. Lampman, Anaheim; Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Ault and Mr. and Mrs. Lykke, Santa Ana.

Still carefully preserved in England are phonograph recordings of the voices of Queen Victoria, Gladstone, Disraeli, Elizabeth Browning, and Florence Nightingale.

TWO FROM A NEW BASIC DESIGN
PATTERN 4960
BY ANNE ADAMS

Behold some exciting new "Pattern Magic" by Anne Adams—a dress and a housecoat easily made from the same pattern! Need we tell you that this silhouette is the newest ever—a gathered top with a slim-hipped, gently flaring skirt? The button-front panel is another feature, as popular as it is slenderizing. Observe the charming swirl of movement there is below the knees in the house coat version. And consider whether to have the collar a demure Peter Pan design or the equally gracious "notched" type. Brilliantly patterned cotton is ideal for a short sleeve lounge robe, and flannel for a cold-weather style with short sleeves. The frock has youthful chic in any fabric!

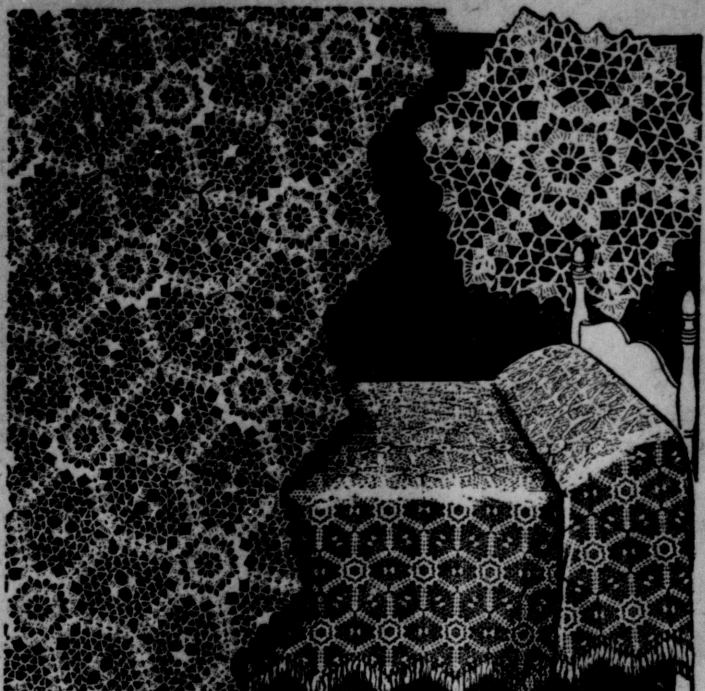

Pattern 4960 is available in junior and misses' sizes 10, 12, 14, 16 and 18. Size 14 takes 4-5-8 yards 36 inch fabric.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE

When Miss Mary Holmes Wednesday night agreed with the suggestion of her grandfather, E. M. Hulet, that she drive him out in the country on a short business engagement, she didn't realize that she was lending herself to a birthday surprise plot. But in her absence, young people of the Vulture Car club of the high school senior class, met in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Max C. Holmes, 1642 East Fourth street, for a gala birthday party in her honor.

Some 20 young people formed the merry group, and after Miss Holmes recovered from the surprise dancing and informal games were enjoyed. Among her birthday gifts was a pretty flower corsage from Jerry Buzick, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Buzick, stopped for a little while to join Mr. and Mrs. Holmes in the enjoyment of the lively affair. Mrs. Holmes served birthday cake, ice cream and punch to complete a happy evening.

Ebell Group Resumes Meetings; Hears Talk on "Vitamines"

Speaking on "Vitamines", Carl Renborg gave an informative talk Wednesday night at Ebell Child Study section's opening event of the season in the home of Mrs. Charles McDaniel Jr., 2446 North Park Boulevard.

Hostesses were Mrs. McDaniel, Mrs. Kenneth Conner and Mrs. Raymond Harvey. They served dessert in advance of a business meeting conducted by Mrs. Conner, leader. Other officers this year are Mrs. John Ebersole, secretary-treasurer and Mrs. Harvey, program chairman.

Present with the three hostesses were Mesdames Ralph Watson, John Ebersole, Gordon X. Richmond, Thoburn White, Roscoe Conklin, Chester Horton, Bruce Anderson, Adrian Marks, James Merigold, Milo K. Tedstrom, Kenneth Ranney, Hans Wahlberg, William Croddy, Lynn Crawford.

Next meeting will be held November 9 at 7:30 p. m. in the home of Mrs. Conklin, 2457 Heliotrope Drive, with Mesdames Chester Horton and Bruce Anderson as co-hostesses. January meeting of the section will be a covered-dish dinner honoring husbands of members.

Mrs. J. H. Pankey, Lemon Heights, had as a recent overnight guest, an old friend, Mrs. Wood Lyons of Fresno.

Tri-Y Girls Plan Hallowe'en Hay Ride

Completing plans for a Hallowe'en hay ride and for other events on the autumn calendar, members of Tri-Y Girl Reserves met Monday evening in the Y. W. C. A. rooms. Named on the refreshment committee for the approaching event were the Misses Maxine Thompson, Roberta Corcoran, Susan McPherson. Miss Mary Markel will select the route for the hay ride.

Miss Betty Neff led group singing, and Miss Majel Michel, devotionals. She heads a committee composed of the Misses Ruth Ames, Roberta Corcoran, Shirley Mattenson, Maxine Thompson and Eugenia Bond. They will plan devotionals for each meeting.

Miss Verna Belle Maroney reported on the First Aid group to be formed. Plans were made for the Girl Reserves to form a waitress group to serve for various school functions.

At the close of the evening, members played a game which led them to the dining room for a surprise celebration of the birthday of Miss Roberta Corcoran. She received a plaque as a gift of the group. Birthday cake and chocolate were served.

COMUS CLUB PARTY

Cards are out for the October party of Comus club, which will be held as usual in Orange Legion hall, on the evening of October 20. Dancing will begin at 9:30 o'clock. The evening's hosts will be Mr. and Mrs. Charles Givens, Dr. and Mrs. Perry Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Sackerson and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kug.

Flower names often vary in different localities. The yellow dog-tooth violet, for instance, is known in some places as yellow adder's tongue, trout lily, and fawn lily.

But he would be wrong.
The rarest air mail stamp, indeed, one of the top ranking stamps of all time is not the "red" but the "black" Honduras, the 2c on the dark blue stamp of the first issue surcharged in black (Cat. No. 416).
There are eight copies known to exist of the red surcharged stamp, all unused. Because they were known to have been purchased at the postoffice by the Scott Stamp & Paper Co., they were sold to the company at a price of 10c each. The company then sold them to the public at a price of 25c each. This is the only stamp known to have been sold at a profit.

Two issues One Day
It should be noted by all who get first day covers that in two cases that two stamps are to be issued the same day. Cover seekers in these cases must send each set of covers separate. Do not include the 18c and 20c covers together for the 21c and 22c together. Send in four separate mailings. This is the request of the U.S.P.O. department.
World's Rarest Airmail
Ask any well informed collector to name the world's rarest and most valuable air mail stamp and the chances are he would answer the five centavo light blue of 1925 surcharged in red "Aero Correo" (Cat. No. 4924).

DECIDE FATE OF PARKING MEASURE TONIGHT

CROWD DUE AT BEACH SESSION

LAGUNA BEACH, Oct. 14.—A large crowd is expected to attend tonight's meeting of the Laguna Beach city council, when the "no parking" ordinance comes up for discussion. The measure was introduced by Councilman Charles H. Jester at the October 6 meeting.

A special notice on the bulletin board at police headquarters, signed by Chief Gene B. Woods, and addressed to "all officers," instructs members of the force to inform citizens that Chief Woods is "opposed to such an ordinance."

At the October 6 meeting Jester stated that the ordinance was introduced by him "because the chief wanted it." In the light of the disavowal by Woods of any sponsorship for the ordinance, and in view of the healthy opposition already manifested towards the measure, which prohibits parking anywhere on Laguna's streets between 2 and 5 o'clock in the early morning hours, tonight's meeting is expected to decide the fate of the ordinance, one way or the other.

H. B. Lions' Head

Orange county's newest Lions club, the Huntington Beach organization, is headed by Fred Grable. He is production foreman for the Associated Oil company. An active year is planned by the group.

PRESBYTERIANS END SESSIONS

Annual sessions of the United Presbyterian church synod of California were closed late yesterday in the Santa Ana church, with Salinas designated as next year's meeting place.

One of the closing items of business to come before the synod, was the resignation of Dr. Ralph Atkinson, of Pasadena, as synod superintendent of missions in California, a post he has held for several years.

Resignation Accepted
After expressions of reluctance, the synod acceded to Dr. Atkinson's request and accepted his resignation. He also is moderator of the United Presbyterian General Assembly of the United States.

A commission of nine members was designated to select his successor as superintendent of missions in California, the General Assembly to confirm the selection at its meeting next July. John Henderson, of Santa Ana, was named a member of the commission.

Ivan Harper Is Elected By Group

Ivan Harper was elected president of the Garden Grove farm center at the regular meeting of the organization last night at the Garden Grove women's club house. Harper succeeds Walter Schmid.

Other officers elected at the meeting were: Robert Dozier, vice president; Leonard Burr, secretary; and A. D. Smiley, director.

In the program preceding the election, a discussion of various measures to appear on the November ballot was presented by the following men: A. D. Smiley, F. C. Latham, Charles Robertson, and C. J. Marks.

AUTUMN MODES

Party guests tomorrow of Ebell finance and Day Nursery committees, will be privileged to see a succession of intriguing frocks, suits and costumes selected from the smartest styles at the Rankin Drygoods store. Prominent members of Ebell society will model these outfits as a feature of the bridge party to be held in Ebell clubhouse.

Mrs. Hugh Shields of the finance committee, and Mrs. T. R. Trawick of Day Nursery committee, are receiving full co-operation from the clubwomen, and advance reservations indicate the wide interest aroused by these annual style reviews. Musical accompaniment to the revue will be provided by Rose Marie Flint (Mrs. Calvin Flint) violin, and Elza Mae Hoxsie, piano. The program is bridge at 2 o'clock, style revue at 3, and the tea hour to conclude the afternoon.

TIMMONS TO SPEAK

Ed Timmons, of Bellerflower, will be the speaker at a meeting of the California Retirement Annuity club at the home of Mrs. S. Kerr, 406 West Sixth street, at 7:30 p. m. today, according to Mrs. G. Stumpf, chairman.

GOAL SIGHTED IN CHEST DRIVE

Challenged with the opportunity to put the Community Chest "Over the Top" and achieve the full goal with just a little more work, volunteers in the campaign voted unanimously at their luncheon meeting today to carry on until Tuesday noon when campaign members are confident that success will be attained.

Today's meeting was scheduled as the last but instead it became the rallying point for a final attack to gain the objective of $33,830 for charity and welfare work for the coming year.

Need More Time

"The goal is definitely in sight but our workers have not had quite enough time to compare their assignments," Orlyn N. Robertson, general chairman, declared.

"We are going over the top again this year. Last year we reached the full goal and Santa Ana can do it again. Responses to the appeal have been generous and there are many people who have not been seen who will help to attain the goal."

Reports Urged

Workers were encouraged by the report of the full quota attained at additional public school units, public offices and business establishments as follows: schools, John Muir—Miss M. Alice Grimshaw, chairman; Spurgeon, Walter Egger, chairman; Juvenile Home, Otto Fischer, chairman; Adult Education, Mrs. Golden Weston; Public Offices and Business Establishments: Health Department, Dr. K. H. Sutherland; Auto Club of Southern California, Elmer Heidt; Santa Ana Lumber company, W. J. Tway, and Southern California Edison company, James Merigold.

Additions to the women's honor roll of 100 per cent quotas were: Mrs. L. W. Blodgett, Elizabeth Garlock, Mrs. Ed. F. Howard, Mrs. W. O. Conklin, Mrs. Catherine White, Bess C. Wood, and Mrs. Alan A. Revill.

Court Notes

Claiming that they have received nothing from the oil lease on their property at Huntington Beach, leased to the Olig Crude Oil company May 5, 1922, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence C. Smith, of Huntington Beach, today brought suit in superior court for an accounting of all profits from the 2½ acres since that time.

The suit named the United Oil Well Supply company, present holder of the lease, among the defendants, which included the Olig company, E. S. Brooks, former holder of the lease, and J. A. Smith. Attorneys Burke and Colwell, Santa Ana, represent the plaintiffs.

Superior Judge H. G. Ames late yesterday denied the appeal of Robert Kempen from Fullerton justice court, where Kempen had lost a suit for $199 against Mrs. Alma Tout. Judge Ames also decided the case in favor of Mrs. Tout. Kempen had sued on an assignment of the $199 claim from J. Tout, ex-husband of Mrs. Tout, claiming the amount was due under a 1922 property settlement between the Touts.

Albertina Espinoza was plaintiff against Fidencio Espinoza and to certain Orange county property, and to quiet title in favor of the plaintiff.

Charging cruelty, Mrs. Olive Mary Mitchell, of Doheny Park, today had instituted divorce proceedings in superior court against Harold E. Mitchell. The couple married at Santa Barbara August 5, 1925, and separated two days ago.

Mrs. Jean A. Barrett today petitioned superior court to terminate the joint tenancy interest of the late Ray W. Barrett in two parcels of property at Huntington Beach and one parcel at Torrance.

REPORTS SERIOUS INJURY

A brief telephone message from a Mrs. Gleason of Long Beach at noon today said an unidentified man riding a bicycle at Broadway and Coast highway, Sunset Beach, was seriously injured in a traffic mishap. Deputy Sheriff James Musick is investigating the report.

SAMISH LOSES IN TAX RECORD FIGHT

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Oct. 14.—(UP)—The third district court of appeal ruled today Arthur H. Samish, San Francisco lobbyist, must submit records of his income tax payments to the Sacramento county grand jury investigating asserted legislative corruption.

The court held the grand jury had jurisdiction and authority to investigate alleged lobbying and bribery of legislators and ruled that copies of Samish's income tax records were not privileged matter under federal or state law.

Denies Petition
The decision was a denial of Samish's petition for a writ of prohibition to keep his 1935, 1936 and 1937 income tax records privileged from examination before the jury. It also constituted sustenance of the demurrer filed by District Attorney Otis D. Babcock in behalf of the jurors.

Samish was called before the jury three months ago and testified to receiving more than $140,000 in fees from California business firms for public relations and lobbying work before the legislature. He produced bank records, personal books, business files and other data asked by Babcock but balked on exhibiting the tax copies.

Beauty and the beast! Yvonne Dionne hugs closely her first puppy, one of five red cocker spaniels presented to the famous quintuplets. The puppies are the quint's first pets. (Copyright, 1938, NEA Service, Inc.)

Now there's a puppy who's going to have a soft life! Yvonne feeds the shambling red puppy from one of the nursing bottles no longer needed at the nursery. Though he's getting a bit of a hauling around, it's easy to see the pup appreciates it, and his mate, though temporarily dislodged from the bottle, looks happy too.

First lessons in how to pick up two puppies at a time are being learned by Cecile, left, and that's a hard task even for a grownup. Yvonne has been more successful, and the deep content evident in the dog as he pushes his muzzle on to her shoulder is proof. No dogs were ever so thoroughly sprayed, scrubbed, dunked in disinfectant and generally de-gunned as the five 6-week-old cockers who came in a big basket to belong to the Dionne quintuplets. Within two minutes they had become an inseparable part of the household.

Jean Hersholt, a veteran movie actor, gives Marie practical instruction in how to hold a puppy, on his third visit to Dionneville to play his role of Dr. Luke in "Five of a Kind" the quint's latest movie, has become a favorite with the girls, but the new puppies stole the limelight even from him.

Julia Lathrop

Student Court Organizing
Lathrop student body court has always been one of the strongest organizations in the school, and at present a new court organization is being selected. Aubrey Glines will have charge this year.

The nomination committee met the first of the week for the purpose of nominating fellow pupils for the office of student body judge. Kenneth Crumley presided over the meeting in which candidates were interviewed and the nominations were made. The names of the following people will appear on the ballot for election Friday: Lenore Walker, Lorena Mashburn, Jean McWilliams, Bruce Mathews, Homer Chaney and Jack Musick.

Third Year English
Members of Mrs. Marguerite Hill's third year literature class are working to make their language more expressive. An editorial committee composed of Kathryn Stockton, Jeanne Walron, Claud Winkler, Jack and Bob Snyder meet from time to time to read and discuss the stories. The best are chosen and are being saved to form into a permanent book which will be made by the committee. Much interest and a genuine effort for the improvement of writing have resulted.

Decathlon Season
All boys are taking decathlon examinations after which speed ball will start. Speed ball always holds an important place in the series of decathlon events which are played off between classes.

Clothing Class Progress
All clothing classes, under the direction of Miss Henrietta Foster, are well under way in their various projects. The ninth grade girls are making slacks and blouses or kindred garments. Each girl selected her own pattern and material after studying her own individual needs and style.

Students Attend Demonstration
The majority of science students from Mrs. Ruth Archer's and Ferris Scott's classes attended the demonstration of radium last Tuesday evening, and found the experiments interesting and worthwhile.

First Year Group Victorious
Seventh grade members of Miss Eunice Adams' home room class won the contest offered by the Lathrop P. T. A. in their annual membership drive and have been awarded a special treat in the cafeteria. The contest in form of a football game attracted a great deal of attention and interest during the two weeks of the special drive. Miss Hazel Thrasher's home room class came in second place and were given a special treat also. Other classes receiving congratulations for outstanding progress are the home room sections of Mrs. Marguerite Hill, Miss Mary Henderson,

Funeral Pyre Is Signal to Rescue Ship

The plume of black smoke seen funneling up off the horizon in the photo above is from the burning cargo of the oil tanker E. J. Bullock after she blew up and sank in the Gulf of Mexico, 93 miles off Key West, Fla. It was at once a funeral pyre for the three members of the crew killed and a distress signal which brought another oil ship, the O. M. Bernuth, in time to rescue the remaining 34 members. At right they board the Bernuth safely and aid in transferring an injured shipmate, seen on the stretcher, from the lifeboat.

Mrs. Grace Wolff, and Mrs. Marjorie Crumrine.

Social Science Forum
Last Tuesday the first forum of the ninth grade social science classes under the direction of Miss Florence Kline, Miss Leila Thrasher, Mrs. Louise Sanborn and Mrs. Frances Beeson assembled in the auditorium where their first group panel discussions were conducted. Members of Miss Kline's group had charge of the panel; Billy McPhee acting as chairman.

An entertaining and lively presentation and discussion of Ancient Egypt took place. The panel group presenting the subject included Richard MacFarlane, Rose Ann Griggs, Tommy Johnston, Virginia Michelson, Jean McWilliams and Jack Musick. The critic was Bruce Mathews, and judges were Roger Howell and Gloria Mideck. Miss Leila Thrasher's group will take charge of the next panel discussion on the subject of "Greece." Several outsiders enjoyed the very intelligent and interesting discussion this week.

Interesting Plans
During the first month of school the drama class, under the direction of Miss Edith Cornell, has been centering its study on stage department, technique, voice projection and emotion. Two one-act plays have been acted already, "The Famed Darling" and "The Mystery Mansion," the latter of which will be produced at the first community program to be held in our auditorium on the evening of October 27th.

There will be community evenings held the last Thursday of each month under the auspices of the fine arts department at which time programs will be presented by both parents and students free of charge.

Deputy Talks At P. T. A. Session

LAGUNA BEACH, Oct. 14.—"Marijuana, Our Local Narcotic Evil," was the subject of an address delivered Wednesday by Deputy Sheriff Russell R. Lutz of the bureau of identification, before the Laguna Beach elementary P. T. A. at its opening meeting of the present season.

That the danger is not imaginary was cited a recent case in Oceanside where a sheriff's raid, ordered from San Diego, resulted in the uncovering of a cache of the dangerous weed on public school grounds.

Mrs. Tom Murphree Jr., president of the P. T. A., was chairman of the meeting, following which tea was served, the members acting as hostesses. In keeping with established practice, small children were cared for under supervision, while their mothers attended the meeting.

Girl Scouts troop No. 1 of Laguna Beach opened the meeting with salute to the flag, accompanied by the pledge of allegiance.

Plan Oceanview P. T. A. Benefit

OCEANVIEW, Oct. 14.—Tentative plans for a P. T. A. benefit to be held in the near future were made by executive board members at the monthly board meeting held Wednesday in the home of Mrs. John Peterson, with Mrs. William Leedke as assistant hostess. A visiting committee composed of Mrs. T. B. Case, Mrs. J. R. Peterson and Mrs. W. Allen Young was appointed. Each member of the executive board was named to secure new P. T. A. members and to see that new mothers in the community got acquainted.

The lesson study was conducted by Mrs. J. W. McIntosh on the subject, "American Homes and Character Trend." Members present were Mesdames Howard Pamplin, Harry Letson, H. A. Erwin, J. W. McIntosh, M. A. Speer, Conrad Worthy, W. Allen Young, T. B. Case, Clarence Groves, C. H. Gaston, Raymond Reem, John Murdy Jr., Kenneth Baker, George Meinhardt, Ray McCormick, Mrs. Roscoe Bradbury was the guest of Mrs. Peterson and Mrs. Leedke.

MCKINLEY GROUP TO MEET OCT. 18

Meeting at the home of Mrs. Donna Ward in El Modena the McKinley school P. T. A. executive board gathered for a dessert course this week.

Hostesses at the delightful affair were Miss Mary Andrews, Miss Inez Hickman and Mrs. Ward. During the business session it was announced that the next regular meeting of the McKinley P. T. A. will be held in the school auditorium October 18 at 2:30 p. m. The theme of the meeting will be "Safeguarding the Personality of the Child."

Miss Kathryn Chapman's fourth grade pupils will entertain with a Halloween play, Miss Evangeline Stark's second grade students will be presented with a silver cup won in a recent membership drive. Miss Gertrude Potts' sixth grade mothers will be the hostesses. Executive board members present included Mesdames Dale Elliott, Norman Franklin, Albert Garthe, president, E. V. Carlton, Estlin Humphrey, H. H. Hildebrand, Lyman Sargent, William Kredel, W. P. Bass, J. A. Gajewski, Faber Bray, Floyd Mitchell, Cecil Wilson, Russell Long and the hostess, Mrs. Ward.

New Type Radio Introduced Here

Did you ever see a radio walking? Well, I did. Jack Boardman, manager of the Grand Central market, created something of a sensation yesterday afternoon when he walked up Sycamore street carrying one of those new fangled Mission Bell hand grip radios. As he walked the neat little gray colored portable radio, with hand-grip played a snappy jazz tune much to the amazement of people he passed on the sidewalk. The apparent phenomena was solved when Jack explained that the radio was powered by a 300 hour battery. He had just borrowed the set from the Taylor radio store in the Grand Central market and was out to have a little fun with his friends at The Register office.

CALIFORNIA DOGS WIN PEACE AND WAR AWARDS IN SCIENCE

Written and Authorized By The Orange County Medical Society

A nationally prominent life insurance company in a 1937 report states: "As the result of notable advances in liver therapy, pernicious anemia patients, under skilled medical care, may now look forward to a close-to-average expectation of life and physical well being."

Back of that definite statement is the history of a remarkable accomplishment in medical research, in which a number of California dogs and a San Francisco doctor participated as pioneers. Dr. George H. Whipple, for his part in the conquest of the formerly deadly disease, pernicious anemia, was awarded, jointly with Dr. Minot and Dr. Murphy, the 1934 Nobel Prize in Medicine. But the victory over pernicious anemia could not have been won without the help of the California dogs which were the subjects of Dr. Whipple's animal experimentation.

Important in California
The development of the "liver" treatment for pernicious anemia was especially important to Southern California, for this disease took its heaviest toll of elderly people. Owing to our mild climate, this section of the state has long been the refuge of men and women past the meridian of life. Now they need not fear that they will die of pernicious anemia. Thanks to the tireless work of the great San Francisco doctor among his California "dog patients," people with pernicious anemia live as long as those who are free from the disease.

Suppose the proposed new "pound law" had been passed before Dr. Whipple began his experiments. He would have been forbidden to use dogs as patients or subjects of tests. The "liver therapy" would not have been developed. Thousands upon thousands of men and women whose lives have been saved by it, would now be in their graves. Certainly it was a great benefit to California that Dr. Whipple conducted his humane experiments with dogs instead of having them killed by pound-keepers.

Tests of Remedies
More people die of heart disease nowadays than from any other cause. Are the doctors of California to be stopped from working on the problem of preventing and curing deadly heart disease? Unless they are able to make tests of remedies being tried on dogs and other animals, there will be no hope of reducing the present great numbers of deaths due to the various heart ailments. You may have a tendency to heart disease. Do you want doctors forbidden to experiment on solve that problem of saving human lives from war gas poisons, a remedy had to be developed which would be successful with dogs. That was accomplished, and now you and I can be protected against deadly chlorpiperin by effective gas masks. Dogs saved us from that terrible danger. Goats could not help the research scientists.

We have been through a world war scare in recent weeks. But a war is still raging directly across the Pacific. We have learned in the last few weeks how an "incident" may flare up into a blaze of war threats. None of us can be sure that enemy planes will never rain poison gases on California. But animal experimentation has made us safe from such death as 'of the sky by any gas yet developed. Who knows, however, when some chemist may concoct a new poison vapor against which present masks will not be effective? If such a hellish invention shall be made by some foreigner, and employed against us in war, shall we in California leave ourselves defenseless by stopping our own scientists from learning by experiments on vagrant dogs, how to protect ourselves and our families from horrible death by poison gas?

Covers Wide Scope

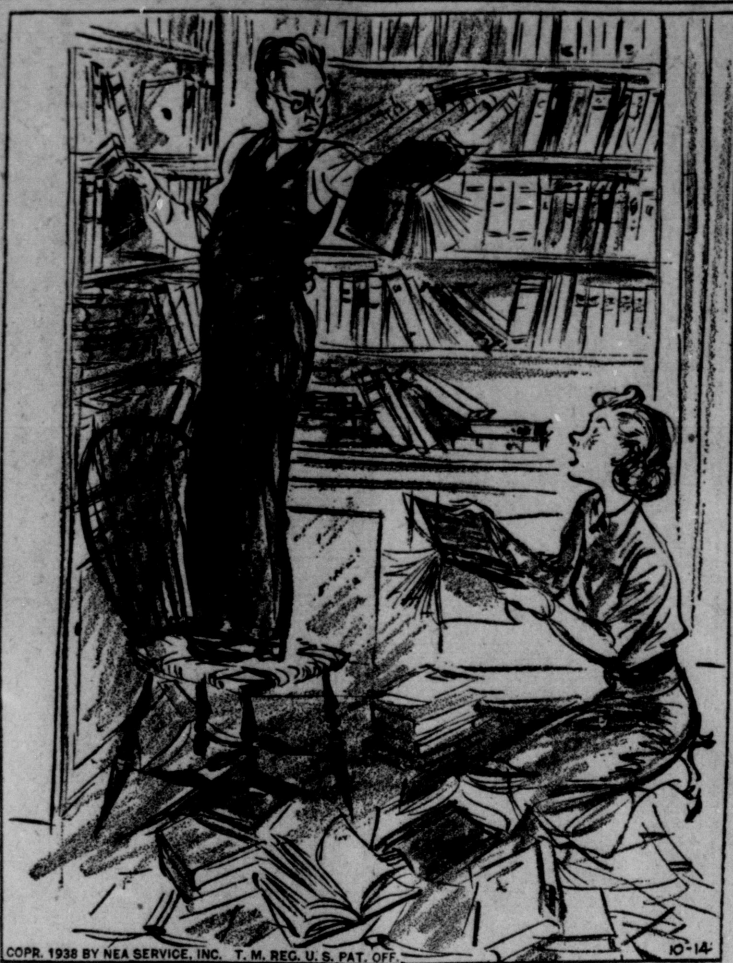

A majority "yes" vote on the proposed "Humane Pound Law" might leave all Californians helpless under enemy planes dropping poison gas shells near our homes. That proposed law requires that all vagrant dogs be put to death by pound keepers a few days after they are captured and locked up. The law would not even save the life of a single dog. Is there much "humanity" in that? Isn't it far more "humane" to save both humans and canines by continuing tests upon dogs in medical research laboratories where the animals are treated as considerably as if they were human patients?

Are you in favor of more deaths in California from pernicious anemia, heart disease, and scores of other deadly ailments? Do you favor taking chances that we never shall be exposed to war gases? Or do you want the doctors to go on working to help people to live longer in California? VOTE NO ON THE SO-CALLED HUMANE POUND LAW! Now you know what it would mean to you.

NEW WORSHIP SERIES BEGINS

Something new in the methods of conducting church services was started here this week by the Rev. E. L. Wade, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of America, who will combine Sunday school services with church services to be held beginning at 10:15 a. m. and ending promptly at 11:30. His sermons, he announced, always will be limited to 20 minutes.

To shorten services in the new church, established here this week as Santa Ana's 49th, and a denomination only two years old nationally, responsive reading and similar exercises will be abandoned as parts of the service.

Based on Doctrine

The church, established in June, 1936, by Dr. J. G. Machen "as a protest against modernism," is strongly fundamental and definitely pre-millennial based on the doctrine there will be a second coming of Christ before the millennium period as commonly thought of and when He comes He will reign 1000 years), the Rev. Mr. Wade said.

First service was held Sunday at the pastor's home, 918 North Flower street, but when the church grows, it will move to larger quarters in the northerly section of the city. The Rev. Mr. Wade, sent here by his board in Philadelphia, said he plans to establish the church in the northerly section with a view to offering close church facilities in the area north of 10th street, at present almost without churches. The pastor is a graduate of UCLA, took graduate work in theology at Westminster seminary, Philadelphia. For three years before joining the new church, he was a pastor in New York state.

RAY ORCHESTRA RETURNS

Jack Devine, manager of the Casino at San Clemente, brings back Floyd Ray and his all-star septian orchestra for a return engagement Saturday. The Ray orchestra was a sensation at the Casino two weeks ago on their initial appearance, and the dance lovers demanded a quick return of the music makers.

SOCIETY RUNS TO THE SEMI-FORMAL AT RACES

Silk a Good Bet for Daily Double

Here's Mrs. Al Davis, attractive young society matron, in a short-sleeved wool dress, sable neckpiece and a saucy little doll hat. The hat is simply a saucer-sized disc of felt trimmed with small feather pom-poms and held on by a ribbon bandeau at the back. Her gloves are classic pull-ons, and she carries a very large bag. The clip earrings are small gold leaves. Her coiffure is a compromise with the new up-swept mode—it's up in front, but down at the back.

Jean and Patricia Murray, smart set debutantes, went to the races at fashionable Belmont Park in identical dresses and somewhat similar hats. The dresses are of dark silk with sweetheart necklines finished with pleated organdy to match the edging on the short, slightly puffed sleeves.

Mrs. Angier Biddle Duke, the former Priscilla St. George, went to the races at Belmont in a trim black velvet suit, faintly reminiscent of the Edwardian era. Her hat is a shallow pillbox, trimmed with an ostrich plume. Her garb was typical of the semi-formal outfits that seemed preferred over casual sportswear. Notice the large handbag and the simple, step-in pumps. Also the fact that Mrs. Duke is another prominent member of society who hasn't put her hair up on top of her head.

Y. Official Talks At Class Meeting

WESTMINSTER, Oct. 14.—J. B. Wilbur, Y. M. C. A. secretary of Anaheim, who has charge of new organization work in Orange county, spoke on the general subject of "Boys' Organizations" Wednesday morning before the parent-education group of Westminster P. T. A.

Mrs. N. A. Nelson reported on "The Yearling," by Marjorie Kinnan Rawlings. "Problems of Parenthood during High School and Junior College Years" will be the special subject considered at the next meeting October 19 at the Presbyterian church. Parents and other adults are invited.

Attending were Mesdames Dell Radio, J. A. Walker, W. E. Mills, Ray Finley, N. A. Nelson, W. L. Knuch, Sid Miller, Chester Campbell, Wm. Pett, J. A. Houlihan, Walter Beckman, O. Bebermeyer, Ned Clinton, A. Gillispie, Thomas Albert, Bert Heath, B. B. Wise, Sam McNeill, W. P. Wright, Edna Hensen, A. B. Taves and Ruth Pritchard.

Inspection Work Told Lions Club

GARDEN GROVE, Oct. 14.—A. P. Messenger, in charge of plant quarantine inspection at Los Angeles harbor, gave a talk on work of inspection and importance of plant quarantine in relation to California agriculture at the meeting of Garden Grove Lions club in the woman's Civic clubhouse Wednesday noon.

Messenger stated that his department inspects approximately 9000 ships along the California coast each year. Of 10 million pests classified throughout the world, 6500 affect California agriculture, he said. Half of agriculture losses in California are due to foreign invasion of various kinds of pests, he said. The speaker was presented by Paul Andres, program chairman.

Short speeches were given by H. B. Terwilliger, of San Francisco, national director of the Red Cross and field representative for first aid and life saving; Dixon Tufts, of Santa Ana, county horticulture commissioner, and C. T. Johnson, mayor of San Bernardino, and Republican congressional candidate. Other visitors were Paul Barlen, of Brea; Doug. Dudley and Dahl Shearer, of Garden Grove.

SNOW FLAKE
Sodas are baked
—they make other foods so tempting

LUNCHES are "made" with tasty Snow Flakes. Dainty, appetizing, tantalizing, they make important dishes of soups and salads.

DINNERS demand a plate of tempting, oven-fresh Snow Flakes always on the table, for they step up appetite and point up the flavors of almost every dish in every course.

PARTIES perk up when you serve Snow Flakes with appetizers, tea, salads, or cheese. Their extra shortening makes them so delicate and flaky that they melt in your mouth.

SNACKS become feasts with Snow Flakes. At any hour, with anything, they are so satisfying, so wholesome, so easily digested.

Chilldquic Now Available In S. A.

Long served in hotels, restaurants, ice cream plants and institutions, Chilldquic merchandise now is available in 12-ounce and 16-ounce packages for Santa Ana housewives.

That was the revelation today as Harry L. Bradley, head of Bradley's Food center, Main and Washington streets, took over the distribution of Chilldquic products in Santa Ana. The Chilldquic products, including quick-frozen fruits, vegetables, fish, oysters, scallops and many other items, are trimmed, washed, cleaned and sorted, ready for the housewife to place in the pot, pan or toaster. "This merchandise amounts to a super-convenience for housewives," Bradley said today.

MOTHERSINGERS MEET

Election of officers was accomplished yesterday when Mothersingers held one of their interesting rehearsals in Lincoln school. Mrs. Lottie Elsner is the new director, and other officers are Rose Woodward, president; Florence Kinney, librarian; Thelma Reid, secretary-treasurer; Bessie Calhoun, social chairman, and Connie Chandler, publicity chairman.

Mrs. Elsner announced that she had set a membership goal of 75, which the club hopes to reach this year. It has been pointed out that membership in Mothersingers is open to all women of the P-T-A who are interested in singing. Meetings are to be held Wednesday afternoons at 2 o'clock in Lincoln school, the first rehearsal to come November 2.

Remarkable Student at Jaysee

Above is 14-year-old Herbert Sullivan of Newport Beach, who has registered at Santa Ana Junior College as a freshman—the first time he has attended any regular or private school in his life. With him in the photograph is Miss Mary Ann Low, one of his fellow-students.

CHILD GENIUS ENTERS JAYSEE FOR FIRST TIME IN SCHOOL

Santa Ana Junior college has a child genius! He's 14-year-old Herbert Sullivan of Newport Beach who has registered at the college as a freshman. The college is the first regular or private school that he has ever attended in his life.

All of young Sullivan's schooling has been through tutoring by his mother, Mrs. J. H. Sullivan, who holds a Ph. D. degree. Reason for entering regular school is, according to young Sullivan's mother, "to diversify his interests." Mrs. Sullivan revealed that she had heard of the outstanding teaching staff here and decided to enter Herbert in Jaysee.

Majoring in Sciences His work at the junior college is being taken in preparation to his entering Oxford university in England. He is majoring in science, hoping to be a mathematical physicist.

Although only 14, Sullivan has successfully passed the entrance examination to the California Institute of Technology. He also is the only person not a student who may check books out of the Cal Tech library.

Sullivan numbers among his many friends, eight of the world's greatest mathematicians with whom he corresponds regularly. He also is the personal friend of many famous Washington, D. C., legislators.

Library At Seven When Sullivan was seven years old, he was completely acquainted with the functioning of a library, and could locate material without assistance of any kind. At nine, he assisted his lawyer father in looking up material for his cases. He was at that time a practicing lawyer before the United States Supreme Court.

Although born in Washington, D. C., he has spent half of his life—seven years—in Europe where he mastered French and German. Reading is the main source of Sullivan's knowledge. He never studies in the sense that other students do. He merely reads books, or listens to lectures, and he has complete mastery of his subject.

Ed Barber Rites Set for Saturday

Ed Barber, 74, a resident of Orange since 1933, passed away at St. Joseph hospital early today. His home was on West Palmira avenue. Survivors are a son, Bronson Barber, of Laguna Beach, and a brother-in-law, George Shaffer, of Orange.

Woman Held In Marijuana Inquiry

Charged with being the source of supply for numerous marijuana users in Oceanside and vicinity, Mrs. Anceino Pendoza, 72-year-old, was arrested by federal officers and brought to Orange county jail last night.

The woman was held under $3500 bond. Deputy United States Marshal Frank Besser and Mrs. Besser brought her here for incarceration until her trial in San Diego. She could not furnish bond.

STUDEBAKER IN LOCAL DEBUT

The 1939 Studebaker, announced today by dealers throughout the country, comes to the public with particular emphasis on style, achieved through striking refinements in exterior lines and more luxurious interiors, while three major mechanical improvements of unusual interest have been made, according to Robert Mandic and William Steiner, local Studebaker dealers.

The new Studebaker will be offered in two lines with prices slightly lower than last year's models.

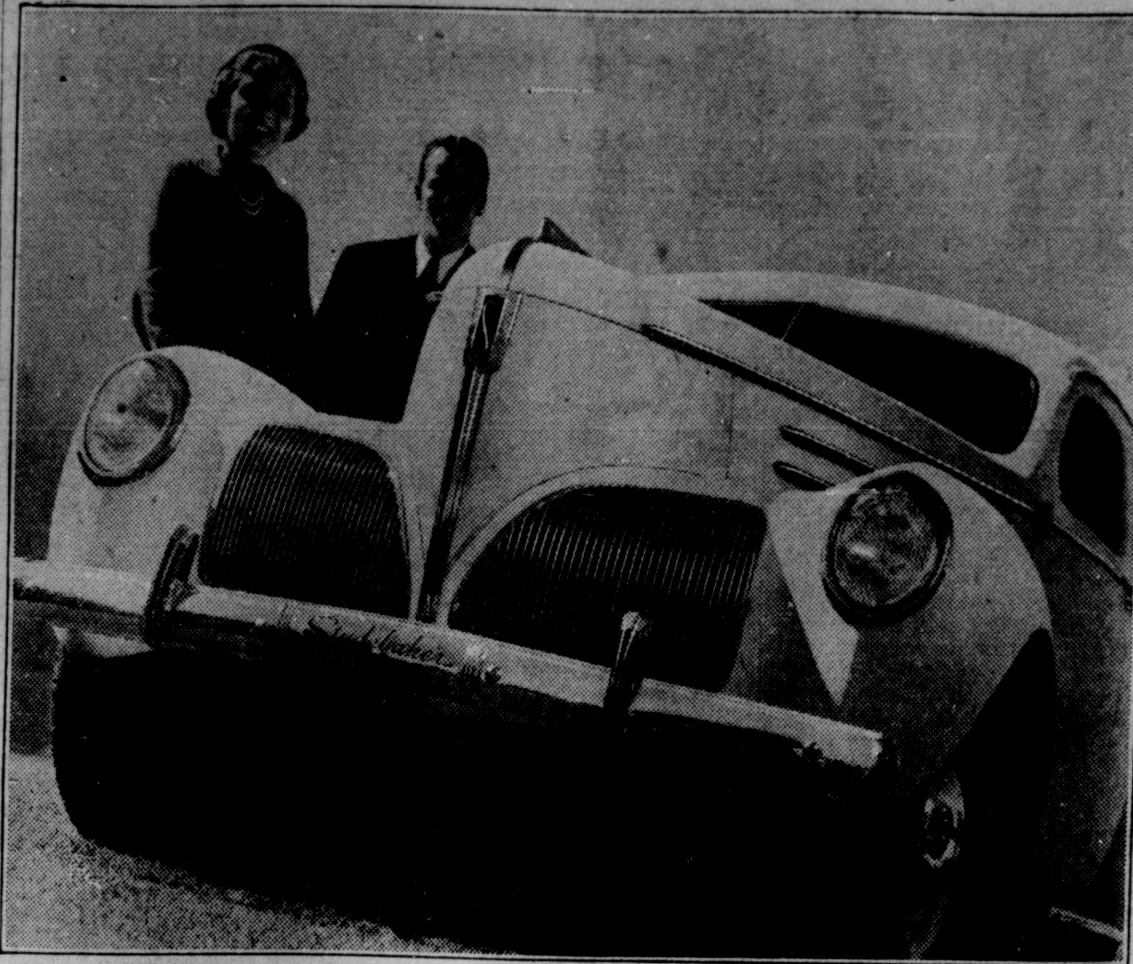

Efficient Styling

In appearance, Studebaker engineers worked with Raymond Loewy, famous industrial designer, and have brought efficiency and popular styling to a common ground. The Studebaker front suggests streamlined efficiency. Between the headlamps, embedded in the fenders, are chromium grids for the admittance of air to the efficient low-area cooling system and the metal between the hood and the fenders flows in symmetrical lines back to the widening body. Windshields are sharply slanted and wind-wings are set at an angle. Head lamps and tail lamps are set flush with fenders.

Solenoid Control

The three major mechanical advancements are the new type of overdrive, the new steering wheel gear shifting mechanism, and the heating and air treating system. The new overdrive with solenoid (electro-magnetic) control is pioneered by Studebaker. It eliminates the one objection to previous overdrives, namely, the necessity of slowing down in order to get from overdrive to direct drive. The automatic hill-holder — a great contribution to safety, ease of driving, especially when starting up inclines — and rotary door latches, exclusive with Studebaker for the past two years, are found again on the new models.

1939 Studebaker Has Motor Personality-Plus

Here is a head-on shot of the 1939 Studebaker President. Raymond Loewy, famed designer of airplanes, streamliners and steamships, worked with Studebaker engineers in the production of the new car, which was announced today to the public of Santa Ana by Robert Mandic and William Steiner, local Studebaker dealers.

OVERSIGHT CLEARED WAY FOR FARM BUREAU'S FIRST SESSION

An oversight in the weights and measures department of the Orange county courthouse more than 21 years ago was responsible for providing the Orange County Farm Bureau with its first meeting place.

This was the revelation today of J. A. Smiley, of Santa Ana, one of the founders of the local organization, as he recounted the early experiences in the formation of the organization in 1917.

All Doors Locked

According to Smiley, the committee responsible for the founding of the group had arranged among themselves to meet at the county court house but when they arrived on the scene found all of the doors of the courthouse locked. Undaunted, the group explored the windows and, in the county weights and measures department, found an unlocked window, raised it and slipped into the building and convened their meeting.

W. L. Grubb, now a resident of Santa Ana, had been president of the Santa Ana Farm Center and acted as temporary chairman of the group. H. B. Woodrough, of Harper center, now known as the Costa Mesa section, was elected first president of the county Farm Bureau. Woodrough is still a resident of Costa Mesa.

J. A. Smiley was elected vice president, W. L. York, of La Habra, second vice president, and S. S. Twombly, Fullerton, secretary-treasurer. Mr. Twombly is still active as a member of the Placentia Farm Center.

"In 1933 the Orange County Farm Bureau established its own separate offices in the Medical Building in Santa Ana, and in 1937 moved into their present county offices at 353 South Main street, Orange, An.

LA HABRANS AT NOVEL AFFAIR

LA HABRA, Oct. 14.—A novel house party was given Wednesday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Lana at their home on East Florence avenue. Guests had been bidden by invitations written in pencil on scratch paper and were told to assemble at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Foist.

Shortly after their arrival they were met by a big truck driven by a black Sambo, in the person of L. E. Proud, and taken to the Lana home where they found everything in readiness for the "Hickville" party, with the Hickums and the Yokums captains of the two teams for the games.

Cornstalks, gourds, pumpkins and scarecrows decorated the home. Olympic games were played between the two teams and prizes awarded. Ben Clark and Alex Morrison captained the teams. Olin Sutliff and George Armstrong were the judges and Doc Kirkpatrick and J. D. Herman the yell leaders.

After the games a buffet supper was served. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Smallwood, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shoemaker, Mr. and Mrs. Norton Skinner, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Foist, Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Kirkpatrick, Mr. and Mrs. Olin Sutliff, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas McGill, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas LaMonte, Mr. and Mrs. George Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Morrison, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn DeBarr, Miss Minnie Wade was entertained one day by Mrs. Roberson.

Man and insects form the two most successful biological groups in existence. One consists of almost half a million kinds, the other consists of but one.

Sunday guests by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Huff. Mrs. Elizabeth Roberson has returned to her home from Santa Ana, where she spent a week with her cousins, Miss Irma DeBarr and Lynn DeBarr. Miss Minnie Wade was entertained one day by Mrs. Roberson.

people" who count, picked up when I visited the "Tailspin" set today. Last Saturday she won $25 in a football pool. Five dollars went to her hairdresser, five to her stand-in, five to the wardrobe girl and five to the script girl. She spent the other five herself—on coca colas for the entire crew.

Watched the Ritz Brothers—unrecognizable in 17th century velvets, shoulder-length wigs and curled mustachios—rehearsing a tavern brawl for "The Three Musketeers." Taking careful aim, Harry Ritz pulled back a heavy iron cauldron which swung from the ceiling by a chain, let it fly and sent one of their assailants tumbling across the floor. But just as he did it, Ray Golden, the company gag-man, yelled at him from the sidelines and Harry turned to see what he wanted. The kettle swung back, caught Mr. Ritz unaware, and knocked him flat. "Well," Golden gasped, "I was just going to suggest that it would be a funny gag for that pot to swing back and knock you down—and it was!"

On the "Little Princess" set, Shirley Temple, as cute as a bug's ear in an old-fashioned riding habit and a bowler hat, was riding—trying to ride might be more accurate—a side saddle. The horse was frisky and Curly Top was having trouble. The scene over, she drew back and looked at the horse with her customary gravity. "I wonder," she said "if that was as uncomfortable for him as it was for me!"

The "Jesse James" set sounded like Mrs. Murphy's kitchen on wash-day and all because a pair of twin girls, aged nine months, just wouldn't stop howling at the top of their lusty voices. After trying for an hour to soothe them, the director gave up and dismissed them for the day. With a sigh, their mother and the company nurse stripped off the heavy flannel and they stopped crying instantly. Nancy Kelly, standing beside me in a hillbilly costume, sighed. "I don't blame them," she whispered. "If I were 'Lave enough, I'd yell, too—until they gave me something prettier to wear."

They tell a good one on Henry

Fonda. When the "Jesse James" company was on location in the Ozarks, a young woman stopped him on the street. "Please stand still until I get a look at you," she begged. "I've never seen a movie star before." Fonda was embarrassed, but complied—and she stared for a long moment. And then, as he started to walk on, she stopped him again, and... "Just which one are you, anyway?" she asked. (Copyright 1938, McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

"STAINS GO LIKE MAGIC WITH BAB-O. I JUST SPRINKLE A LITTLE BAB-O ON A DAMP CLOTH AND RUB GENTLY TO KEEP MY HOUSEHOLD BRIGHT AND CLEAN. BAB-O IS THE BEST CLEANER I EVER USED. I CAN'T PRAISE IT ENOUGH."

From a user's letter (Minnesota). Name on request.

Why thousands are switching to Bab-O

Join the two million women who save time and needless drudgery with Bab-O, because Bab-O dissolves grease. It makes cleaning amazingly easier than scouring and scrubbing with ordinary cleansers. For once grease is gone, stain and grime come off with a wipe. Prove this by trying Bab-O on your bathtub, sink or refrigerator. It can't harm costly enamel—is easier on hands. Costs less because it goes further. So get Bab-O with your next grocery order—today. Save work—save money—save porcelain surfaces.

GENSLER-LEE PLANS FIFTH ANNIVERSARY

Expressing the pleasure they have had in serving people of Santa Ana, Gensler-Lee, Jewelers, announced today that their store, situated at Fourth and Sycamore, will start on its fifth year October 20.

Gensler-Lee is well known throughout the country as one of the largest and most progressive jewelry concerns in America, local officials declared. The firm of Gensler-Lee has served the people of California for over 27 years. They are one of the pioneers in the credit business, having as far back as 1916, over 20 years ago, announced their "liberal payment plan". Sixteen stores are located in California.

G. L. Gensler, founder, said: "When we opened our store in Santa Ana, we had faith in the response of the people of the community to our merchandise and service. The success of the last four years has more than justified it. We look forward with pleasure to our continued association with our hundreds of customers and friends during our fifth year in Santa Ana." Ted Gluck is the manager of the local Gensler-Lee store.

LATE NEWS FROM ORANGE

OUTLINE PLANS FARM FEDERATION OFFICER OF V. F. W. GROUP HITS PRESENT SOCIAL TREND

VILLA PARK, Oct. 14.—Election of officers and a talk by Eugene C. Kimball, vice president of the California Farm Bureau federation, featured a meeting of the Foothill Farm Center last night. Thomas J. Hight was re-elected president, J. A. Porter, vice president; George Brandriff Smith, secretary and H. H. Gardner, director.

Center President

Thomas J. Hight was re-elected last night to serve as president of the Foothill Farm Center. This organization recently was awarded first place among county farm centers for the way business sessions are conducted. A coveted gong and gavel, the award, will remain in the possession of Foothill center again this year.

The report of the nominating committee was given by August Heinemann. The director's report was presented by H. G. Gardner, acting for Harry L. Tritt, who assumes secretary duties for the evening. Mrs. H. H. Gardner gave the report for the home department. Ross Crane, head of the 4-H club of the county, presented David Fairbairn, Otis Freeman and Claude Lewellen, 4-H club members, who gave reports of the 4-H convention at Davis.

Hits Single Tax

Kimball characterized the proposed single tax, proposition No. 20 on the ballot, as one of the most dangerous of the initiative measures on the ballot. It is sugar-coated in that it pretends to be a tax-relief measure, and it would not lighten tax burdens but would merely shift them to home and property owners, he declared. The next most dangerous, the speaker said, is No. 25 which refers to retirement life payments.

Declaring that the so-called "ham and eggs" measure shows the trend of the times, the speaker discussed its aspects. "Getting something for nothing" is a present social trend, the tendency being to put too much dependency on the government, he said. When one group stops working another group must support them, Kimball said.

Problem of Grower

Proposition No. 1, the speaker said, is to show the way to the entire country, it is hoped, in regard to labor relations. In thinking of labor relations, Kimball said we think of them as their direct results to us. The big problem before the citrus grower is to market what he produces and sales depend on the purchasing power of the public and purchasing power depends on peace, he said. The measure, he said, prohibits boycotting any but their own employer by the workers.

Kimball advised voting "yes" on No. 1, No. 6 and No. 7 and "no" on Nos. 3, 8, 13, 20 and 25. Guests introduced included Franklin C. West, of Santa Ana; John Meyer, president of the West Orange Farm Center, his daughter, Miss Helen Meyer, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Smiley, West Orange; Harvey Meyers, Orange and L. L. Williams, Orange.

Program Presented

Mrs. Milton Cole (Faye Stinson) gave a delightful reading of the one-act play, "The Twelve-Pound Look," by Barrie. Dinner was in charge of Mrs. E. B. Workman and members of the Foothill Girls 4-H club served as waitresses in white green trimmed uniforms and caps. Mrs. Anna Linnartz is advisor of the group and those serving were Yvonne Linnartz, Alleen Linnartz, Jean Fairbairn, Mary Fairbairn, Margaret Hoskins and Beverly Phillips.

School Official Hits Socialism

ORANGE, Oct. 14.—"Intelligence Rides on Wheels" was the subject chosen by Fred Chamberlin, school official from Huntington Beach, who spoke at the weekly meeting of the Rotary club yesterday.

Chamberlin attacked socialism as being one of the great extremes to which civilization must not swing if it is to progress. Chamberlin upheld the age of machinery, claiming that the invention of new products and machines brought about new jobs. He cited the rayon industry as a form of materialistic development.

If our almost unlimited powers are developed along capitalistic lines, we shall have a civilization and culture that will eclipse all others," he said.

C. I. Thomas, superintendent of Orange city schools, introduced the speaker, Frank Collins presided.

Man, Your Story Is News, Too! LET THEM KNOW IT!

Lots of people tell us, "Gosh, it must be a hard job to write a newspaper!" Well, they're wrong. They're simply all wet. Our big job, getting out a paper, is to gather, edit, set up, print and distribute the news before it's cold. It isn't hard to write the news—because real news writes itself! All our reporters have to do is to answer the vital questions "Who? What? Where? When? Why?" Then they let the facts tell their own story.

Now—the text books may not say so, but all that goes for advertising, too! Clothe your advertising message with the fast-moving informative authenticity of a live news-story—and it's our bet that your goods will move quicker! Why? Because readers are hungry for news and every advertiser's story, well told, is news!

TELL 'EM WHO: Make sure the reader sees YOUR name!

TELL 'EM WHAT: Let every reader, every buyer know what your stuff looks like, what color it is, what it's made of—in a word, how good it is!

TELL 'EM WHERE: How can a stranger find your store if she doesn't know the address? How can a reader find your merchandise if she doesn't know the department?

TELL 'EM WHEN: If your "special" starts tomorrow tell 'em so and tell 'em how long it will last.

AND FINALLY, TELL 'EM WHY: Tell 'em and sell 'em all the reasons why every man and woman ought to own, use and enjoy your merchandise!

As we've mentioned, writing news isn't hard —WHEN YOU KNOW HOW. And every member of our advertising staff does know how! Every one of them is trained to do a good NEWS-writing job, trained to help you write your message so that it will be read and understood . . . and acted upon as NEWS!

Get news into your advertising! Let The Register help you. Let us help you sell more goods at less cost with copy that gets read.

Walther League Plans Carnival

ORANGE, Oct. 14.—Plans are under way for a carnival to be held October 29 at the Walker Memorial hall under the auspices of the Walther league of St. John's Lutheran church. Each club division of the league will take part and all Southern California Walther leaguers are invited to attend, as well as members of the congregation.

Congressions and all other activities that make up a carnival will be set up in the hall, and an "owl show" will be presented in the auditorium at 10:30 p. m. Miss Eleanor Schroeder is general chairman of the affair.

Plans for their part in the event were made when the Jolly Gents' club and the Batchelors' club met this week at the hall. Arnold Kohls presided over the Batchelors' meeting and Gustav Busch led the Jolly Gents. Edwin Quandt was elected secretary of the Batchelors and replaced Harold Leichter, who resigned.

Mrs. C. W. Coffey Hostess To D. U. V.

ORANGE, Oct. 14.—Mrs. C. W. Coffey, South Glassell street, was hostess yesterday to members of the Daughters of Union Veterans, who met to sew for a bazaar they will sponsor early in December.

At the noon hour a pot luck luncheon was served, and members showered Mrs. Anna Slater, whose birthday was October 12, with greeting cards. A beautifully decorated birthday cake was cut by the honor guest, Mrs. Coffey had chosen chrysanthemums in the gold shade for decorations and the tapers on the table were of a rust tone.

Present were Mesdames Anna Slater, W. W. Perry, R. V. Durfee, Lillian Westover, Bell Barnes, Martha McDaniel, Hattie Siegfried, Florence Ober, L. F. Douglas, Amelia Hart, C. W. Coffey, George Franzen, Della Athey, Lucy Robinson and Mrs. Leila Hughes and two children, Joan and Melvin.

SANTA ANA'S SAVING CENTER OPENS TODAY

ROOF IN NEW SUPER MARKET

Four complete marketing units under one roof were in operation today with the opening of Santa Ana's Saving Center, Fourth and Ross streets. C. R. Sackerson and K. E. Sharrock, co-partners in the new super market will be in charge of the grocery and dairy departments.

Sackerson is well qualified to meet the needs of the buying public, having had more than 15 years experience in the management of markets. He has been manager of the store operated at the present location at Fourth and Ross street, ever since it was first established, more than five years ago.

Highest Quality

The merchandise in the grocery department will be the freshest procurable and will be of highest quality. The low prices of merchandise in the grocery department are made possible through large purchase orders and a rapid turn-over of goods.

During the opening sale the two partners will be assisted by a trained staff of more than 10 efficient and courteous clerks whose duty it will be to prove the slogan "the customer is always right."

Color Harmony

Appearing behind the 40-foot refrigerated and neon lighted meat counter in the meat department will be Ivo Lorge, manager, who will be assisted by seven butchers during the sale. Three butcher's blocks have been installed by Lorge to facilitate in prompt service.

The entire meat department will be in harmony with the general color scheme of the entire market. Five gleaming, circular mirrors lining the wall of the meat department add a modernistic touch to general plan of design. In addition to a full line of quality meats, Lorge has installed a delicatessen of popular items.

Local Produce

Loren Faust will be in charge of the vegetable and produce department of the super mart. He will be assisted by a staff of 15 clerks during the three-day opening sale.

So far as is possible only locally grown vegetables and produce will be sold in the produce department of the Santa Ana's Saving Center. In addition to his contacts with local growers, Faust has established an over-night service with Los Angeles wholesalers to insure only the freshest of produce and vegetables.

Van de Kamp Bakery

Like Sackerson, Faust will be welcoming old friends at the Fourth and Ross street location, having been manager of the produce department at that location for the past five years.

A complete bakery department operated by the Van de Kamp company will round out the facilities of the new super market.

In addition to their well known line of tempting baked goods the

FIXTURES AND COLOR SCHEME ARE ARTISTIC

"An outstanding achievement in fixture design and color scheme." This was the verdict of hundreds of customers who visited the opening of Santa Ana's newest market, Santa Ana Saving Center, Fourth and Ross streets, today.

Brown Tone

The general color arrangement in the new market, operated by C. R. Sackerson and K. E. Sharrock, is in three tones of brown, with merchandise racks finished in natural wood colors to blend in harmony with the rest of the fixtures and decorations.

Basic color of the design is a coffee-brown which shades into a light tan. The third color of the general plan is a light cream.

Modern Design

So far as was possible, all of the fixtures were either bought or manufactured in Santa Ana or Orange county. The Santa Ana Cabinet and Fixture company was in charge of the placing and manufacture of the fixtures which are of a modern design.

Racks and shelves in the new establishment have been designed with an eye to making the market attractive and at the same time provide a maximum of efficiency for the customer. Merchandise on the shelves has been placed within easy reach of the average height patron and is all priced with an easily read price tag.

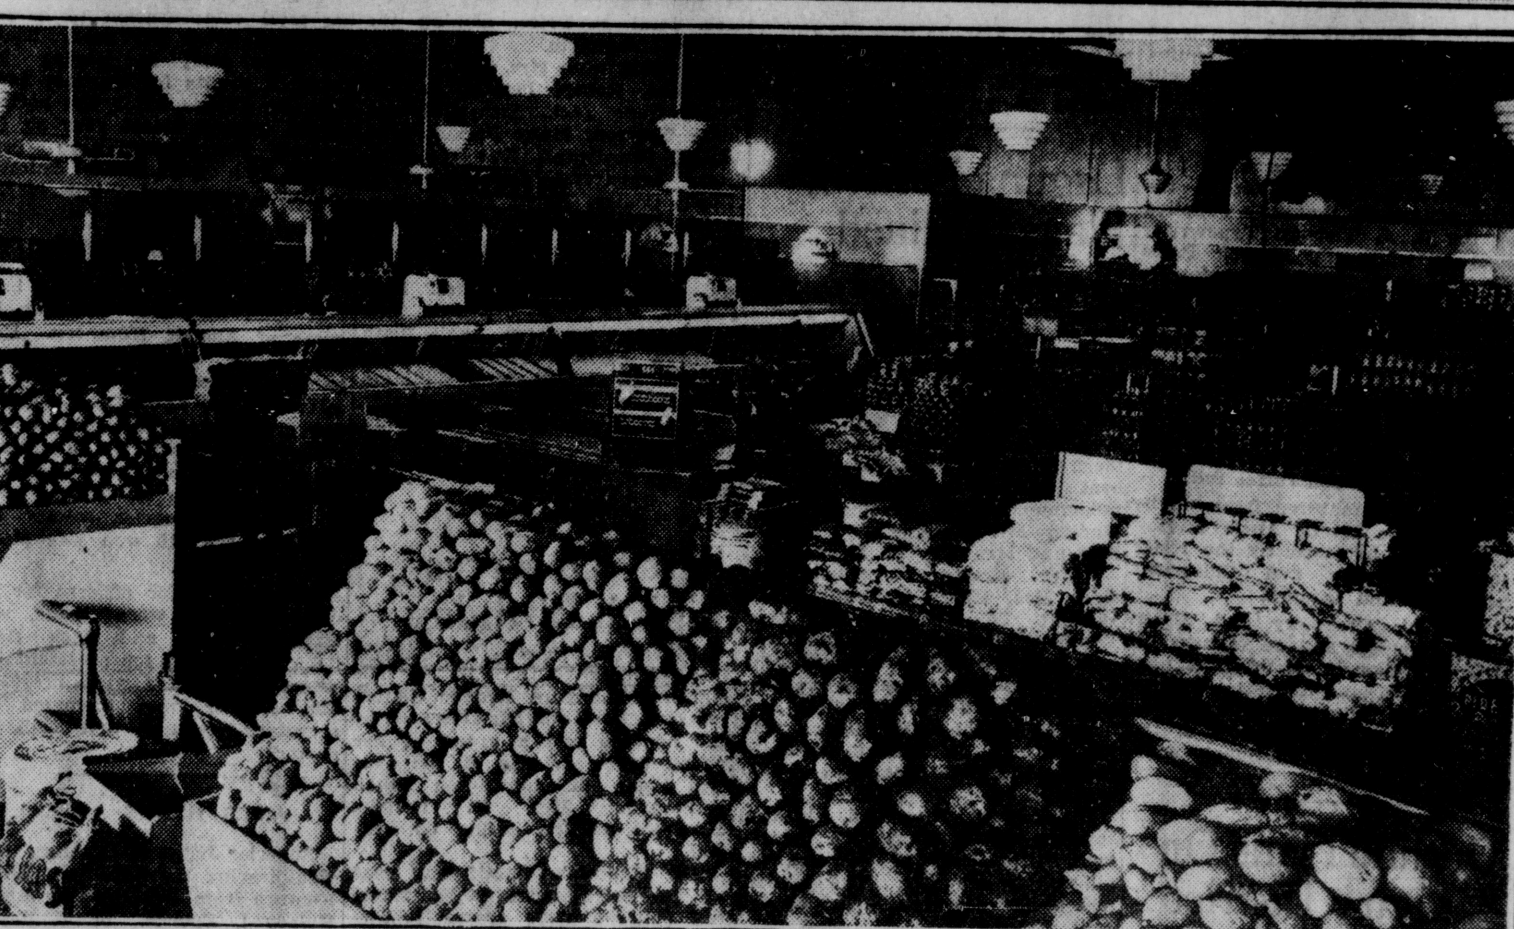

There will be no unnecessary piling of merchandise in the aisles of the market and the hazard of bumping into a stack of cans or boxes has been reduced to a minimum. Merchandise has been placed in logical arrangement so that the patron may quickly learn the general plan of grocery stockings.

"HOLLYWOOD SHOPPERS"

The latest type of basket carriers, or "Hollywood shoppers" have been installed at Santa Ana's Saving Center, that today started a three-day opening sale at Fourth and Ross street.

Van de Kamp bakery department will carry a complete line of quality candles and ice cream.

C. R. SACKERSON JOINS WITH K. E. SHARROCK IN OPENING OF MARKET AT FOURTH AND ROSS

A three-day grand opening of the city's newest market—Santa Ana's Saving Center—at Fourth and Ross streets, was under way today as hundreds of customers and well-wishers of the new mart were attracted to the popular scene.

According to C. R. Sackerson and K. E. Sharrock, co-partners and co-managers of the new establishment, the outstanding values in quality merchandise in all departments of the market are responsible for the drawing of the throngs that have inspected the new shopping center.

Bargain Prices

No expense has been spared in making the market as attractive as possible and through the co-operation of manufacturers and wholesalers a wealth of bargain prices in quality brands will be offered for sale at prices that are the lowest possible.

Chief among the attractions will be the Cash Award Amateur Contest that is being sponsored by Sackerson and Sharrock. In connection with the contest an all-piece band has been secured for the occasion and will entertain the many customers and friends during the three-day opening sale. Contests for children, including balloon-blowing contests, pie eating competitions and milk drinking contests will also be included in the program of events.

Cheerful Service

A staff of approximately 40 courteous and efficient employees will see to the wants of the customers in the new super market and will insure prompt and cheerful service at all times.

"Every item of merchandise on the shelves or in the cases will be strictly fresh," Sackerson said. "We have been receiving truck-load after truck-load of the finest and best merchandise available and have secured special shipments from manufacturers and wholesalers in order to be sure that every item is the top in quality and entirely as represented."

Complete Units

"The market will be a complete shopping unit in itself. Partner Sharrock very properly refused to estimate the number of items on our shelves but has contented himself that the stock is the most complete possible."

"In addition to making the market attractive to the tastes and to the pocket-books of our patrons we have spared no expense in making the fixtures of the market attractive to the eye and at the same time as efficient as science can make them."

The interior of the market we have a full parking space of approximately 11,000 square feet that is at the disposal of our patrons. "Both Mr. Sharrock and myself feel that we have made a contribution to the community in establishing this super market and we are looking forward with a great deal of pleasure to a long and profitable relationship with the buy-

AMATEURS VIE FOR PRIZES IN NOVEL CONTEST

Highlight of the many attractions being offered to the public of Santa Ana and Orange county in connection with the three day grand opening of Santa Ana's Saving Center, Fourth and Ross streets, is the Cash Award Amateur Contest.

"The contest is open to any resident of the county regardless of age," according to C. R. Sackerson and K. E. Sharrock, co-managers and owners of the city's newest market.

Open To All

"Anyone with talent in singing, dancing, or playing any musical instrument is urged to take part in this contest and share in the valuable cash prizes that are being offered in celebration of the opening," Sackerson said.

Tryouts for the contest will be staged today from 2 to 5 p. m. and 7 to 9 p. m. Tomorrow further tryouts will be held from 2 to 5 p. m., with the final eliminations to be presented from 7 to 10 p. m. Saturday.

Orchestra Assists

An 11-piece orchestra is scheduled to take part in all of three of the opening day celebrations and will assist in the amateur contest.

In addition to the amateur contest the management will hold a variety of contests for children as well as grown-ups that will include balloon-blowing competitions, a pie-eating contest, and a milk-drinking contest.

Contestants in all of the competitions are urged to register at the new market, corner of Fourth and Ross streets.

AMPLE PARKING

Among the many bright features of Santa Ana's Saving Center is the ample parking space. A well paved lot of approximately 11,000 square feet immediately adjoining the new mart at Fourth and Ross streets, makes easily accessible parking at all times.

"The public of Santa Ana and Orange county," Sackerson concluded.

Annual Carnival Planned At School

Plans were under way today, at the Woodrow Wilson school for what was termed as the most exciting event of the year, the annual carnival to be held Friday, October 21, under the auspices of the P.-T. A. Meeting Tuesday night at the school the P.-T. A. executive board drew final plans for the event. It also was announced by the executive board that the next regular meeting of the P.-T. A. will be held at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday at the school. Frank Henderson, superintendent of Santa Ana schools, will be the speaker. His topic will be "The School Looks to the Future". Several duets from light opera will be sung. The sixth grade mothers will act as hostesses for the afternoon.

Quality, Service, Market Goal

"My years of training in the market business have taught me that there is no substitute for highest quality and efficient, cheerful service," Manager C. R. Sackerson, of the Santa Ana's Saving Center said today.

"It will be the constant goal of every employee in the market to give the most courteous and prompt service possible," Sackerson stated.

"To insure a maximum of efficiency during the opening three-day sale today, tomorrow and Sunday we have secured a staff of nearly 40 trained assistants. If more are needed they will be hired at once," Sackerson said.

HAS APPROVAL

Installation of all refrigeration fixtures in the new super market at Fourth and Ross streets has been done under the supervision of health departments to insure that all foods and merchandise sold at Santa Ana's Saving Center will be in perfect condition for consumption.

BUNCHES OF BANANAS

Among the unusual orders placed by the management of Santa Ana's Saving Center for the three-day opening sale that started today was that of 5000 pounds of bananas. "They'll go in no time," predicted Manager C. R. Sackerson.

Many Firms Cooperate In Making Success Of Super Market Premier

"The splendid cooperation of various manufacturers and wholesale houses as well as the concerns responsible for the installation of the fixtures of the market has made the multitude of detail connected with the opening a matter of little concern."

This was the statement today by C. R. Sackerson, who, with K. E. Sharrock, is co-partner in the Santa Ana's Saving Center, Fourth and Ross street, that today started a three-day celebration of the opening of Santa Ana's newest market.

"No small part in the attractiveness of our market is the brilliant neon sign that has been installed by the Santa Ana Neon company. Harold Mathews, manager of the Santa Ana Neon company, was extremely helpful with suggestions for the market and the neon work connected with it," Sackerson said.

Credit for the beauty of design of the fixtures as well as their efficiency goes to the Santa Ana Cabinet and Fixture company. This concern was in charge of all of the installation work of the fixtures as well as the refrigeration of the meat and dairy departments of the super market.

To insure correct addition by the checkers as they register the various sales of patrons, the new market is fully equipped with National Cash Registers. The checker's registers give a rapid and accurate accounting of each purchase as well as the total amount spent.

Paint for the new establishment was supplied by the W. F. Fuller Paint company, while the Pacific Plumbing company was in charge of installation of plumbing equipment. The huge awning that will span the front of the new market was supplied by the Orange County Tent and Awning company. Behind the scenes, but a vital part of the new organization is the office equipment that was supplied by the R. A. Tienan Typewriter company while the Kenrok Press has furnished the office printing. Electrical work in the new Santa Ana's Saving Center was done by the MacFarlane Electric concern.

To insure the buying public of full weight in every purchase, Sackerson and Sharrock have installed Hobart scales as well as a Hobart grinder and coffee mill.

Among the featured items to be sold by the Santa Ana's Saving Center will be sugar by the Holly Sugar company and Cloverleaf beverages and candies.

Excelsior Creamery and Arden Dairy products will be featured in the dairy department of the super-market. Insurance of fresh uniforms as well as other laundry supplies has been left in the hands of the Orange County Linen Supply company.

Outline Plans On Sanitary District

MIDWAY CITY, Oct. 14.—Members of the committee in charge of plans for a proposed sanitary district here held a discussion of the project this week. Hearing on the proposed district will be held by the county supervisors November 9 at 10 a. m.

With the total of the project estimated at between $75,000 and $80,000, the PWA will be asked to furnish 45 per cent of the cost. Plans call for a 10-acre sewage farm.

The next meeting of the committee was set for November 7. Meeting with the committee were Engineer George Bates, Attorney Burr A. Brown, Willis Warner, of Huntington Beach, and C. M. Rood. Those on the committee include J. A. Houlihan, chairman; Dr. R. I. Johnson, Robert Keller, Sidney Miller, Gene Mixer, Harry Hall, C. A. Whittet and P. H. Marshall.

Friends Guests At Shower Affair

OLIVE, Oct. 14.—Mrs. Joe Ames and Mrs. Henry Lemke were hostesses at a shower in the home of Mrs. Ames recently for Mrs. Philipp Ybarrola, nee Miss Susie Ames. The entertainment of the evening was the game of "Fifty," first prize going to Mrs. Ted Kuban, second prize to Miss Margaret Ybarrola and the consolation to Mrs. Irma Kitchen.

Refreshments of cake and coffee were served to the following guests: Mrs. Philipp Ybarrola of Ocean Park, the guest of honor; Mesdames N. Ybarrola and daughter, Margarite, of Norwalk, Pete Alvarez of Chino, Frank Ybarrola of Norwalk, Henry Schaffer of San Diego, Ted Kuban of Laguna Beach, Aubrey Calhoun of Long Beach, Alice Ames, Nela Lehr, Martha Hein, Albert Bushman, Irma Kitchen, Maybelle Suavey, Martha Dugan, Pauline Toussau and Madeline Storms, all of Anaheim; Ann Villott of Puente, H. Yorba of Arlington, Peggy Barlow and George Connors and Miss Marjorie Connors of San Diego; Miss Margaret Mendoza, Miss Mary Reza, Miss Amparo Reza, of Olive; Miss Ruth Rockwell and Miss Ruth Bushman of Anaheim, and Miss Thelma Carter of Puente.

Laguna Festival Plans Outlined

LAGUNA BEACH, Oct. 14.—Preliminary steps for the 1939 Festival of Arts were tentatively discussed at this week's meeting of the board of directors of the Festival of Arts association. Presided over by Vice-President Virginia M. Woolley, in the absence of President Frank Hevener, three incumbent officers were unanimously recommended for re-election, including Mr. Hevener, W. Gordon Bird and Mrs. Roy M. Ropp.

Other directors re-nominated were Mrs. Harry Gordon Martin, Bennett W. Spencer and Mrs. Woolley. Dale P. De Klyne was nominated as a new director. The nominations will be ratified at next meeting, date for which will be announced in the near future. The nominating committee included Mary Rohn, Gene Douglas and Roy M. Ropp.

Plans were discussed, looking towards the erection of a permanent "little theatre" building, for all-year round use. The project will be given further discussion at next meeting.

NEW EXCUSE—ACCELERANDO SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—Pretty Miss Alice Morgan, 20-year-old singer, arrested on a speeding charge, had a new one to tell the judge. "I had just got a job," she explained, "and I was so happy that I was singing in tune with the car. Well, the music kept getting faster—accelerando, you know—and I had to drive faster to keep the motor in tune with the music."

TO ABATE NUISANCE

Police last evening were asked to end the nuisance assertedly being committed frequently in front of Logan street school by several of the older Mexican boys who loiter there between 8 and 9 p. m. Schools officials entered the complaint.

HUGE REFRIGERATOR

To speed up service and increase efficiency, Santa Ana's Saving Center, Fourth and Ross streets, has installed a huge, six-panel refrigerator box for all dairy products and beverages.

Co-Partners Open New Market

Surprise Shower Held In La Habra

LA HABRA, Oct. 14.—A surprise shower was given this week for Mrs. Frank A. Nicholson (Betty Price) at the home of Mamie Collins given by women of the Temple Baptist church. Pink and white was the color motif.

Toasts Masters Of H. B. In Election

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 14.—Plans for the programs and some of the new policies of the Toastmasters' club for the ensuing year were mapped out by W. J. Schoepfle, the new president at the club meeting this week. Clive Adams is retiring president.

Ivey Lyon was the master critic, and A. W. Frost, toastmaster. Speakers and subjects were W. H. Warner, "Irrigation District;" Walter Dabney, "Sea Monsters;" C. P. Patton, "Seeing California;" W. H. Gallienne, "Ambergrie;" and J. Sherman Denny, who talked on "What is a Cactus and Why?" He demonstrated his talk with specimens and illustrated pictures.

Junior W. R. C. To Hold Card Party

WESTMINSTER, Oct. 14.—A benefit card party for the Junior Woman's Relief corps which is being organized under the leadership of Mrs. Ethel Thomas, is being held this evening at Odd Fellows hall and the public is invited to attend. Both bridge and 300 will entertain and refreshments will be served following award of prizes by Mrs. Loretta Burnitter, hostess for the party.

When a fly eats a grain of sugar, it first covers it with a drop of liquid. When the grain of sugar has dissolved into a syrup the insect sucks it up.

CAREFUL ARRANGEMENT OFFERS NEW APPEAL IN SAVING CENTER

Careful consideration of the convenience of the customer has gone into the planning and arrangement of the stock, shelves, and counters in Santa Ana's Saving Center, according to Co-Managers C. R. Sackerson and K. E. Sharrock, who today opened Santa Ana's newest market center, at Fourth and Ross streets.

Meat Manager

Ivo L. Lorge brings more than 20 years of experience to the meat department of Santa Ana's Saving Center, opening today at Fourth and Ross streets. Lorge has installed the latest in equipment in the meat department and has pledged himself to sell only quality meats and delicatessen.

G. B. Selden, of Rochester, N. Y., received the basic patent on the automobile for his "road engine" in 1895. The patent later was rescinded.

Items that are the daily need of the customer are placed in the most convenient spots, and are easily accessible. The six-panel dairy cabinet has been designed with automatically self-closing doors so that patrons will not be required to close them while encumbered with packages.

Greatest Facility Aisles in the grocery department are designed to give the customer the greatest facility of movement and at the same time provide accessibility to the thousands of articles that are the need of every housewife.

A chromium turn-stile has been placed in the west wall of the market and will directly connect with the free parking lot. A double check-out aisle has been designed to speed the service in the checking department. Patrons will be automatically guided through the checking department of the grocery by gleaming, modernistic, chromium rails. Ample spaces for resting packages while they are being checked has been provided by the management.

No Duplication The entire plan of the market has been arranged so that the consumer, arriving at the market, can start at any one department and visit all other departments without the duplication of steps.

"Our thought at every turn in the development of Santa Ana's Saving Center has been directed by the wishes of the consumer, both in point of saving of time and in economy of waste motion, as well as providing the highest efficiency of service," Manager Sackerson said.

Francis Willard School News

Invitations are now going out for the seventh, eighth and ninth grade teas, to be given in the Willard patio on alternate dates. Mrs. Grace Lund, vice-principal of Willard and dean of girls, announced today.

The ninth grade tea is to be given on Tuesday, October 18, with Mrs. Evelyn Minge as chairman. Mrs. Maurine Scott has been named chairman of the eighth grade tea which is to be held Thursday, October 20. Tuesday, October 25, is the date set for the seventh grade tea with Mrs. Mabel Budd as chairman.

Pauline Klech, a low nine commissioner, made the highest scholarship standing in the eighth grade last year. Mrs. Maurine Scott, honor society adviser, revealed today, while in the seventh grade, Shirley Kline was first. This year the total honor society membership of seventh and eighth grades is 51 as compared to 56 of last year. The eighth grade home-room which had the most students was 120 with seven represented. Home-room 207 offered five for the seventh grade.

Those who made the requirements for an honor society membership were: Leland Abraham, Marjorie Adkinson, Marilyn Bear, Sally Clarke, Mary Pat Coffin, Janet Coffing, Patricia Collins, Mary Alice Elund, Mary Graupensperger, Ruth Hutchinson, David Johnson, Pauline Klech, Adele Lewis, Margaret Lockett, Doris Luke, Janet McFadden, Kathleen May, Frances Nall, Donald Nelson, Veda Jane Oberg, Eva Pimental, Eloise Revell, Gomercinda Reynoso, Betty Mae Wallace, Betty Watts, Kayetta Wilson, Virginia Woodward and Marjorie Zaket, high eighth.

Carl Amundson, Holly Blee, Dorothy Brush, LaVonne Cole, Stanley Corey, Marjorie Crump, Isabel Flores, Dick Guthrie, Shirley Kniepe, Dwight Schroeder, Kathleen Tierman, Ethelann Williams, Iva Jean Williams, Patsy Wright and Patsy Stearns, high seventh.

The seventh, eighth and ninth grade food classes, instructed by Miss Alberta and Miss Lillian Fitz, are studying breakfast menus and the values of fruits, such as oranges, bananas, and baked apples. Miss Fitz's ninth grade classes have started their outside reading and have had tests on measurements. Barbara, Senn, a ninth grade pupil, is helping Miss Fitz with the morning duties.

The art program for the coming year is started and each grade is working on its different projects.

Miss Marian Libby, instructor revealed. The ninth grade will have as its special work the making of posters for various events of the year including operettas and contests. Eighth grade pupils are looking forward to working on naturalistic scenes while the seventh is busy with lettering and design.

The junior high schools, Lathrop and Willard, are following the same plan for social science this year. Mrs. Veda Mashmeyer, head of the department, declared today. Reference material from selected sources will be supplied to develop each subject. According to Mrs. Mashmeyer, this affords an opportunity for the pupil to get ideas and opinions from more than one author.

The $30 a week pension plan is no go, pupils of John Dickey's LQ social studies class proved, Friday, September 23, when Bernadine Curran, Francis Nall, Betty Zeasley, and Glen Chapman, judges, cast a vote in favor of the negative side. Margaret Ames and Betty Johnson were on the affirmative side, with Beverly Baldwin and Russell Long defending the negative.

Pupils of Miss Mary Jane Steel's LQ social science class have been the participants in a very spirited discussion, carried on by students of the group. Miss Steel announced recently. The discussion was centered about the difficulties of the immigrant and different views were expressed on this topic, but recognition was given of the immigrants' contributions to American culture.

During vacation many of the Willard teachers took trips to various points throughout the United States. Mrs. Vivian Meeks had a most interesting trip East where she saw Washington, D. C., visited the capitol, the treasury building, and the White House. Mrs. Meeks spent six days in New York and took in all the sights including the Empire State Building. In Detroit she purchased a car and drove home. Miss Mary Jane and Miss Fanny Steel went to Texas, returning through the Rocky Mountain National Park, Teton Forest, Yellowstone, Zion, Bryce Canyon and Boulder Dam. Visitors to Yosemite during the summer included Mrs. Mabel Budd and Miss Vanche Plumb. Mrs. Ruth Low and Mrs. Vera Allen were the faculty's contribution to Big Bear. Lowell Schmidt visited at Sequoia. Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Lund stayed at the store in the High Sierras where they have been postmasters for several seasons.

Announcement has been made by the advisers of the election of the home-room representatives and alternates for the first semester. These pupils will meet with Mrs. Louise Wright and Mrs. Vivian Meeks this year. They will plan for the yard clean-up and make suggestions for the betterment of the school. The pupils are to cooperate with the safeties and commissioners in all their projects. In the seventh grade Christine Winkler and Shirley Edgar represent room 209; Terry Ragan and Allen Faulkner, 211; Bonnie Eggert and Wayne Tibbs, 213; Arnolfo Macenas and Rudolph Reyes, 107B; Bill Williams and Barbara McFadden, 201; Tommy McCristy and Ethelwynne Davis, 110; Barbara Neff and Kenneth Anderson, 215, and Dorothy Thompson and Vivian Thompson, 103.

Noel Sherrard and Darlene Burnett, from room 205; Irene Valencia and Noah Dickerson, 109; Kathleen Tierman and Charles Bruesler, 207; Geraldine Tway and Arthur Paige, 112; Dwight Schroeder and Raymond Winter, 105; and Isabel Flores and Mary Laguna, 120 are the eighth grade members.

Fred Pope and Bill Womack, 208; Ed Scott and Ray Winters, 107; Rosie Gonzales and Lupe Bracmontes, 206; Veda Jane Oberg and Ray Marslie, 120; Betty Platt and Marilyn Greenwood, 113; Sam Harman and Bernadine Curran, 116; Lowell Schroeder and John Young, 111; and Ruben Garcia and Juanita Ojeda, 213, made up the ninth grade representatives.

Kenneth Anderson, owner of a finger-printing set and a pupil of E. D. Froehle's LTH general science class, conducted an experiment with the class recently in which all the pupils were finger-printed and notes made of the results. Wayne Tibbs, another pupil of the class, aided in an experiment which showed the class important facts about the cells of the mouth.

Jim Bulter, popular safety and pupil of Mrs. Mabel Bee's LQ English class, won first place by popular majority in an oral recitation, Friday, September 23. Lepus Cuniculus, alias the rabbit, was the title of his story, which was made vivid by the humor and contrast of the "monster."

After school volleyball practice will begin Tuesday, October 11, and Miss Wyllys Anderson revealed today. Seventh, eighth, and ninth grade students who are interested should report then. It will be held one afternoon a week during practice season and twice a week during game season. There will be three weeks of practice games and three weeks of regular games, according to Miss Anderson.

Anyone interested in making the Girls Athletic club will be expected to report for after-school sports. Seventh graders who are trying for G.A.C. are required to have 300 points, while 350 are necessary for eighth and ninth graders. Girls will receive 50 points for coming out, 100 for making the varsity, and 150 for making G.A.C.

Janet McFadden was elected president of the Girls Athletic club, at the first official meeting of the year, in the P.E. building, September 27, with Miss Wyllys Anderson, adviser, presiding. Janet Coffing is vice-president; Maxine Hillyard, secretary and treasurer; Peggy Paul, volleyball manager.

Plans were made for the steak bake for the 1938 graduates and the present members, in the city park at Anaheim, October 19.

Members of the club are ordering emblems this week. Applications are being handed in by pupils who wish to join.

Those who were present at the first meeting included: Peggy Paul, Maxine Hillyard, Janet McFadden, Frances Nall, Patricia Paul, Dorothy Brush, Elizabeth Brown and Margaret Lockett.

SERIAL STORY

MURDER TO MUSIC

BY NARD JONES

COPYRIGHT, 1938 NEA SERVICE, INC.

CAST OF CHARACTERS
MYRNA DOMBEY—heroine, wife of the sensational singer.
ROBERT TAIT—hero, newspaper photographer—detective.
ANNIE LESTER—Myrna's closest friend.
DANNIE FEELEY—officer assigned to investigate Ludden Dombey's murder.

Yesterday Tait is amazed to learn from Macy that he has an interest in Dombey's band. Macy then accuses Tait of being in love with Myrna.

CHAPTER XI

"YES," Leonard Macy repeated quietly. "You are in love with the girl. That must be the reason for your interest."

Tait's first reaction was one of anger. It was with difficulty that he restrained himself. Then he realized that Macy meant nothing by his inference. The wealthy amateur detective was merely thinking aloud.

"That's absurd," Tait told him. "I hardly know Mrs. Dombey."

Macy nodded. "I am glad to learn that my surmise is in error. Because, undoubtedly, Myrna Dombey will be convicted of the murder of her husband."

Tait's lips closed in a thin line. Then: "Well, I'm afraid you've already made up your mind, Mr. Macy. There's not much need of my staying here longer."

Leonard Macy rose from his chair. "You are always welcome, my boy." He put a hand on Bob Tait's shoulder. "But I want to give you a little advice, if I may. Don't get mixed up in business like this—for a girl. It's not just that you'll find yourself wrong. But you'll find that a woman wasn't worth it. And that discovery is always damaging to a man."

"Thanks," Tait said. He walked into the hallway, turned there to shake Macy's hand. "I wish I were a millionaire, Mr. Macy."

The old man smiled. "Why?"

"I'd like to bet you a few hundred grand that you're 'way off first base.'"

"I never wager," Macy laughed.

THAT laugh echoed in Bob Tait's head as he walked down the hall to the elevator. What made Leonard Macy so sure, so certain? Was it because of something he had not revealed? Did he know something about Myrna Dombey he had not cared to reveal to Tait?

"You are in love with the girl. That must be the reason for your interest." That was what Macy had said, and Tait began to wonder if perhaps Macy was right. Why else was he concerning himself with the killing of Ludden Dombey? Certainly he was not helping himself, and there was the possibility—not too remote—that he was putting his very life in jeopardy.

He remembered how Myrna had looked on that night of the murder—in that moment before the lights had gone out and Ludden Dombey, tom of the swing cats, had played his final tune. Surely she was the most attractive young woman Bob Tait had ever seen, and assuredly he had suffered a pang of envy at the way she was looking at Lud Dombey up there on the platform. He remembered, too, those wide, fearful eyes there in the shack when he and Anne had found her hiding.

No question but that Myrna was a girl to make a man stop and think. But that he could be in love with her was, as he had insisted to Leonard Macy, absurd. He'd seen his share of women. He was tough and cynical. There wasn't a girl in the wide world who could take him over the hurdles unless he wanted to go. And he'd pointed a camera at plenty. He'd snapped princesses, and actresses, and beauty contest winners, and dazzling blonds who had married four men and shot a fifth. He had caught them in their moments of petty vanity, and he thought he knew them for what they were. Why should he be intrigued by this slender girl who had been a stenographer and somehow caught the eye of Ludden Dombey, king of swags?

Why? There was, Bob Tait told himself, no reason at all. And therefore he wasn't intrigued. Yet somehow his logic, as he drove his rented coupe toward his apartment, seemed rather weak.

HE found the apartment empty. Anne and Myrna had gone to Feeley's office and not yet returned. Nervously Bob Tait telephoned the Press Club. No message had been left there for him, and when he received this information he felt infinitely better. If anything went wrong at Dannie Feeley's, Anne was to have called him. "Good old Dannie," muttered Tait aloud.

But he went through almost half a pack of cigarettes before Anne and Myrna returned. The latter looked worn and tired.

"What happened?" asked Tait, shoving out a chair for Myrna.

"Plenty!" exclaimed Anne, dropping wearily onto the davenport and reaching out for one of Tait's cigarettes. "Can that Feeley person put you over the hurdles? If there's anything he didn't ask Myrna, I can't think what it would be."

"But what did he say?" asked Tait eagerly. "Is he—do you think he's convinced that she didn't have anything to do with it?"

Anne shook her head emphatically. "I came away with the impression that Mr. Feeley was itching to put Myrna in the jug at about $25,000 bail. The fact that he didn't do it I somehow hitch up to a fellow named Robert Tait."

"Forget it! The important thing is that Myrna has put in an appearance." He turned to Myrna. "Look here," he said, "how much do you trust me?"

"Enough to take some advice?"

The girl nodded, and Tait rushed on: "Enough to fire Harris Rogers and make me the manager of The Swingers, Incorporated?"

"But I—"

"You can do it, if you want. All you need to do is give Rogers a check for two weeks' salary in lieu of notice. I'll take it to him myself, and you'd better give me a letter saying he's discharged and that he's to turn over all his records to me."

ANNE stirred on the davenport. "It sounds like a swell notion to me, Bob. I think we can do pretty well without Mr. Rogers. But would you mind telling us what's behind all this?"

"We want to get hold of his records, for one thing. And for another, I think it's better for all concerned if Harris Rogers doesn't have a thing to do with the band."

He looked at Myrna again. "What do you say?"

"She's too tired to say anything," Anne Lester put in quickly. "I'll do the talking. You're the new manager of the band and of Myrna's corporation—and the sooner you let Harris Rogers know about it, the better for Myrna."

She got up and began rummaging in her bag. "I've got a counter-check somewhere, and I'll be delighted to fill it out for Myrna's signature."

"Good! I'll give Rogers the bad news right away. I've a feeling that the sooner we do it, the better."

Myrna looked apprehensively at Bob Tait. "Do you think you should go to see him? He—he seems—well, dangerous, and I—"

She broke off, at a loss for words. And Bob Tait wondered if Anne could possibly hear the pounding of his heart.

THE FREE HOUR

"Come, Don, I need you to go to the corner store. I forgot to get eggs this morning and I have to have some right away."

"I'm busy. Can't somebody else go?"

"You've all got the same excuse. You're busy. What do you think I am?"

"Well, I know, but every time I sit down to work at my map I'm called to do something. I bet I don't get 15 minutes a day to do what I want to do. Somebody always wants something. I'm going to have office hours, and anybody that wants to do anything will have to ask before I go to the office. That's what dad does, and that's what I'm going to do."

Children, large and small, need a free period each day. When you remember that from the time they rise, at somebody's call, until they go to bed, by somebody's mandate, they have to work under the will and according to the pleasure of some older person. And that older person is not always considerate of the younger one's feelings.

It is a strain to live as other people dictate for hours on end, and for days and weeks. There must be time for a free feeling, a time for stretching the body and the mind in freedom. That does not mean that the child is to do what he likes if his likes are not good, but it does mean that he has to have a free time daily. He can be trained to use it for pleasant purposes. He usually can be relied upon to do so.

All that this requires is a bit of organization in the household. A schedule flexible enough to be usable, should be set so that all the family know what is expected of them, and when. The errands ought to be done at the specified time, and if anything has been forgotten it ought not to be gotten at the expense of the child's free time. An emergency will arise and can be taken care of as an emergency, but when the thing happens daily it is no emergency matter--just carelessness, a disregard of other's rights and feelings.

Some children never know what a free hour is. They are made to fill every minute with some adult's notion of what is good for them to do. This has its limits. The child who is never allowed to feel himself at work under his own power will never acquire power enough to go alone. And he must go alone if he is to get any place alone.

Some children have so many lessons that they never learn the real ones--self-expression, self-direction, self-help, self-discipline. Too much teaching, too much guidance, may be as bad as too little. A completely directed boy fell into the hands of two young rascals who ordered him to hand them his house key, which he had in his pocket, saying he had their key. Then they ordered him to lead the way into his house and made him stand by while they took what they wanted.

Watching the performance was a self-directed youngster who slipped away to find a policeman, escorted him to the place and rescued the lad with the long string of lessons, high marks, set duties. Leave room for the play of the child's self in the organized day. Give him a free period daily by organizing the household's routine. Self-direction is the aim of all education.

Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, enclosing a three cent stamped, self-addressed envelope for reply.

Approach Of Cool Weather Is Time For Car Check-Up

Now is the ideal time of the year to prepare your automobile for the fall and winter months when changing conditions require a number of simple but important adjustments and checkups advises Murray

Rosenfeld, general manager of the Pep Boys of California.

"Summed up in a few sentences," Rosenfeld stated recently, "those important things are--drain the crankcase and refill with lighter oil; examine tires for non-skid safety qualities; advance generator charging rate, due to more hours of darkness; if you have a fabric top give it a coat of top dressing and if your car is sluggish a motor tune-up is advisable."

Popular Items
 "Of all those things, perhaps the most important is the condition of your tires. During the winter months, it never pays to drive on smooth or nearly smooth tires. Many drivers, realizing this, are rapidly changing their worn tires for fine quality Cornell tires."

The local Pep Boys store, 211 North Main street, is featuring items to equip your car for winter driving. Two of the most popular of these are Cornell tires and Franchise motor oil.

DRIVE CAREFULLY -SAVE A LIFE-

PHILOSOPHY THAT NEVER FAILED

They founded a republic and said: "A republic is a government in which a scheme of representation takes place—the people of which meet at appointed times and select candidates that are representative." They made a careful selection of public officials who could take an oath of office with a high degree of intelligence and fidelity—officials whose attitudes toward constitutional individual rights were guaranteed. These representative umpires of the republic had moral courage to make decisions according to rules. Thus was carried the idea of fixing responsibility and conferring authority. It was never intended that these representatives of the people should be betrayed into taking sides with any particular class or group.

In the early days of this Republic, there was little thought of Communism, Socialism or Government ownership. There were no strike leaders, or strikers, who were assured that "a strike isn't something necessarily to be settled." If necessary the strikers can go on Federal relief and protective legislation passed and a Federal committee appointed for their protection. Rather, it was quite universal "if a man doesn't work neither shall he eat."

It was in the current mind of this new Republic that in the divine scheme of things nothing is better for any man than to live where he has the right and even feels the necessity to personally undertake, and, endowed with personal initiative, he has the right even to fail and the right to dig himself out of that failure. That was and always will be our greatest character building heritage. Nothing could be more unfortunate for any man, group of men, or class, than to live off the thrift, the venture, and the enterprise of others.

"The willing hands on relief" so frequently referred to by President Roosevelt, were few in those days. Men everywhere drew on their potential resources to be independent and it worked. We grew a generation of men possessed of self-determination, self-respect, and self-reliance, and thus was made a mighty nation. Thrift, enterprise, industry, venture, invention, progress, were the words of the hour and this Republic went into the most marvelous 100 years of history that was ever put on record. What we need now is to elect a Congress in November with courage enough to come back over the five and one-half years of theorizing to a government that we have practiced and that we have experienced—a government that will not fail us during this period of stress.

PROTECT YOUR HERITAGE

The people of California, who already on different occasions have registered at the polls their unalterable opposition to proposals to legalize tideland oil drilling, are again this fall to be called upon to protect their great heritage of ocean beaches from a new menace that threatens their impairment and even their destruction.

In a measure that will appear on the November 8 election ballot as Proposition No. 10, it is proposed to authorize by law oil drilling on tide and submerged lands "from and by means of piers, groins or islands constructed upon the surface" of such areas as may be leased to oil companies or private bidders. This means oil wells both on the beaches and in the ocean.

The particular area in which this tideland drilling is authorized is at Huntington Beach but it is a safe assumption that, with the door to tideland oil operations once thrown open, similar drilling will be extended to other locations until the entire California coast is involved.

Not only will the beaches themselves be despoiled, but property values in coastal communities will be affected seriously. Cities and towns in the interior of the state will bear their share of the losses that will result from the ruin of large areas of seashore playgrounds that in the past have been powerful magnets to attract to California hundreds of thousands of out-of-state tourists and visitors annually.

It earnestly is to be hoped that the people on November 8 will register such emphatic disapproval of Proposition 10 that no further attempt ever will be made to legalize tideland oil drilling in this state.

WHAT GERMANY IS GETTING

Christian Science Monitor

Diplomatic victory is intangible. It is also ephemeral. More important than the prestige accruing to Reichsteurer Hitler from his Munich conference are the strategic and economic by-products of the economic phases of that victory merge almost as one, for as Dr. Brooks Emory in his much-discussed book, "The Strategy of Raw Materials," observes:

"The important bearing, economic, political and strategic, which the disparity of foodstuffs and essential raw materials among nations has upon their peace and war relations is becoming universally recognized. . . . The size and effectiveness of national power is no longer determined alone by the extent of a nation's territory and population, or by the wealth of its treasury, or the strength of its armies and of its equipment in munitions, but rather by its capacity for industrialization."

Thus to suppose that the strategic advantages gained by Germany through annexation of Sudetenland lie simply in possession of the natural fortresses of Bohemia, plus the man-made fortifications with which the Czechoslovakian government has made that mountainous region more than formidable, would be to overlook the economic strategy with which the new Germany has resumed the age-old "Drang nach Osten."

In absorption of Austria, Germany acquired a spearhead eastward that, it was foreseen at the time, would be used to penetrate economically through the Central Europe surrounding Austria. The "cold Anschluss" put Czechoslovakia in a pincers territory, and diverted Austrian trade Berlinward. Austria, it was suspected by many, was merely a forerunner of Czechoslovakia's Sudetenland, and a prelude to economic domination of practically all Czechoslovakia by Germany.

There is both coal and iron ore in the area called Sudetenland. Plzen, which is on the racial borderland where Slav and Teuton meet and mingle, produces motorcars and sugar. In that city, too, armaments were and could again be produced in a branch of the Skoda works. Aussig, well within the territory populated chiefly by Germanic people, produces chemicals, fertilizer and sugar. There are glass works at Ceska Lipa. And so forth. This is one of Europe's famous industrial regions, added to the agricultural and forest regions of Czechoslovakia, made a unit capable of defending itself economically against the competition of other European states.

But from a strategic point of view also, this economic pattern of Czechoslovakia, as laid down in the Treaty of Versailles, was of importance—and not only to Prague, but to Paris and London. The practical

MORE QUESTIONS FOR PROF. PATTERSON ON MINIMUM WAGES

In another column on this page, appears the answers of Professor Patterson to questions I asked him regarding his statement that "certain minimum wages and maximum hours have been established and should be maintained." After reading the Professor's answers, the reader will then see the reason for further questions.

Mr. Patterson is president of the American Academy of Political and Social Science and is professor of Economics at the University of Pennsylvania and is employed by the Manufacturers Association for the purpose of attempting to get the people to understand sound economics. Even if he holds important positions, there is no reason to accept his opinions if he cannot explain away inconsistencies.

Mr. Patterson's answer to a former question, "Should a man be paid more than he produces," raises the following questions:

(a) Should an efficient employer pay more per unit of production than an inefficient employer?

(b) If so, by what rule will he select the workers who are to be paid more than other workers receive?

(c) If the efficient employer is obliged to pay more than an inefficient employer, then will it not retard his growth so that less customers can be benefited and also compel more workers to continue to work for the inefficient employer at lower wages?

(d) Would this not be to the disadvantage of potential customers and of the employees who were not privileged to work for the efficient employer?

(e) Would this not result in injustice?

Mr. Patterson seems to think profits in a competitive system should be reasonable.

(f) What is a reasonable profit on an open market?

(g) What is a reasonable loss?

Mr. Patterson's answers to question 3, "What minimum wage should be established?", raise the following questions:

(a) How will the experts be selected to determine the minimum wages?

(b) Does it not take an expert to recognize an expert?

(c) If the worker and consumer are not able to determine what their wages and prices should be, is it reasonable to assume that they can select the experts from the politicians who will wisely do it for them?

(d) Should there be a different minimum for different locations and different kinds of work?

To Mr. Patterson's answers to question 5, "Can wages be increased by law," the following questions naturally arise:

(a) How can the laws raise the wages of all workers?

(b) Is not production of what society wants the only way total wages can be increased?

(c) If assistance is supplied those put out of work by minimum wages by taxes on large incomes resulting from production, will it not tend to reduce the accumulation of capital and thus the ability of other workers to produce higher wages?

(d) If so, would not the remedy of minimum wages by law be worse than the disease?

To the answers to question No. 6, "Should a man sell his services to the world's highest bidder if it does not comply with what one may think should be a minimum wage?" the following questions arise:

(a) If the employer is not to hire the man who will do the most for the remuneration over a period of years, by what rule is the employee to be selected? If you cannot suggest a universal rule as a guide, then are you not advocating the elimination of the only method known to an orderly society?

(b) If it is not fair for the inefficient worker to sell his services on a competitive basis, is it fair for the efficient worker to sell his services on a competitive basis?

(c) If the inefficient worker is obliged to get a minimum wage and he cannot produce enough to earn it, and has to be fed by public or private charity because of the law, then is not the state depriving this individual of the right to attempt to serve himself and his fellowman?

(d) Is not depriving a man of the right to accomplish what he can by selling his services a very important factor in producing happiness?

(e) Should it be an aspiration of government in the long run to take from the more efficient to make it agreeable and pleasant for the least productive?

(f) Would doing this not be a violation of the law of life, that things that are pleasant must be good for life so they will be repeated, and unpleasant if they are harmful so they will not be repeated?

(g) Can you name any exception to this rule? If so, name one.

(h) Should not society through the government, concentrate its energy on bringing about conditions that all who desire to work can have all the employment they desire at continuously increasing rewards per unit of production for EVERY worker, rather than any particular group of workers?

(i) Can there be any rational contention that an individual worker or producer, does not have the right to discontinue working or producing provided he believes the effort put forth could be used to better advantage to society?

(j) If he does not have this right, it would be a form of coercion or slavery, would it not?

In the next issue, Professor Patterson will take up the defense of the maximum hours and there will be more questions on that subject.

French have long recognized the relation between economic and political independence, and on this basis the peace conference sometimes rejected national self-determination in favor of economic viability when debating the question of boundaries in 1919.

Weakening Czechoslovakia economically, Germany strengthens itself not only internally, by bringing within the Third Reich's closed but incomplete economy a new highly industrialized area—but also externally, by removing from her eastward path a barrier to economic penetration. And in the wake of economic penetration political penetration usually follows.

EDUCATION A LA MODE

There is one thing that the last election on the school bonds probably accomplished, if nothing else, and that is, it is making the people educationally minded. It seems as though the tax payers and the parents have now commenced to question some of the wisdom of the professors and school officers, so the last bond election may do much good, regardless of its outcome.

During the heat of the campaign, there were some astonishing statements made. For instance, I am informed that one high-powered citizen, who has travelled extensively in Russia, Chicago and Delhi, made the remark at a public meeting that if the Junior College bonds did not carry, there would be no place for the boys and girls to go but to the pool rooms and beer parlors. That brings up the question under our present set up of popular education, what you are going to do; whether you are going to take the Junior College to the pool rooms and beer parlors, or whether you are going to take the pool rooms and beer parlors to the Junior College. We are already crowded for room, short of professors; in fact, according to the proponents of the bond issue, we are almost destitute of everything that goes to make up for higher education. But under the present cafeteria course of study, it might be well, if they are teaching communism, atheism or free love (and I only know what I read in the papers) to substitute a little pool hall and beer parlor instruction in place of that kind of teaching; but owing to our crowded condition, we would have to put those subjects in place of some we are already teaching. I would suggest that they might take the place of pottery and clay molding (page 61 of the J. C. Catalogue). Upon reading that course, I notice that it talks about "industrial designing in ceramics." I supposed that ceramics had to do with the raising of sheep and goats but when I looked it up in my dictionary, I found it is just plain pot making and painting.

I would like to ask a question, and I would like to have it answered in the columns of this paper. Who picks the courses of study that they teach in the High School and Junior College?

Much concern was expressed during the last bond election as to the welfare of the working man. It is the working man who pays the taxes. The professors have gotten this country in the hole over thirty billion dollars and if it is ever paid, it will be paid by the working man, not by a lot of crack-pot theories of professors. We would like to ask some of our educators with all the various combinations of letters after their names, to explain how the working man's child can take advantage of some of the courses of study as outlined in the Junior College catalogue. I refer especially to page 97 under the heading "Radio Electricity." A description of that course closes by saying: "The course is designed for radio experimenters and amateurs, two hours of lecture, class demonstration and problems each week."

We believe that the working man's child would have to get his knowledge, and should have to get his knowledge of radio by experimenting at home where he can monkey around with his own home-made set, and not at the expense of the taxpayers who are unable to send their boy to Junior College to play with a radio.

We have commenced to wonder how far the taxpayer is willing to go with the cafeteria theory of education. For instance, on page 95, under "Clogging," we read: "Instruction in the basic steps of Clog and Character dancing." We would like to hear a debate between some of the professors as to the relative values in education of clogging and fancy pool shots.

A few years ago we had an earthquake. That graphically demonstrated the poor and false construction of our school buildings. After the earthquake, we concluded that the buildings had been built mostly for show, and as that, served their purpose, but they did not stand up under the stress and strain of a little shake. We have now concluded that a different kind of architecture is probably better—less show—more strength—more safety, and not so much for the building of schools that are pleasant to the eye and good to look at so long as you don't give them very severe use.

What we need is an earthquake inside the building that will bring to light what is being taught; what kind of men and women are teaching. Do they hold their positions because of their ability and character, or because they succeeded in putting over one of the most nefarious laws ever enacted to the detriment of our schools. I refer to the Teachers' Tenure Law.

During the campaign for the bonds, the term "pleasant illusions" was often used. I wonder if we really know what that expression means, and if we really know how much money we are spending for "pleasant illusions."

The question was asked repeatedly during this last bond election, by prominent citizens in this community: How does it come that our boys and girls go four years to High School and two years to Junior College, and then when they get out in the real realities of life and try to demonstrate their usefulness to themselves and others, they are astonished at how little they know. That brings up the question again that may be answered by "pleasant illusions." Is it the purpose of education to make things pleasant for our children, to entertain them? In other words, put such a thick coating on the pill that the patient hardly knows he is taking it?

In the current issue of True Detective Magazine, J. Edgar Hoover, head of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, has an article on the front pages that should be read by each and every parent. It has to do with telling the child the truth. I wonder how truthful some of our teachers are. Let me illustrate.

Several years ago I was alarmed because students in the second year of high school could not even add fractions. I discussed the matter with a fellow teacher, a young lady who taught in the high school for many years a very popular teacher (she may still be teaching there) as to how she got along with pupils in biology and physics that could not add fractions. Her remark was astounding. She said that she did not expect them to know any arithmetic; if it came to a problem of what one-half and one-third equaled, she just added it on the board and gave them the answer. Can you think of anything more dishonest? But why not? She probably knew she was protected by the Teachers' Tenure Law and it would probably be impossible to relieve her of her position.

PLEASANT ILLUSIONS. The students like to watch the teachers make maps; they like to hear the teacher talk about the millions of stars; all entertaining, all very interesting, but when it comes to real discipline, real study and real work, which are the foundation of all education, that is a different problem.

LINCOLN YARN

What may be a newly discovered Lincoln story has come to light.

After a long trip across country in the coldest kind of weather to appear in court where he was practicing, Lincoln tarried at the town tavern the night before the case was to be heard. When he reached the inn, the fire was surrounded by numerous other attorneys interested in the case. The host thought to create a little conversation with the gaunt man:

"Pretty cold night," he opened. "Colder than hell," Lincoln replied.

One of the lawyers turned at this and asked, "You've been there too, have you Mr. Lincoln?"

"Oh, yes," replied the future President, "and the funny thing is that it's much like it is here—all the lawyers are nearest the fire."

Two deer hunters came out of the woods and met.

"Are all of the other boys out of the woods, Bill?" asked one.

"Yeah."

"All six of 'em?"

"Yeah."

"And are they all safe?"

"Yeah; what's this all about anyhow?"

"Why," said the first hunter, throwing out his chest, "then I've shot a deer."

While the late Dr. Charles W. Eliot was the active head of Harvard University, someone asked why that noble institution had acquired a reputation as the nation's greatest storehouse of knowledge.

"I'm sure I do not know," responded the good doctor, his old eyes twinkling merrily. "Unless it is because the Freshmen bring us so much of it, and the Seniors take so little away."

"I'm glad my wife's built long and thin like, as ye might say, a shoe string," said Ed Plummer of Goonsville.

"Why's that, Ed?" a friend inquired.

"'Cause she don't shade the corn when she's a-hoe'n' it like a fat woman would."

WHY MINIMUM WAGES?

BY EARNEST MINOR PATTERSON

President American Academy of Political and Social Science

The Santa Ana Register has directed a number of questions to the writer under the above title. They can best be answered by taking them in order:

1. Should a man be paid more than he produces? It is not feasible to ask employers on any large scale to pay workers more than they produce. This was one of the defects in the attempt to restore prosperity to the United States by arbitrarily raising wages. In the situation that prevailed many employers simply could not afford to pay as much as the minima which were urged upon him.

This answer leaves open the question of what should be done with the large number of individuals who cannot produce the amounts that employers are asked to pay under such provisions as we have mentioned. We are, of course, unwilling that people shall starve. Should we then permit wages in particular cases to fall to the very low productive level of many workers? The answer depends on many things. First, we may rule out those employers who could pay more than they are willing to pay. Unfortunately there are employers who are unscrupulous and will take advantage of a clogged labor market, paying wages far less than they could afford to pay and still have fair profits. There is no reason why we should not insist through legislation if need be, that these abuses be checked. But there are left a considerable number of workers of low productivity and there seems to be no way to care for them except by public or private relief. Much can be done through systematized training which will improve productivity. There seems to be no answer for the others, except public or private charity.

2. Are there not some men who at certain jobs are worth less than nothing? The answer is, Yes, there are. They cannot be employed except at a loss. The answer here is training in those cases where training will make them of social value and public or private relief for the rest. Extreme cases are infants, the aged and the insane.

3. Should these men be paid minimum wages? This has been answered. Private employers cannot afford to pay workers who are worth less than nothing nor can they afford on an important scale to pay workers more than they produce.

4. What minimum wage should be established? Assuming that the establishment of a minimum wage by law or otherwise is feasible, no one except a very able specialist in a particular industry can answer this question. It is easy to indicate a level which most people would consider unduly low or an upper level which we will all agree is too high. Within these very wide limits no one unfamiliar with specific situations should express a judgment. Under our new federal wages and hours law, which is being administered by Commissioner Andrews, some of our ablest experts in particular industries are seeking for the answer within the limits of that law.

5. Can wages be increased by law? Within somewhat narrow limits the answer is Yes. Laws, if adequately enforced, can and do prevent some of the worst abuses. There is a point somewhere beyond which law cannot raise wages. In general terms this can be stated by saying that wages might be placed so high as to force many employers to restrict production. If productivity is lessened, i.e., if the national income is diminished, there is less to be divided up and real wages will be lowered. It is not impossible that some of the minimum wages already established by law and by trade union bargaining give us a smaller national income and hence lower wages. This result is not altogether to be regretted since it is better to have some restriction of the size of the national income than to have workers so poorly paid that they deteriorate physically and mentally. It must be recognized at once that if the wages are set at a level which creates considerable unemployment and lowers productivity, those who cannot secure employment under these standards will have to be cared for. If this is done through private charity, those with larger incomes will merely give some of their money. If it is done through public action, those with larger incomes will simply be taxed. If wages are set too high, these private and public burdens may easily become so great as to be very unwise. We have, however, reached a point where society will give relief rather than allow wages to be driven unduly low. What the proper level should be must be a matter for expert determination as indicated above.

6. Should a man sell his services to the world's highest bidder if it does not comply with what one may think should be a minimum wage? The answer is No, but within the limits which have already been suggested. One way of putting the question is, Should we view labor as a commodity? If by this is meant that wages should be allowed to fall to any level that the conditions of an uncontrolled labor market permits, some bottom should be set. Again we face the problem of public or private assistance to the unemployed, which involves a redistribution of the incomes of the more fortunate. Such an action may at least serve to concentrate our attention and our best thought on the more basic matter, viz., Why is it that in our modern society we have individuals who can produce so little? Again it is in many cases a matter of training and in others social adjustments under which individuals can be better fitted to places where they effectively help with production. In this connection it should be pointed out that in many lines business men are unwilling to see the price of commodities fall below some determined level. This is said without any criticism of their procedure, but we should not forget that where business men are in a position to do so they often curtail production, thereby maintaining prices.

News Behind The News

By PAUL MALLON

World Copyright 1933 by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—It would not be good for anyone to talk too much about our best defense plans these days; but just file this suggestion away for future confirmation:

If present programs carry through, the U. S. will soon be so far ahead of Europe in the air as to be an indirect force for peace for the next 20 years. Every fighting plane in alien air today will soon become obsolete. By progressive further developments which now seem likely, U. S. stands an excellent chance to keep Europe trailing for two decades.

If you do not see how this may be a force for peace, read again Mr. Roosevelt's two notes to Hitler. It was clear, even to Hitler, that these documents placed the United States against any European war-making nation. Further authentic interpretation indicates there was a specific plan of putting force into being authoritatively interpreted as meaning the president of the U. S. intended, in event of war, to repeal the neutrality act and lend active aid to the defensive nations.

Active aid, they say, would not mean a declaration of war this time as it did in 1917. Aid could be rendered more effectively by supplying England and the democracies with superior fighting equipment and men to man it. Money and soldiers would not be needed, at least at the outset.

What Lindbergh may have said about Russian aviation is mild compared with comment around of military hangers here. The Russian, French and British are all rather generally known on the inside to be too much on the Corrigian side.

A line from London the other day is considered in some high quarters here to be the most significant recent dispatch out of Europe:

"Royal air force officers were killed today. The force has lost 163 officers and 81 men in accidents this year."

Wage-hour administrator Andrews is troubled most by the wages and hours which congress gave him to do the job. Senate vol-

ed $500,000; house cut it to $400,000; joint conference committee added children's bureau expenditures ($60,000) to be taken out of that; set-up to start October 15, 1939.

With only $340,000 to upheave established practices of five generations in a few weeks, Mr. Andrews has been able to establish only one industrial committee—for textiles.

These committeemen who are eventually to supervise wages and hours for each and every industry are to get $15 per day salary, plus $15 per day while traveling.

Thus it will cost $500 to $1,000 just to have one committee meeting for one industry, and as there were 500 codes under NRA, the cost of the total task is evident.

Inner plans are now being laid to rush through congress a half million dollars more before February 1 just to finish out this fiscal year.

Justice Black is still functioning as a separate supreme court. It was unprecedented for the court to give out his name and Justice Reed's as dissenters on the certiorari writ denial for Tom Mooney.

Well authenticated court talk suggests Chief Justice Hughes would not have taken such a step unless Black insisted, and inasmuch as the name of one dissenter was to be given out, it was necessary to make them both public.

Official fixers have another job for defeated purger Dave Lewis. But he will not get it. They want Mary Dewson's place on the social security board, which shortly will expire, but she happens to be a Mrs. Roosevelt appointee.

Classiest junket of all junkets for government officials and congressmen is the trip of the government sponsored "good neighbor" ship, Brazil, to South America. Maritime commissioners announced all would be allowed to take their wives at half fare, but some wives are complaining that the announcement was given out only 5 days before the boat sailed. No wife could get ready for a 28 day trip in that time, they say, so the invitation seems merely an official excuse for taking such wives as planned to go away.
